CLAY MAYLES

Clay Mayles started working for us in September of 1971 as a night stocker. It was not long until we realized that he was not getting a chance to utilize his real talent, dealing with people. We then shifted him to the front-end department where he presently works.

It is rare to find somebody who possesses all the fine qualities of this gentleman. If a popularity poll were to be taken among our employees, Clay would no doubt win. He's also the favorite of many shoppers who stop in each week. They know that Clay will give them the "Red Carpet" treatment.

Another of Clay's assets is neatness. He would have to be rated one of our sharppest "dressers." Of course being an eligible bachelor necessitates this. For any single girl who might be interested, Clay is very shy. He says he would date more often if more girls would ask him. Only one requirement — if he takes you bowling, you better let him win!

Making sure that a customer's order is properly packaged is an important part of our business. Clay has been trained and understands the importance of proper packing. You should be able to arrive home with your order in the same manner in which you bought it. Friendliness and cleanliness are top priorities in our company. Clay definitely lives up to these requirements. Next time you shop Foodland, take advantage of Clay's "Red Carpet" treatment. We think you'll agree with us, he's tops!

Clay enjoys sports. He's opinionated on several professional teams and will readily bet if cajoled in any way. He also actively participates on our bowling and basketball teams. This spring he was promoted from water-boy to roving fielder on our softhall team, where he is presently batting over 500.

Clay resides at 406 Spruce Street in Westernport. In the summer months he enjoys living at his family's residence on Deep Creek Lake.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

Recently while witnessing the Band Day and Memorial Day parades I was annoyed as to the poor reception the parade viewers in Oakland displayed toward the bands. This problem, whether important or unimportant to you, is one that has existed for quite some time, because I observed this when I was a majorette in the junior and senior bands while a student at Southern.

The average person (with the exception of band members, their friends and family) fails to realize how much time and practice is required by the band members before a parade even begins. They are band members because they want to be; they have pride in themselves, their school, and their community.

Since being a former member of the band I observed the fact that often we received a warmer reception in towns other than Oakland. Parade viewers showed their interest and appreciation by enthusiasm while we marched. This made me even prouder of our band and that we were bringing honor to our community as well as to our school.

You might show support by attending band functions and contributing to the activities sponsored by the Band Boosters. However, it requires little effort to simply clap your hands to tell the band you personally say "thank you."

Sincerely yours,
Kim Liller

Dear Sir

As I read the letter to the editor in last weeks Republican written by Mrs. Carol Leake, several things came to mind first I was shocked by the number of babies that were aborted last year and the number that is estimated to be murdered this year. I fail to see how anyone can justify murdering unborn babies simply by saying that up to a point of three months after conception that life doesn't exist. If there is no life then [illegible] have an abortion"

Another thing that comes to mind is the sixth commandment written by the hand of God, "Thou Shalt Not Kill." I surely would not want to stand before God at the white throne judgment with the blood of these unborn babies on my hands, like the doctors who perform these abortions, our supreme court judges who made them legal, and the would-be mothers who agree to them certainly will have to.

We as a nation cannot permit such murders to remain legal and still expect God to bless America, as long as we allow our law makers to continue this way all that we can ask is may God have mercy on America.

Dear Editor:

As a very enthusiastic supporter of Southern High School's baseball team, I'm very disappointed in The Republican!

The Republican is supposed to be our "hometown" newspaper. I should think you would also be interested in our baseball team. The reason I am so disappointed with your paper is because the team never made front page headlines until they lost to Bishop Walsh, Wednesday, May 23, by a score of seven to six.

May I ask why Southern never made front page news when they won their first nine games straight? They achieved success over rough competition, such as Keyser, Petersburg, and Northern, but there was no mention of this before. Definitely not headlines on the front page!

The team has worked very hard to achieve the record of ten wins and only one loss thus far. Southern has an outstanding baseball team this year and I think they deserve recognition for their efforts.

Sincerely,
Vicki Lynn Lewis

Editor's Note: We also feel that Southern's team worked hard and deserved recognition. (See stories on page 20, May 24; pages 12, 7, and 5, May 17). However, the Southern-Bishop Walsh encounter was one of their most important games and it so happened that Southern lost.

Dear Sir:

I want to publicly show my appreciation for some kind deeds some of your citizens showed me while I was a visitor to your county last week.

I was at Red House taking care of my grandchildren while my son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark, attended a Lions Club convention in Atlantic City. On Wednesday my two granddaughters had baton practice at Dennett Road School. I drove them in and shortly after five o'clock we started home when my car quit running. I was stranded in back of Southern High School with four children in the car. I sent my grandson to call a garage, and while he was gone a lany stopped and offered assistance, but I told her my grandson had gone to call for help. He returned and said he could not find a garage that had any employees who worked on foreign cars. Finally a man came along and when he could not get the car started, left and returned with a station wagon and took us to Red House. His name is Allen Britt and he was really a Good Samaritan. He told me to call the Hutton Esso Station. They towed my car in and fixed it at a reasonable price. A friend of my daughter's, Mrs. Ruby Allison, was kind enough to take me for the car when it was finished.

You read so much of the unkind things people do, it makes you so thankful to know there are still some who practice what Christ taught. From the bottom of my heart I express gratitude to all of them.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. Nellie C. Hook
Mt. Savage, Md.

Red-Winged Bird Common Here, Say Birdcounters

For the second year in a row, the red-winged blackbird seems to be Garrett County's most plentiful species, according to the May 5 bird count in the county.

Twenty-two participants, in 14 groups, sighted 729 of the red-winged birds, almost double that of last year. A total of 5,339 birds of 130 different species were counted during the day-long period.

Next most common bird seen was, approximately, the common grackle, with 417; followed by the robin with 411.

Some 25 species of warblers were counted, including three yellow-throated warblers believed most unusual in this part of the country. Another unusual bird, a long-billed marsh wren, was caught, handed and released at Wolf Swamp near Finzel.

A record of the local count will go to Patuxent Wildlife Research Center at Laurel.

Mrs. William Pope coordinates the local bird counts, and stated that she was very pleased with the results tallied this year. Participation was the same as last year, despite unseasonably cold and windy weather.

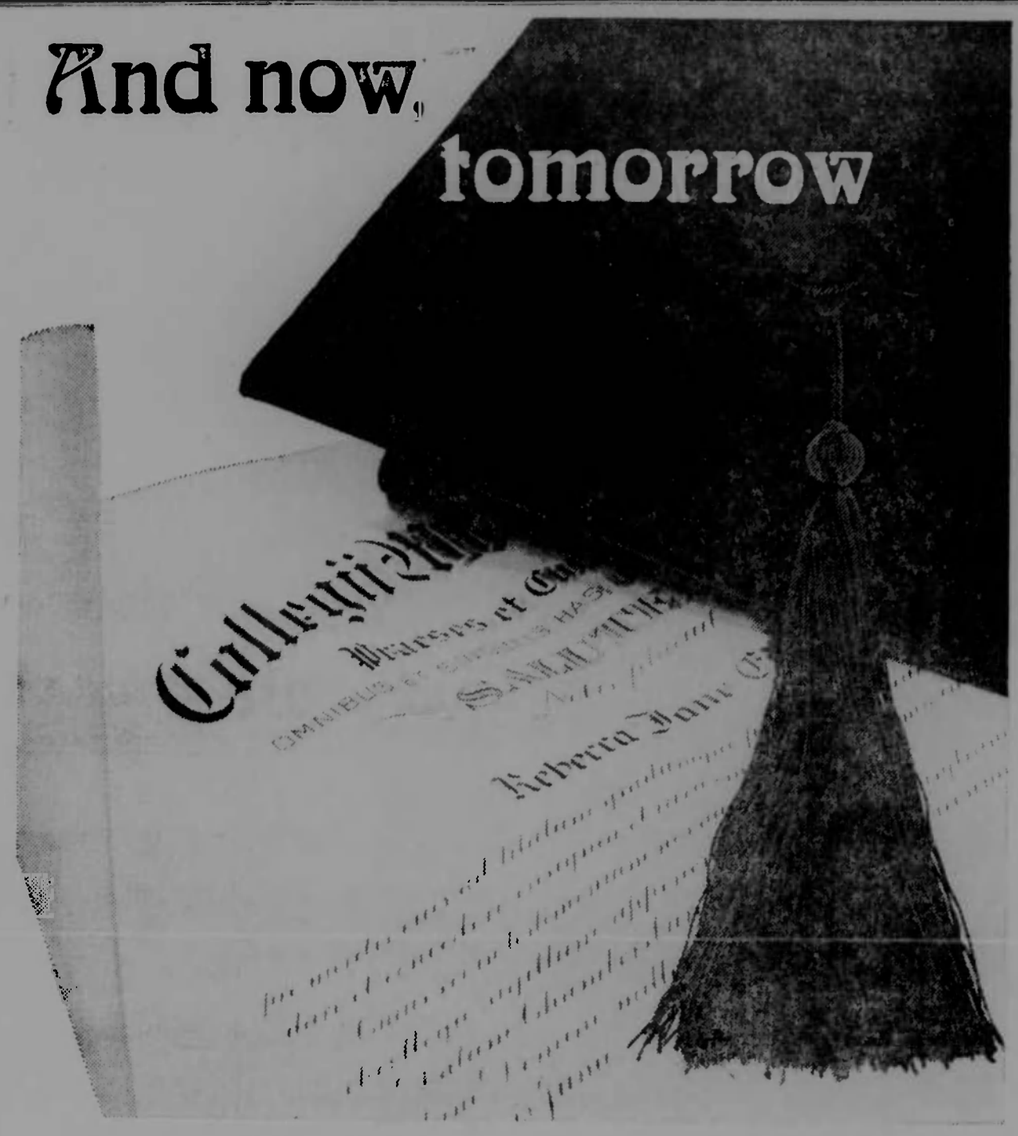
And now, tomorrow



The cap . . . the diploma . . . symbols of achievement. They mark the end of one way of life and imply the beginning of another.

But ten years from now, where will this diploma be and what will it mean? Will it be packed away in an attic trunk . . . framed on the wall of a room or office? Will it have been thrown out by accident or cast into a seldom-noticed corner? And what of the hopes and dreams that go with it? What will have happened to them?

Who knows? There is no set answer to life, no single solution to all its problems. Nor can anyone live life alone. Whether your diploma is still crisp or has gotten dusty—whether your dreams are still bright or have become slightly tarnished — forget about personal ambition as the sole answer to everything. Think of your own immortal soul. Go to church, and talk to God about it, through prayer.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

LOVING THE LAW

Lesson for June 3, 1973

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:1, 2; Deuteronomy 5:32 through 6:3; Psalms 119:97-104; Matthew 5:17; Mark 12:13-17.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 119:97-104.

One of the very harmful effects of the polarization that is taking place in American society is the controversy over our respect for the law. Unfortunately, it is often assumed that one is either for or against the rule of law in our society. If one upholds the value of law to insure stability and justice in country, he is labeled a "legalist." On the other hand, if one is critical of the legalistic approach to life, he is dubbed an "anarchist."

Rev. Althouse

To "fulfill" the law

This, in a sense, was the same controversy that raged in Jesus' own day concerning the Jewish law. Some people observed that Jesus followed the various laws in his daily life and probably concluded that, like the Pharisees, he was a legalist. The Pharisees, on the other hand, found that when he deemed it necessary, he refused to abide by many of their rules and regulations. Their growing condemnation of the man from Nazareth was based almost wholely on his apparent disregard for the law.

Jesus refused to be pulled into either camp. He refused to be identified by their criteria and insisted upon his own: "Think not that I have come not to abolish them but to fulfill them" (Matthew 5:17).

What this meant, as Jesus demonstrated again and again, that he was dedicated to the purpose of the law though not the letter of it. In fact, his denunciations of the Pharisees was based upon the judgement that the Pharisees, while appearing to be the guardians of the law, had forgotten about its purposes. Actually, he indicated, these men had come to deify the laws and forget the Lawgiver. The rules and regulations of the Pharisees made it increasingly unnecessary to have a vital relationship with God. The laws had become a substitute for him.

"How sweet are thy words"

William Temple, the British theologian, has put it this way: ". . . no law, apart from a Lawgiver, is a proper object of reverence. It is a mere brute fact; and every living thing, still more every person exercising intelligent choice, is its superior. The reverence of persons can be given only to that which itself is at least personal.

The purpose of the law was to bring people closer to God. When the laws were used as a substitute for him, they were perverting the purpose for which they had been given. The laws should lead us to the Lawgiver. This is why the psalmist could say: "Oh, how I love thy law!" (119:97). The laws upon which he meditated brought him ever closer to the Lord. Because they brought him wisdom and understanding he could sing, "How sweet are thy words to my taste" (119:103).

We can love the law only if we love the Lawgiver even more.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

You Mean Us, Lord?

Today marks the fortieth day after Easter. It was on this day, the book of Acts tells us, that Jesus ascended into heaven. The writer, Luke, records that Jesus left his disciples with these words, "You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth." Then Luke goes on to describe what happened. "And when he had said this, as they were looking on, he was lifted up, and a cloud took him out of their sight." (Acts 1:8,9)

There is a story that when Jesus arrived in heaven the angels gathered 'round' Him to ask many questions about his life on earth. At last there was the question about the continuation of the Gospel ministry. Now that Jesus has lived and died and rose again so that all men might have forgiveness and eternal life, who would carry on the business of getting that news around?

Jesus responded, "I have planned for my disciples to do that. I will fill them with my Spirit, and it will be their task to go out and tell all men everywhere about the Salvation that I have won for them.'

"But", the angel retorted, "Suppose they don't? Suppose they are afraid? Suppose they are embarrassed? Suppose they just go back to life the same way they lived it before You came? Suppose the news doesn't get out to all men everywhere because those disciples fail to carry out your plan? You must have thought about that. You must have another plan. . .some words written in the clouds perhaps. . .some of us angels to go down to earth and spread the good news to all mankind. . . some messages written inside bottles and dropped into the sea. . .? What is the plan if those disciples fail?"

And according to the story Jesus replied, "There is no other plan."

Farmers To Report Fuel Shortages To County ASCS

To help assure that farmers don't run short of fuel this season, the U. S. Department of Agriculture is asking farmers to: (1) Report any shortages to the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office, and (2) Use fuel conserving methods with tractors, trucks and other machine driven equipment, it was announced by J. Walter Margroff, Chairman, Garrett County ASC Committee.

Mr. Margroff said that since February, USDA has been monitoring the farm fuel supply situation through its more than 2,800 ASCS county offices. Any shortages are reported immediately through State ASCS offices to Washington. In addition, a regular farm fuel situation report is prepared for Secretary of Agriculture, Earl L. Butz, every Wednesday.

Any problems that arise are forwarded immediately to the Office of Oil and Gas (OOG), U. S. Department of the Interior, for solution under the voluntary allocation program. William E. Simon, chairman of the President's Oil Policy Committee and Deputy Secretary of the Treasury, has pointed out that farmers and the food industry have priority in getting petroleum products. To assure continuous coordination with the OOG, ASCS has loaned it a professional employee.

The Chairman said some suppliers have not been able to meet farm customers' needs fully. This is partly because independent and cooperative fuel producers and marketers have not been able to obtain enough supplies.

The current planting period is critical to farm production. Officials involved do follow ups on shortage reports to make certain that corrective action is being taken.

USDA officials also urged farmers not to buy more fuel than they need in the near future. Officials stressed that equitable distribution is necessary if all farmers are to have enough fuel.

Public hearings will be held June 11-13 in Washington by the Treasury Department to see how the voluntary crude oil and product allocation program is working. Persons wishing to supply written testimony should contact Kenneth L. Dupuy, U. S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C. 20240, on or before 5 p. m. June 7.

A Pittsburgh area court ruled that prayers may be used at a nearby commencement exercise in June.

St. Paul's Women's Circles Will Meet June 6

Members of St. Paul's United Methodist Church Circles will meet June 6.

Circle 1 will meet at the church at 1:15 p. m., with Mrs. Mildred Ashby, Mrs. Emerson Cross, and Mrs. Carrie Meese hostesses.

Circle 2 will meet at the church at 1:15 p. m., with Mrs. Harold Harned hostess.

Circle 3 will meet at the home of Mrs. Grace Fraley at 8 p. m., with Mrs. Blanche Phillips co-hostess.

—o—

Bid items A and D will be awarded in a single contract and Bidders who express an interest in the pipework portion of the project must submit bids for both bid items. Bid items B, C, and E may be bid singly or in any combination of bid items. The Town of Accident, however, reserves the right to award bid items A plus D; or B, C, and E as individual contracts or in any possible combination of contracts that it deems to be in its best interests or to delete all work under bid items A, B, and C, or to reject all bids and re-advertise.

The "Time For Work To Be Completed" will not be considered cumulative when multiple bid items are awarded to the same Bidder but shall remain binding as designated for the respective bid item. The Contractor is therefore expected to employ the necessary crews and equipment required to meet the "Time For Work To Be Completed" assigned to any bid item.

Bidders must examine the contract drawings and specifications carefully and must make a personal examination of the location and nature of the proposed work. In case doubt shall arise as to the meaning or intent of anything of the contract drawings or comprised in the specifications, inquiry shall be made of the Owner in writing before the proposal is submitted. The submission of a proposal shall indicate that the bidder thoroughly understands the contract drawings and the terms of the specifications.

To better insure fair competition and to permit a determination of the lowest bidder, unresponsive bids or bids obviously unbalanced, may be rejected by the Owner.

Information for bidders, proposal forms, specimen contract, contract drawings, standard and contract specifications, and other pertinent contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Engineer, Rummel, Klepper and Kahl, 1035 North Calvert Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, after June 4, 1973, between the hours of 9:00 A.M., and 4:00 P.M., daily except Saturday, Sunday and Holidays. Contract documents are available upon the deposit of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per set, which is non-refundable. Checks shall be made payable to the "Mayor and Council of Accident."

NONDISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT

Bidders must comply with the President's Executive Order No. 11246 and submit with their initial bid a signed statement as to whether they have previously performed work subject to this Order or any previous Executive Order dealing with nondiscrimination in Federally assigned construction contracts. (11114 or 10925).

All work on this project shall be performed in accordance with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act and Copeland Anti-Kickback Act.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check or satisfactory bidder's bond in the amount of five per cent (5%) of the amount of the proposal, but in no case less than $1000.00, made payable to the "Mayor and Council of Accident" and unless so accompanied will not be considered. The check or bidder's bond of the bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be forfeited to the "Mayor and Council of Accident" as liquidated damages in the event the contract and performance bond are not executed within ten (10) days after receiving the contract for execution.

All proposals must be submitted on the prepared forms, one of which must remain bound in the specifications. Proposals must be signed by the bidder with his name and address and must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Proposal for Project No. ARC-WPC-MD-243, Proposed Water and Wastewater Facilities, Accident, Maryland."

Proposals made in pencil and/or on any other than the prepared forms will not be considered. Changes in the phraseology of the Proposal, additions or limiting provisions will render the Proposal informal and may cause its rejection.

Proposals once submitted may not be withdrawn for a period of ninety (90) days after the date of opening of bids.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to be bonded to the Mayor and Council of Accident, to the sum of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount of his proposal according to the form of bond hereto attached. The bonding company shall be licensed to do business in Maryland. The bond will be subject to the approval of the Owner.

All right is hereby reserved by the Mayor and Council of Accident to reject any or all proposals and to waive informalities as the interest of the Town may require.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 97 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, JUNE 7, 1973 | PER COPY 10c | NUMBER 15

Alive and Well . . .

It hasn't been easy getting back "in the groove" after having been in five European countries in the past three weeks. Those countries are having inflation problems also but they are on the move industrially and economically. In my opinion Germany is showing the most drive and progress.

But let's check this week on The Republican party. Well, it remains alive and well. Republican state chairmen of all the states met in Chicago last month and adopted a resolution declaring their support of the President and their belief that he would bring out the truth in the Watergate affair; that they further resolved that the Watergate case could not be permitted to weaken the office of the Presidency, or hurt the integrity of our government, or its elected officials.

In the Republican Congressional committee newsletter we also learn that a backwash has set in from Watergate. A Florida newspaper carried a full page adv signed by 565 residents backing President Nixon, deploring the Senate Watergate hearings and calling for the judicial process to disclose and punish those guilty in the case.

They declared they believed the case was being "nourished as a tool of hate by unscrupulous politicians and Leftist interests to discredit the office of the Presidency and our American democracy."

Many are declaring they are sick and tired of what "the press and TV are doing to our country and our President." They are ignoring the principle that innocence must be presumed until guilt is proven. A number of newspaper commentators are finding it difficult to follow this reasoning.

Gas Shortage Possible Here, Say Distributors

Supplies Apparently Adequate Now But Future Uncertain

The gasoline shortage—unfortunately not a figment of someone's nightmarish imagination—seems to be creeping up on Garrett county, according to a survey of local gasoline distributors.

The concensus seems to be that supplies are just adequate right now, but an increase in usage could change the situation rapidly.

If demands increase sharply, most of the dealers feel that service stations, and drivers, could be in serious trouble. Holiday travelers, such as those expected to clog the roads over the fourth of July, may leave some stations without gas.

Most operators here plan to sell gas as long as they can get it, then close their doors rather than ration sales or cut hours.

One exception, which supplies gasoline primarily to farmers, has been giving lesser amounts to individuals so that everyone may have some gas.

Most of these distributors are being allowed the same gallonage from suppliers as last year; however, one company has decreased supplies to its local distributor 20 percent.

Demand, which is up an estimated 10 percent, is causing an obvious demand-and-supply imbalance.

For most distributors, June and July will be the critical months. If they can squeeze through these peak months, most feel they can make deliveries the remainder of the year.

Tourism, a major source of income for many, could tip the Power Company Name Change Being Sought

Monongahela Power Co. Would Change To Potomac Edison

The name of the electric company providing service to Oakland and surrounding areas of southern Garrett County may soon be changed from Monongahela Power Company to the Potomac Edison Company, according to an announcement this week by L. S. Singley, executive vice-president of the former.

Both Potomac Edison and Monongahela Power are sister companies in the Allegheny Power System. Potomac Edison serves the northern half of Garrett County and other areas in Maryland. Petitions filed this week with the regulatory agencies in the states involved requested permission for a change in service from Monongahela Power to Potomac Edison. In the same petitions the two companies asked for approval for the sale of Monterey Utilities corporation by Monongahela and Potomac Edison. Monterey Utilities serve some 700 customers in the half of Highland County, Va., adjacent to West Virginia. The name Monterey Utilities would be changed also to Potomac Edison company.

Monongahela Power now serves about 5,000 customers in the Southern part of Garrett County centered around Oakland. The thirteen employes now working for Monongahela Power would be transferred to Potomac Edison with no interruption of continuity of service.

The transfer would involve no change in service nor of rates. The petition states the reason for the change is to permit simplification of corporate structure and facilitate efficiencies and operating economies.

The change in Garrett County and Highland County, Va., will become effective when the regulatory commissions have approved the application.

The Monongahela Power general offices are in Fairmont, W. Va., with those of Potomac Edison being in Hagerstown.

Public Hearing Is Set For Deep Creek Lake Bridge

The Maryland Department of Transportation will hold a public meeting on Thursday, June 14, at 7:30 p. m., in the Garrett Community College on Mosser Road in McHenry. This public information meeting is to promote public understanding of the proposed replacement for the existing Deep Creek Lake Bridge, U. S. Rt. 219.

The present bridge is considered to be a bottleneck and a dangerous safety hazard as well. The proposed new bridge will improve traffic flow in both directions across the lake, the department indicated.

District Engineer John Bushby, State Highway Administration, will conduct the June 14 meeting, and present the Department's proposals. All interested area residents are invited to attend and to express their views on the Department's planned improvements.

Summer Weather Favors Mountain Top This Week

Skies were mostly partly cloudy to clear. Rainfall for the week totaled about three quarters of an inch, about a half inch below normal. This is quite a contrast from recent months which were very wet.

The 80-degree days were Monday with 83 degrees and Tuesday with 82. Cooler days last Thursday and Friday kept the week's average below the normal. Morning lows also averaged below normal, the coolest being last Friday with a 40-degree reading.

It was breezy parts of the week especially during the storms.

Dr. White Speaks To WVU Alumni

Dr David E. White director of the division of Forestry at West Virginia University, Morgantown, was the speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Garrett County Chapter, University alumni, last Friday evening at the Wisp recreation center at McHenry.

Dr. White, accompanied to the dinner by his wife, gave some of his ideas that appeared in an article, "Frontier Mentality Threatens W. Va. Development," last year in the West Virginia university magazine.

The necessity of exchanging some of our freedoms and advocating collective action on how land is to be used were pointed out as numbers of people and technology increased. He declared husbanding of resources was not opposed to free enterprise.

He termed land use abuses almost irreversible with the alternatives being technology fines for infractions and controls before the fact.

This country has reached a stage today where further unplanned development of the land can detract more than it adds to the quality of our lives, he declared. He called attention to present land management programs in the Adirondacks in New York and in Vermont.

Smith Laotz, Oakland, was elected president of the group, succeeding William A. Shirer. Max Messenger was named vice-president, Mrs. Playford Ryan was named secretary, and Darrell Malone was re-elected treasurer.

The individual proficiency of the above-mentioned participants, coupled with stroog leadership of Captain William Wood and his cadre of Platoon Leaders and Non-commissioned Officers, enabled "C" Company to finish with a "Superior" rating for Phase One of the 1973 Annual Training.

On May 27, "C" Compaoy arrived at the Raystown Reservoir, on the Juniata River in Pennsylvania. The project was under the overall supervision of the U. S. Constant evaluation was provided by Regular Army Officers, but the official report has not been submitted.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son, Garry Lee Sweitzer, who passed away June 9, 1966.
It was a beautiful summer day
When God sent his angels to take you away.
Your Daddy and I still miss you and grieve,
But finally God's will we've started to believe.
He sent us this message from on high,
So we no longer have to cry.
Here in my heavenly Garden there's a flower in perfect bloom.
The one you loved so dearly and thought I had picked too soon.
Then you will know my reason though you know it not today.
Why in his promising manhood, I took your Garry away.

attended Southern. Football dominated his varied sports schedule as he played it through all six years. He also participated in wrestling and weight lifting. In his senior year he was selected on the Tri-Valley conference team as a fullback and was selected co-captain of the team. As an active member of the Highlander band, he was selected for the stage band in the ninth grade and played in it until graduation. Working on the school newspaper staff in his junior year, he qualified for the Quill and Scroll Society. He is a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

Ben is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sincell, Mt. Lake Park. His outside activities include several things from a semi-professional magician to the National Ski Patrol, to the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad for which he is taking extensive training as an emergency technician.

Gas Shortage

scales. A light influx of vacationers will ease the gasoline problem, but cause headaches to motel, restaurants, and related tourist-aimed businesses.

Fuel Oil Also Short

For a few of the suppliers, fuel oil promises to be in short supply. This could be especially critical, this year, in view of the fact that the only reason fuel was available last winter was due to comparatively mild weather.

Changeovers from coal to fuel oil heating systems will definitely complicate matters this coming winter, following the changeovers of such large institutions as the court house, both county high schools, and several businesses.

No distributors are taking on either new fuel oil or gasoline accounts.

Service station operators believe that fuel prices will increase, although the companies have not notified them about any changes as yet. Unverified reports have indicated that prices may skyrocket as high as $1.50 per gallon.

Weather

In spite of the recent wetness, May ended with an inch short of its normal precipitation with 3.64 inches against the normal of 4.71. There was some precipitation on 23 days, some only a trace, with the highest being .65 inch on the 9th. A half inch of snow fell on the 4th.

Daytime high temperatures were near 6 degrees below the normal, or 63.8 degrees. The warmest was 75 on the 28th. On the 4th, the day of the snow, the high was only 49 degrees. Morning lows averaged .7 degree below the normal or 42.6 degrees. Temperatures dropped to the freezing mark or below on four days with the lowest being 28 degrees on the 6th.

A couple of unusual conditions were snow flurries on the 18th and some tornado watches at various times near the end of the month.

Danforth Award At Northern

Lee played varsity football, was co-captain of the wrestling team, and is a member of the Lettermen's club. He finished third in the Maryland state wrestling tournament in March.

Lee also is a member of the senior band. He attends Deep Creek Baptist church and participates in the choir. He hopes to attend Wyoming Seminary, a Naval preparatory school, this fall.

Both recipients also received the book, "I Dare You," written by William H. Danforth, a founder of the American Youth Foundation.

Local Case Is Heard Before State Board

One of three cases argued before the State Board of Education at the International Tower Building, Linthicum, Anne Arundel County, which began last week involved a former Garrett County special education teacher.

The former teacher is Virginia Jean Halsey, who taught two years in special education but was not reappointed for a third year last spring, which would have given her tenure.

The Board's case was argued by Stephen R. Pagenhardt, attorney for the school board. Mrs. Halsey's case was argued by a representative of the State Teachers' Association.

Garrett Freeway Bids Will Be Opened June 19

The final contract for work on the Maryland portion of the National Freeway will be opened at the Maryland State Highway Administration building at Baltimore at noon June 19.

This particular contract, in Garrett county, begins at a point .9 mile west of U. S. Route 219 north and extending westerly to a point .54 mile east of Shade Hollow Road for a distance of 2.474 miles.

The freeway, when completed, will connect Baltimore to the Ohio River Valley and the midwest.

Other aspects of the contract include grading, drainage and paving of .835 mile of interchange ramps located in the Route 495 interchange area; of Maryland 495 throughout the interchange area, .381 mile; of relocated New Germany road from Route 40 south to existing New Germany road, .955 mile; and of a service road beginning at Route 495, extending east parallel to the centerline of the National Freeway, for 1.028 miles.

Another major part of the contract is construction of a dual three span continuous steel plate girder bridge carrying the National Freeway over the Casselman River.

A requirement of the contract is that traffic must be maintained with safety and with the least amount of interruption on state, county, town and private intersection roads during the construction period. The Department of Water Resources had declared that no construction will be permitted in or adjacent to Schoolhouse Run and Casselman River during June and July since this would result in harm to aquatic life.

Some 425 working days will be allotted in which to complete the project.

Veterans' Mobile Van Is Scheduled

A Mobile Van, manned by Veterans Administration Benefits Specialists touring Maryland as part of President Nixon's National Assistance Veterans program, will be in Oakland on Monday, June 11, according to George A. Davis, Baltimore Veterans Administration degional office director.

The Van will be parked in front of the Employment Service office on Alder street while in Oakland.

During the month of June the Van will visit Oakland, Westernport, Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick, Westminster, Gaithersburg and Annapolis. Use of the mobile van will bring veterans services to those who have not made full use of their benefits. Information and counseling in various veteran benefit areas will be offered. The areas include education, home loans, medical benefits, job training, apprenticeships, counseling, housing assistance and individual and family counseling. Mr. Davis said a key feature of the Van's effectiveness would be the tie-in with local agencies and the on-the-spot help for veterans.

The famed Brooklyn Bridge marked its 90th birthday in May.

Revenue Sharing Budget Prepared By Commissioners

The County Commissioners on Monday, prepared the general revenue sharing budget which will be published along with the publication of the county levy. Total of this budget amounts to $1,022,880, the sum received for eight quarters of entitlement funds for the county, exclusive of amounts received by municipalities.

W. Marshall Rickert reported that the Planning commission, with consultants of Urban Research and Development were progressing with the County Plan. Community information meetings are scheduled throughout the county. Information meetings have been held with each municipality in the county.

Thomas Jones, assistant director of economic development, has been preparing the county comprehensive water and sewerage plan. The annual update is required by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. He said revisions and amendments had been made and following submission to the various state agencies involved for review and comment a public meeting will be scheduled.

Commissioners Earl Opel and Bernard Guy attended a meeting with David T. Mason, secretary of the State Department of Social Services Wednesday while Chairman Wayne Hamilton went to Annapolis to attend a land use committee meeting of the Maryland Association of Counties, representing Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties. Rabies Shots Clinics Offered For Pets By Health Dept.

The Garrett County Health Department, in cooperation with the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene and the local veterinarians, Dr. Paul Deal and Dr. James Fearer, are offering for the first time in Garrett County rabies immunization clinics for cats and dogs.

The rabies immunization is designed to break the chain of transmitting rabies from bats or wild animals to pets. The small charge of $1.50 for the rabies immunization is made possible by mass purchase of the vaccine by the State Health Department.

Dogs and cats should be at least three months of age when vaccinated. A dog under one year of age should be revaccinated within a year and every three years thereafter, and a cat should be immunized each year. Once the pets are immunized, they will not develop rabies if bitten by a rabid bat or animal. But once rabies occurs it is nearly always fatal in pets and humans.

The clinics are to be offered at the following locations and times: Oakland,

Friday, June 15th, 5:30 p. m. to 7:30 at the National Guard Armory; Sunday, June 17th, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. at the National Guard Armory; Friendsville, Friday, June 22nd, 5:30 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. at the Friendsville Fire Hall; Grantsville, Friday June 22nd, 7 p. m. to 8 p. m. at the Grantsville Fire Hall; McHenry, Sunday, June 24th, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. at the Fair Grounds.

If the program is well accepted, the Health Department plans to offer the rabies immunization clinics once a year.

Help Stamp Out Food Poisoning

According to government statistics, over two million Americans –or one person out of 100— suffer each year from salmonellosis. This is one form of the malady popularly known as "food poisoning," and, while it is rarely fatal, it certainly can be uncomfortable and inconvenient.

Commercial kitchens in hospitals, restaurants, schools and hotels are required by law to maintain high standards of sanitation. Managers of such institutions are schooled in sanitary food-handling methods.

During the summer months, many non-professional quantity food-handlers are thrust into positions of cooking for the church picnic, the girl scouts' campout or the family reunion. During the warm, humid summer months food-poisoning bacteria run rampant.

Precautions against "sickness germs" are the same, whether you are making chili in a camp kitchen or potato salad for the neighbors in the backyard. The Soap and Detergent Association issues the following cleanliness rules to ward off food poisoning this summer.

1. Wash hands before preparing food and following any interruptions during food preparation. Wash hands again after handling raw meat, fish, poultry or eggs.

2. Wash utensils and food containers in soap or detergent and the hottest water available, preferably in an automatic dishwasher. Wash chopping blocks and counters before and after each use.

3. Do not wash pet dishes in the kitchen sink if it can possibly be avoided. If you have no choice, scour the sink and adjacent areas thoroughly.

4. Exterminate flies, insects and rodents.

5. Use separate sponges or dishcloths for counter-wiping and dishwashing.

6. Cook foods thoroughly and serve immediately after cooking or refrigerate. Store leftovers promptly in the refrigerator or discard. Food that has thawed must be cooked, never re-frozen. Plan picnic menus with the least perishable foods. Avoid serving foods containing eggs such as custards or sauces, and salads made with mayonnaise unless they can be refrigerated as soon as they are prepared.

7. Scrub picnic tables and benches, vinyl tablecloths and placemats and serving utensils. Wash meat grinders and slicers immediately after using them.

8. Learn to keep hands out of food and away from dish and utensil surfaces that come in contact with people's lips. Do not taste with the cooking spoon or lick your fingers.

9. Insist that all campers and family members wash before eating.

Finally, remember that just because it's a picnic (or church supper or campout or whatever), does not mean anything goes. On the contrary, more precautions must be taken because more people are involved and the conditions for bacteria growth are more prevalent. Why rum a good time with a bad after-effect? Make this summer a healthy one by emphasizing sanitation in food handling.

Bruce Defeats Huskies 1 To 0

Pat Donnelly hurled a scoreless 12 innings, hit a single to lead off the fifth extra inning and then scored the winning run in a marathon 1-0 Westernport victory over Northern High Huskies at Westernport to advance to the district 1 class C championship game.

The victory for the young Bulldogs entitled them to meet Walkersville for the championship.

Donnelly locked for 11 innings with Huskies hurler Smokin Vern Snyder in a scoreless mound duel. He opened the bottom half of the 12th with a single down the right field line. O'Reilly followed with a bunt between Snyder and the third baseman Rick Graves. Another bunt worked.

Then Snyder hit one to right field and Donnelly scored the winning run and only score of the game.

Up until the twelfth inning Snyder had allowed only three base runners, two on singles and only one walk. He had mowed down 13 on third strikes. Prior to the 12th he had allowed only singles by Grove and Amyot, while none but he and Robinson and Mike Swauger could manage hits to mount a scoring threat against Donnelly. The loss dropped the Huskies to 8-4 for the season.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

There are many roads in this county that need repaired or surfaced and we all are aware of that. We also are aware that not all of these roads can be fixed at the same time. So roads are repaired according to the amount of traffic that uses them.

Garrett County route 20 from the turn off to Cranesville past Swallow Falls State Park, which adjoins Garrett route 15, needs immediate attention. This road is the main route and virtually the only way to reach the Swallow Falls State Park. If Garrett County is a gateway to Vacationland, what a trip it would be to be on vacation hundreds of miles away from home and have the shocks busted on one's car, flat tires with no spares, broken springs, etc.

I live on this road and believe me it is a regular roller-coaster. The only difference is there's no charge except a garage bill for your car.

Wake up! Get this road fixed, not just a patch here or there! Then tourists and residents can say Garrett County has wonderful recreation facilities and also fine roads.

To All Human Beings

I've never thought too much about beings of another world until I read the recent letters on abortion. I find it hard to believe that humans could murder innocent babies.

But somebody, and so called human beings are doing it! Lawmakers are going along with it. The same lawmakers who have legalized abortion want to try our soldiers for MURDER in Vietnam.

Here's an article from May, The Review of the News: "Live aborted babies are now being used to develop serum for immunization purposes, according to a story reported recently in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. A doctor in Michigan says the aborted fetus is injected with virus and kept alive for several hours until its body is filled with disease. The fetus is then killed and the blood used for vaccine. Dr. Leonard Hayflick, of Stanford University, where the process was developed, reportedly justifies this outrage as an alternative to what he calls the senseless slaying of animals from which vaccines were previously made." To think anyone would value an animal's life more than a baby's, I'll never understand. Who or what are these people who can do away with human life, when God's Commandment says "Thou Shalt Not Kill"? How can God bless America?

Sincerely,
Gene Maxson

Dear Mr. Haust:

So far, all the letters on abortion you received have been against the taking of so-called "life."

Has anyone ever considered what these children may face if they live? Just this week, a man in New Orleans struck and killed a two-year-old baby boy who had been walking, alone, down the middle of a highway at 5:30 a.m.

The child's mother, if you may call her that, was busy entertaining three men at a pot orgy in her home. The baby was carrying a bottle, no doubt empty, and was clad in a diaper, probably wet.

No one will ever know the discomforts, downright deprivation or maybe horrors, this child may have suffered before his life ended.

I don't believe in murder, either, but if a woman wishes to destroy her child before birth, who am I to say she can't? After all, at least the baby will never be walking, probably crying, cold, hungry and wet down a lonely highway before dawn. Some women aren't fit to be mothers.

Mother who knows
5:30 a.m.

Hashish worth $1.5 million was found under the roof of a remodeled London double deck bus after it arrived in Boston from India recently.

Eleven Are Killed On State Highways

Eleven persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to Sergeant James E. Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Three of those killed were drivers, five were passengers and three were pedestrians. The opinion of the investigating officers was that death might have been prevented in at least two of the collisions had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in one of the deaths, speed in eight and "driver error" in eight.

WALKATHON PRESENTATION—Bob Arnold, 19 and Jeff Kamstra, 18, will be featured in the Mt. Top YFC Walkathon presentation at the Ocean City sendoff rally set for Saturday, June 9, at 8 p.m., at the Garrett Community College, McHenry.

These two teenagers from Indianapolis, Ind. will sing and give testimony during the program. Arnold is soloist and lead guitar while Kamstra plays the bass guitar. They are touring the U. S. with their gospel music program, presented by Media-Com Talent Agency, Indianapolis.

Meet The Staff

MARY LOUISE LAYTON

The favorite cashier of many of our shoppers is Mary Louise Layton. Her professional touch and friendly smile has won her many new friends in the past two years. In our two "Cashier of the Year" balloting contests we found that Mary was a top choice.

Residing at Box 97, Bayard, W. Va. with her husband George, Mary keeps the road hot between Oakland and Bayard. During the winter months her jeep often breaks the trail between our two friendly communities. She is a very dependable employee with an excellent record. It's easy to tell whether she's waiting on a W. Va. customer or a Garrett Countian because in W. Va. she's known as Mary Louise and locally we just call her Mary.

It's easy to do a job if you merely do as you're instructed. Some people are blessed with the talent of going ahead and doing that little extra which helps to make a business more prosperous. Mary is this type of person and we're glad to have her on our team.

Mary has been very helpful in planning and executing store activities such as parties and dinners. She headed our employee fund committee. Another one of Mary's assets is her appearance. You'll notice that she always looks as though she just stepped from the beauty parlor.

Mary and George have raised two children, a son and a daughter. They're now waiting for that first grandchild to spoil. One of their favorite pastimes is taking a day off and driving to their hunting camp for a picnic or to just relax.

Cumberland State Hospital Discussed By Health Groups

The Garrett County Mental Health Advisory Committee recently held a joint meeting with the Allegany County Mental Health Advisory Committee at Penn Alps to consider mental health issues of concern to both groups.

Mrs. Raymond McCullough, Friendsville, chairman of the Garrett County committee, presided, while Dr. Robert Grooms, Frostburg, head of the Allegany County committee, led the discussion, which focused on the new State Hospital which is to be built in Cumberland. The hospital, to be known as the Thomas B. Finan Memorial, has been funded, and construction is to start within a year.

When the hospital is completed it will provide services for Garrett, Allegany and Washington countians which now are available to them only at Springfield State Hospital, near Baltimore.

Mental Health Advisory Committees are legally constituted groups which are mandatory in each county. Members are appointed by the County Commissioners and include representatives of the professions, of interested organizations, and of local communities. Nicholson Will Operate Virginia New River Airport

Nicholson Air Service, which operates the Garrett County Airport and the Cumberland Municipal Airport, recently accepted an offer from the town of Dublin, Va. to control air operations at the New River Valley Airport.

Dublin, comparable in size to Cumberland, will serve a surrounding five-state area including North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Only two years ago, the firm was facing a "life or death" economic situation, but has since established itself as one of the most stable and dependable firms in the east.

The firm recently added two planes, worth over almost $300,000, bringing the firm's number of planes to 18.

Some of the indications of sound economic growth are: extension of the present Baltimore - Washington-Philadelphia-Richmond contract to include New York City; U. S. Postal contract between Cumberland-Martinsburg-Baltimore-Charleston is now permanent; acceptance as exclusive carrier of the Baltimore Sun Sunday editions to Ocean City during tourist season; naming the company Piper Aircraft Corp. dealer of the month for three of the past seven months, after amassing sales of over $400,000 to date.

With the addition of five more trained men, Nicholson will have 45 on the payroll, up from 35 just four months ago.

Nicholson also plans to include jet service at Cumberland within the next three years, and groundwork for necessary additions and remodeling has already begun.

Cumberland State Hospital Discussed By Health Groups

The Garrett County Mental Health Advisory Committee recently held a joint meeting with the Allegany County Mental Health Advisory Committee at Penn Alps to consider mental health issues of concern to both groups.

Mrs. Raymond McCullough, Friendsville, chairman of the Garrett County committee, presided, while Dr. Robert Grooms, Frostburg, head of the Allegany County committee, led the discussion, which focused on the new State Hospital which is to be built in Cumberland. The hospital, to be known as the Thomas B. Finan Memorial, has been funded, and construction is to start within a year.

When the hospital is completed it will provide services for Garrett Allegany and Washington countians which now are available to them only at Springfield State Hospital, near Baltimore.

Mental Health Advisory Committees are legally constituted groups which are mandatory in each county. Members are appointed by the County Commissioners and include representatives of the professions, of interested organizations, and of local communities. Mrs. William Eggers, Oakland, is the newly appointed member of the Garrett County Mental Health Advisory Committee.

James Bosley Reworded For Perfect Attendance

James Victor Bosley, a member of the 1973 graduating class of Southern High School, maintained a perfect attendance record throughout his twelve years of schooling, elementary through high scool. He received a special award at the awards assembly held at Southern High School on May 25.

He also has had a record of perfect attendance in Sunday School for the past sixteen years. He is a member of the Garmania Presbyterian Church.

James is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bosley of Backbone Mountain.

Is Graduate Nurse

Judith S. Sherwood graduated from the Maryland General Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore on June 4. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sherwood, Oakland.

Nicholson Will Operate Virginia New River Airport

Nicholson Air Service, which operates the Garrett County Airport and the Cumberland Municipal Airport, recently accepted an offer from the town of Dublin, Va. to control air operations at the New River Valley Airport.

Dublin, comparable in size to Cumberland will serve a surrounding five-state area including North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Only two years ago, the firm was facing a "life or death" economic situation but has since established itself as one of the most stable and dependable firms in the east.

The firm recently added two planes, worth over almost $300,000, bringing the firm's number of planes to 18.

Some of the indications of sound economic growth are, extension of the present Baltimore - Washington-Philadelphia-Richmond contract to include New York City; U. S. Postal contract between Cumberland-Martinsburg-Baltimore-Charleston is now permanent, acceptance as exclusive carrier of the Baltimore Sun Sunday editions to Ocean City during tourist season; naming the company Piper Aircraft Corp. dealer of the month for three of the past seven months, after amassing sales of over $400,000 to date.

With the addition of five more trained men, Nicholson will have 45 on the payroll, up from 35 just four months ago.

Nicholson also plans to include jet service at Cumberland within the next three years, and groundwork for necessary additions and remodeling has already begun.

Dave calls this his wedding picture. He was best man when Jane and I were married, and a prouder boy you'll never see.

He loved Jane from the first. He never thought of her as a stepmother.

Jane's zest for life, her merry ways, her love for God were happily contagious. The unhappy years we'd known faded. Soon we were marching off to church with her as though it were our own idea.

Tomorrow Dave will be married, and I'll be his best man. He and Susan are a fine couple. Jane and I don't worry about their marriage. Their relationship has a depth that comes from a mutual love for God and His Church. In the years ahead, their church will be a bedrock of understanding and strength.

The Church is the starting point for the happiness that every family needs.

THE WAR WITHIN

Lesson for June 10, 1973

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:3-6; Matthew 6:24-34; James 4:7-8. Devotional Reading: Psalms 62.

H. G. Wells, the British writer, once described one of his fictional characters, "Mr. Polly," as "a walking civil war." That would be an apt description of many of us, including a young man whom we will call Jim.

Rev. Althouse

Jim feels that a gigantic civil war is taking place within him, as if that which he knows should be one in him has become two and is engaged in a struggle to see which portion will prevail.

"Jim," says a voice, "you must make up your mind!" No longer can he afford to look inside himself and watch with fascination the battle there. No more can he review and inspect these two opposing forces, siding first with one, and then the other.

No Sunday School picnic

Mr. Mackey's voice is like a bugle calling for the last charge, the last repulse, that will bring his inner war to its final conclusion. The first shots of Jim's private civil war had been fired two weeks ago when Mr. Mackey had hired him to work weekends in his service station and parking lot. (Note: the names used in this story are purely fictitious).

On the day Jim received his orientation to the new job, the gas station owner had said, "One last thing, Jim, you must realize that this is a business and the purpose of a business is to make money. I pay you a good salary and I expect you to help me make money so I can be generous with you. What I want you to do, then, may seem a little shady, but this isn't a Sunday school picnic; it's a business!" He then proceeded to outline ways in which Jim could help keep up both the profits "and the salaries". The list included letting the gas run over, replacing fan belts and other parts that didn't need replacement, not pushing the oil stick all the way in, and other "tricks of the trade."

"No one can serve two masters"

For two weeks Jim worked quietly, but efficiently. He could not bring himself to use the "tricks of the trade" and, at last, the gas station owner was calling a showdown. I've tried to explain, to you that everyone in business has to do these things, but if your conscience bothers you, you'll have to decide what you want the most. The job or your conscience!"

Jim was experiencing what all of us experience in life: the terrible necessity to exercise our free choice between two alternatives, both of which we deeply desire. It is a matter of "wanting our cake and eating it too." This disturbing choice is always with us. "You shall have no other gods before me," the Lord said to a people who were constantly trying to hang on to their own gods while at the same time dallying with the gods of their neighbors.

Yet, much as we would like to avoid that choice, we cannot. "No one," said Jesus, "can serve two masters."

Homecoming Set At Vindex In July

A Vindex Homecoming is being planned for Saturday and Sunday, July 7 and 8, at the old Bash place in Vindex, it was announced this week.

The small community of Vindex has been one, for several years. It was built up around the coal industry in the area at about the turn of the century and was a thriving town until the demise of the mining industry in the last forties and early fifties.

After that young men and women of the town moved away to find jobs elsewhere. A few families remained until a few years ago when the entire area, owned by a coal company, was purchased by a local coal stripper. Now Vindex is mostly a community of bare foundations.

Those who formerly lived in Vindex, their families and friends are invited to get together for a homecoming celebration, to get underway on Saturday July 7, with a live broadcast of the festivities on WTRB radio, Frostburg.

The road into the property at the old Bash place, will be improved and signs will direct the visitors to the site.

A square dance is scheduled for Saturday night and on Sunday morning, July 8, a hymn sing will be held, followed by dinner on the grounds. Organizers of the program are that people will contact former residents and invite them to the area.

Farmers May Qualify For Prevented Planting And Failed Acreage Credit

Producers are reminded that feed grain bases can be preserved if a crop is not planted due to weather conditions or if a crop fails, is destroyed, or must be abandoned because of a natural disaster, J. Walter Margroff Chairman of the Garrett County ASC Committee reminds farmers they must report planted acreage to the ASCS office if the bases for the farm are to be preserved.

In order to be eligible for failed acreage or prevented planting credit the following conditions must be met:

1 For prevented planting credit, requests must be filed in writing not later than 15 days following the end of the normal planting period. Producers are expected to make a reasonable effort to plant during the normal planting period, and provide necessary data to show that land preparation, including application of fertilizer, herbicides, etc. needed for the production of the crop was carried out until prevented from further operations by weather conditions.

2 For failed acreage credit, the remains of the crops shall not be destroyed until any required field visit has been made by a representative of the County Committee.

3 The area for which credit is requested must have been cared for in a workmanlike manner.

4 Applicable forms are available in the Garrett County ASCS Office.

Employment Security Office 40 Years Old As Of June 6

The fortieth anniversary of the creation of the Employment Security Administration is being observed this week.

The first public employment office in Maryland was begun in 1933 as a result of the Wagner-Peyser Act and was forty years old on Wednesday, June 6.

Offices were established in all Maryland counties and were known as the National Reemployment Service, established to serve men, women and juniors legally qualified to engage in gainful occupations, maintain a farm placement service, furnish labor market information, and maintain a system for the interstate clearance of labor.

The operation of the service was explained by Charles L. Briner, director. He continues.

The Maryland Unemployment Compensation Law enacted in December 1936, required the U. I. Board to create and administer the Maryland State Employment Service. Thus in May 1937, the National Reemployment Service was transferred to the administration of the Unemployment Compensation Board as the Maryland State Employment Service.

The development of unemployment insurance within the last century is a significant step toward the economic stabilization of the working man. Despite the fact that unemployment insurance had its origin in trade unions and mutual benefit societies, it became, in overall sense, more important to the ordinary worker than the union itself.

Beginning in Switzerland, it developed step by step into its present form. The basic principles and system of operation of unemployment insurance remains fundamentally unchanged from those early trade-union plans.

To Wisconsin goes the distinction of the next forward step, the setting up of a state unemployment insurance program in 1932. Eighteen states had similar bills before their legislature by 1935.

As a direct result of the depression, the Social Security Act was passed. This was passed on August 14th, 1935. Some of these laws have to do with relief for the poor, such as Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, and Old Age Assistance. These are supported by federal state and county taxes, and are administered by the State Welfare Department, known now as the Department of Employment and Social Services. Two principal nation-wide systems of social insurance were established by this legislation—Old Age and Survivors Insurance and Unemployment Insurance.

Unemployment Insurance

The purpose of unemployment insurance is to provide workers with a weekly income to tide them over short periods of unemployment. Under this plan, workers are able to look around for work in their highest skill, and not forced, because of economic necessity, to accept any type of employment. To finance this portion of the Act, a 3 percent payroll tax was imposed on all employers of eight or more persons who were engaged in covered employment. Government, domestic, farm, railroad and workers in no-profit organizations were excluded from coverage. There is a provision in this Law that any state passing an Unemployment Compensation Law, meeting the minimum requirements of the Federal Law, is entitled to collect 90 percent of this 3 percent tax. Therefore by 1936, most states had passed unemployment compensation laws conforming to the Federal standards. Out of the remaining 10 percent of this 3 percent tax the Act authorized Federal grants to pay the cost of administration of approved u. i. programs.

Four basic standards must be met by states.

1: The money paid into the state funds by employers must be used for unemployment compensation only.

2: The investment of funds has to be protected.

3: Benefits must be paid promptly.

4: Opportunities for fair hearings must be offered to all.

The individual state laws specify who will receive benefits, the amount received and the number of weeks that benefits may be drawn.

Unemployment Compensation Law

On December 17, 1936, the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Law was passed. This Law provided a system covering both job placement and the payment of unemployment benefits after January 1, 1938. The Act was first administered by two divisions- Reemployment Service Division and Unemployment Division under the supervision of the Board of Public Works. In 1937 the Maryland Assembly transferred the administration to the Unemployment Compensation Board and changed the name from the Reemployment Service Division to the Maryland State Employment Service.

In 1947, the name of the Agency was changed to the Department of Employment Security with two divisions—The Division of Unemployment Insurance and the Division of Employment Service. Just recently the name has been changed to the Department of Employment and Social Services. Both are under the Secretary, David T. Mason.

The first office in Oakland was operated by Milburn Mann and Mary Browning. This was on Liberty Street. The local office is now located at 216 E. Alder Street, with the following personnel: C. L. Briner, Mary Browning, Verna Harvey, Robert Stanton, Gladys Anderson, and Herbert Wildesen.

Turnpike travelers have been eyed as lottery customers in Pennsylvania.

Rams Defeated In "B" Final

Southern High Rams dropped a 3 to 2 decision to Williamsport high Saturday in the district 1 class B championship game at Williamsport.

The Rams who closed out their season with a 10 to 2 record, were stopped by lefthander Mike May who had a no-hitter for the first six innings before tiring in the seventh when Southern scored its only two runs.

May struck out 13 and let only one runner reach base via the walk before giving Ernie Shotwell a free pass to open the seventh.

Paul Lewis, losing pitcher, followed with a first hit off the southpaw and the Williamsport coach went to his bullpen for Mike Vlimc, who let the first run score on a single by Craig Bosley.

The Rams loaded the bases on a bunt single by Al Cvetnick and scored their final run on a fielder's choice play before the rally was halted.

Williamsport opened the scoring on a leadoff homer by Troncotti in the second and added a second tally in that frame when Widmyer doubled and scored on a single by Powell.

Troncotti scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth when he came out on the winning end of a collision with the catcher at the plate.

Williamsport, which was the defending class B-C champion, wrapped up the season with a 14-1 record.

Bidders must examine the contract drawings and specifications carefully and must make a personal examination of the location and nature of the proposed work. In case doubt shall arise as to the meaning or intent of anything of the contract drawings or comprised in the specifications, inquiry shall be made of the Owner in writing before the proposal is submitted. The submission of a proposal shall indicate that the bidder thoroughly understands the contract drawings and the terms of the specifications.

To better insure fair competition and to permit a determination of the lowest bidder, unresponsive bids or bids obviously unbalanced, may be rejected by the Owner.

Information for bidders, proposal forms, specimen contract, contract drawings, standard and contract specifications, and other pertinent contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Engineer, Rummel, Klepper and Kahl, 1035 North Calvert Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, after June 4, 1973, between the hours of 9:00 A.M., and 4:00 P.M., daily except Saturday, Sunday and Holidays. Contract documents are available upon the deposit of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per set, which is non-refundable. Checks shall be made payable to the "Mayor and Council of Accident."

NONDISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT

Bidders must comply with the President's Executive Order No. 11246 and submit with their initial bid a signed statement as to whether they have previously performed work subject to this Order or any previous Executive Order dealing with nondiscrimination in Federally assigned construction contracts. (11114 or 10925).

All work on this project shall be performed in accordance with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act and Copeland Anti-Kickback Act.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check or satisfactory bidder's bond in the amount of five per cent (5%) of the amount of the proposal, but in no case less than $1000.00, made payable to the "Mayor and Council of Accident" and unless so accompanied will not be considered. The check or bidder's bond of the bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be forfeited to the "Mayor and Council of Accident" as liquidated damages in the event the contract and performance bond are not executed within ten (10) days after receiving the contract for execution.

All proposals must be submitted on the prepared forms, one of which must remain bound in the specifications. Proposals must be signed by the bidder with his name and address and must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Proposal for Project No. ARC-WPC-MD-243 Proposed Water and Wastewater Facilities, Accident, Maryland."

Proposals made in pencil and/or on any other than the prepared forms will not be considered. Changes in the phraseology of the Proposal, addition or limiting provisions will render the Proposal informal and may cause its rejection.

Proposals once submitted may not be withdrawn for a period of ninety (90) days after the date of opening of bids.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to be bonded to the Mayor and Council of Accident, to the sum of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount of his proposal according to the form of bond hereto attached. The bonding company shall be licensed to do business in Maryland. The bond will be subject to the approval of the Owner.

All right is hereby reserved by the Mayor and Council of Accident to reject any or all proposals and to waive informalities as the interest of the Town may require.

John J. Brenneman

Flag Day, June 11...

Former President Woodrow Wilson's eloquent address on Flag Day, June 14, 1917, fifty six years ago today, is an effective reminder to all of the significance of Old Glory; and we should not allow passing troubles of the present day diminish its importance in the over all life of this nation. He said:

"We meet to celebrate Flag Day because this flag which we honor and under which we serve is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation.

"The choice is ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices, whether in peace or war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us—speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us and of the records they wrote upon it. We celebrate the day of its birth, and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, of a great plan of life worked out by a great people. . ."

Power Line Falls Down Wednesday In Oakland

Oakland power was temporarily interrupted Wednesday morning while repairs were being made to a distribution line which had fallen down at the corner of Third and Oak Streets.

According to Hugh Denison, manager of Monongahela Power Co., the 12,000 volt line fell at approximately 8 a. m. and service was restored about 10 minutes after the company was notified.

Oakland was without electricity only during the time repairs were being made, as it was necessary to shut down a substation to work on the "hot" line.

A thunderstorm the previous evening could possibly have helped cause the line to fall.

Boat Explodes; Four Are Hurt

Three-Year Old Girl Receives 2nd & 3rd Degree Burns

Three adults and a three year old girl were burned Sunday morning about 9:15 when an inboard motorboat exploded on Deep Creek Lake in the Harvey peninsula area.

All four of the injured were treated at Garrett County Memorial hospital and transferred to Pittsburgh hospitals, the three men to Mercy hospital, and the child to Children's hospital.

The injured were listed as Owen C. Ewing, 21, McMurry, Pa., driver of the boat; Scott Hawkins, 23, Leonard J. Smith and daughter Joy Carlene Smith, 3, all of Bethel Park.

The girl sustained second and third degree burns over some 25 percent of her body. Witnesses said the explosion tilted the girl into the air.

According to G. D. Broadwater of the State Police, and John Williams natural resources police officer, who investigated, Mr. Ewing had completed refueling the 17½ foot boat at the Patterson Boat club dock, and had started the engine which then stalled. When he attempted to restart the motor, the explosion occurred. The boat eventually burned and sank, as it was heading for the gasoline tanks on the dock.

Excessive fuel fumes in the carburetor area caused the backfire and subsequent explosion, investigating officers stated.

Dr. Joseph Alvarez, Oakland physician, flew Mrs. Smith and daughter to the hospital burn center. The other victims were transported to the hospital later.

Oakland To Spend Revenue Sharing On City Streets

Mayor H. D. Swartzentruber this week announced that the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland plans to spend the expected $20,905.00 in general revenue sharing funds, allocated for the first six months of 1973 on maintenance of existing streets.

A detailed account of the Town of Oakland's planned use of revenue sharing funds appears in this issue of The Republican. Records documenting the plan are open to public inspection at City Hall, 109 S. Third Street, Oakland. Publication of such a plan, in addition to a subsequent actual use of funds report, is required by the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972, which authorized revenue sharing.

Mayor Swartzentruber further stated that $45,717.00 in revenue sharing funds received for the first and second entitlement periods, January 1 through December 31, 1972, will be used only for priority expenditures. He added that it is too soon to predict the effect of revenue sharing on local taxes.

General revenue sharing is a $30.2 billion, five year program which returns a portion of federal taxes to state and local governments. The unique feature of the program is that it allows state and local officials to decide how their jurisdiction's funds are to be spent within broad federal guidelines.

Pet Vaccination Provides Rabies Protection

"All pet dogs and cats should be vaccinated against rabies for the protection of the family, the community and the pet," Dr. William W. Pope, County Health Officer stated this week. Although the prevalence of this deadly disease has been greatly reduced by vaccination and closer supervision of family pets, it continues to be a threat. The possibility always exists that unvaccinated pets may be bitten by a stray dog, cat or wild animal that has the disease. All unvaccinated animals are susceptible and can transmit the disease to people.

The rabies virus is present in the saliva of infected animals, and even the lick of a rabid animal on a cut or an abrasion of the skin can cause the infection. If an infected person develops symptoms of the disease and medical treatment is not provided, death is inevitable.

Animals such as stray dogs, skunks, squirrels, foxes and raccoons are among the most frequent spreaders of the disease, and recently bats have been found to be an important source of infection. In the United States more than 100 attacks of people by rabid bats have been reported.

Children should be taught to avoid stray animals and not to feed squirrels or other animals by hand in camping areas, preserves or parks. Campers, hunters and fishermen should be cautious of contact with animal wildlife, any of which may be infected with rabies.

Whenever possible an animal that has bitten someone should be captured alive and placed under the observation of a veterinarian or other qualified person to determine whether or not it has rabies.

Anyone bitten by an animal should receive immediate first aid by thorough cleansing of the wound with water and soap or detergent, followed by a mild antiseptic. Medical advice and aid should be obtained as soon as possible.

Returns From Week's Study In California

Ed Price, of Deer Park, has returned from a week's study at the Center For Advanced Film Studies, a division of the American Film Institute in Beverly Hills, California.

While in California Mr. Price amassed 22 hours of tape interviews with five major screen character actors, Roval Dano, Harry Carey, Jr., Iron Eyes Cody, Harry Lauter and John Dierkes. From these cassettes, Price will prepare a transcript which will be forwarded to the American Film Institute in the John F. Kennedy Centre for the Performing Arts in Washington, D. C.

One of Price's experiences, during the interviews, was to hear Harry Carey, Jr., relate some of the exploits of John Ford, the director known for his crustiness and rough humor.

"Royal Dano and I were invited to Carey's home in San Fernando Valley for the taping session, the original intent was to get some insight into Carey's film career. But the conversation turned to John Ford.

Price will also use the taped material for a book about character actors in films. The publisher is yet to be named.

Ed Price moved to Garrett County about 2 years ago with his wife Marolyn who teaches school in Friendsville. He is an audiovisual man, writer and photojournalist and a regular contributer to TEACHER MAGAZINE. In addition Price writes about Garrett County and its people for "Extra" magazine.

His work for The American Film Institute began about six months ago and he engages in research and the search for lost and forgotten films.

About a month ago, he and Harvey Speicher (the former owner of the 219 Drive In Theatre) discovered a two-reel Hal Roach comedy of the early 30's and a Felix the Cat cartoon on original nitrate base 35mm film. Both films are believed to be the only prints of these subjects in existence.

What is clean energy really worth?
Clean energy—energy that doesn't blacken skies or pollute rivers—is obviously worth quite a bit. And here's the paradox. The cleanest-burning fuel—and thus the most valuable fuel—is drastically under priced.
That fuel is natural gas.
But, because natural gas is so clean, and so inexpensive, the demand has far outgrown conventional supplies.
We need new sources of clean energy. And we need them now.
Columbia Gas is investing hundreds of millions of dollars in developing dramatic new sources, such as gas from the Arctic, from overseas, from under the sea, from petroleum liquids . . . even from plentiful coal.
Gas from these new sources costs more to find and deliver, and eventually we'll probably all notice it in our gas bills. But natural gas will continue to be your best energy buy.
What is clean energy really worth?
Try to imagine your world without it.
Imagine your children without it.
Columbia Gas is working to help solve the energy crisis. It's expensive to duplicate nature's work, but we can do it. We're building a reforming plant, at a cost of over forty million dollars that turns petroleum liquids into pipeline quality gas. It is designed to deliver eighty-eight billion cubic feet of gas each year. It's only a trickle of the new energy America needs. Still, it's shedding a bright hope on tomorrow.

COLUMBIA GAS

Student Explains Electronics Course

By John Sherwood

Most people know what radios, televisions, record players, and such do; however, they do not know how or why they do it. Southern has a course of study called electronics in which these mysteries are solved.

Basically, electronics is a study of electronic devices and circuitry, but it is not one of "house wiring." Usually, the course runs from tenth-grade through twelfth. Mr. Dorris Updyke is the instructor.

The tenth-grade year is spent learning the basics of AC and DC electricity, what electricity is, how it works and what it does. Also, vacuum tubes are studied along with their uses and characteristics. The first year is a one period per day class with approximately 90 percent of the class time used for lecture and 10 percent in experiments.

The second year course has two periods a day with 60 percent lab experiments. The primary learning target is transistors. The experiments are almost entirely confined to the transistor trainers, and, as the year progresses, the student builds many different types of oscillators and amplifiers.

During the senior year the class lasts three periods a day and includes such topics as special devices, computers and computer logic, and integrated circuits. The year is spent about 80 percent in experiments with both the transistor trainer and the computer logic trainer. Also, the seniors participate in repair work of various electronic devices and in both individual and group projects. During the '72-'73 school year the electronics shop designed and built the electronic equipment used for the 'It's Academic' competition. Students also wired the Vo-Ag Shop into the school's public address system.

Mrs. Sylvia Rowe, who represents WBAL-TV and conducts the school competition for "It's Academic," said that the electronic devices built by Southern's students for use in the quick answer "buzzer system" were about the best she had seen in her work.

With more and more people using more and more electronic devices, the demand for people who can design, build, and repair these devices is very rapidly increasing. Also, the electronics used in modern devices is getting more complex and undergoing major changes, so the person who goes into the everchanging field of electronics, including computers, must have a good background. Everyone cannot know everything about electronics, but everybody should know the basics for his own use and safety. For instance, why does a fuse blow? And is AC the same as DC?

2 Vehicles Try To Make Right Turn Same Time

A tractor-trailer-car accident occurred at Third and Oak Streets in Oakland at 8:15 this morning, both making a right turn at the same time.

The tractor-trailer driven by John C. Cramer, Albright, W. Va. was traveling west on Oak Street and attempted to make a right turn into Third Street from the center lane, normally the straight or left turn lane. A car driven by Doris Jean Groves, Mt. Lake Park, was traveling parallel to the rig in the 'right turn' lane. As both attempted to make the right turn together, the rig crowded the car up on the sidewalk and against a stone wall.

There were no injuries. The rig driver was charged with making a right turn from the wrong lane. He used this lane as it is said rigs cannot make the right turn from the proper right-turn lane.

DALE KNOTTS

How could it have been possible for this young man to retire eleven years ago? Well, it's true. Dale Knotts retired from the army in 1962 after having served twenty-two years. As you can easily see he is not retirement material. As a matter of fact, Dale now has over ten years of service with our company. I think we can safely say with a record like his, he is loyal.

It was about ten years ago when we discovered that we had too many odd jobs to do and not enough people or experience to take care of them. Dale was the answer to our problem.

During the past ten years Dale has developed a maintenance schedule which has saved us a great deal of money. Checking fan belts, repairing machinery, mowing the lawn, washing the windows, fixing a clogged drain, repairing a shopping cart, plowing snow or changing a fuse are just an example of a few of Dale's duties.

We have a smoother running operation due to Dale's presence and we're grateful to him for the fine job which he is doing.

Dale and his wife Lillian have raised five children: four daughters and one son. They also have five grandchildren.

Dale says when he gets away from the store he enjoys just taking it easy at his residence at Box 83, Eglon, West Virginia.

Sale of Babies Probed By FBI

Dealings with an Oakland man, listed as Walter MacAlorum, has led to the FBI arrest of a Pennsylvania woman implicated in the alleged interstate sale of babies for adoption.

In April, authorities arrested Elaine Chesterpal, now Elaine Raucci, on two counts of fraudulent conversion, two counts of false pretenses, two counts of larceny and passing worthless checks.

Her husband, Louis F. Raucci, 43, of Penn Hills, Pa., has been arrested on an obstruction of justice charge in connection with the case.

Raucci is claimed by authorities to have tried to prevent his mother-in-law from furnishing inforoation to the FBI about such cases.

The FBI did not disclose Raucci's alleged further involvement.

Individuals involved in the sale of babies solicited large amounts of money, from $1,000 to $8,000, from childless couples in other states who were seeking children for adoption.

In most instances payment was accepted but no babies were haoded over.

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked me:

Do farmers have any priority for fuel in the event of a drastic shortage?

Yes. In the event of a fuel shortage priority will be given for the following activities: Farming, ranching, dairy, fishing; food processing and distribution; health, medical, dental, nursing, supporting services, police, fire fighting, emergency aid, public passenger transportation (school and other buses, rail intercity and mass transit); freight transportation services; other State and local government activities; fuel needs of residents in areas unable to obtain adequate supplies; difficulties caused by natural disasters, public utilities; and telecommunications. Farmers experiencing shortages should contact their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

What is the government doing to ensure the equitable distribution of fuel to all parts of the country this summer?

Under the "Voluntary Allocation Program for Crude Oil and Petroleum Products" each State will receive the same percentage or amount of their total supply of crude oil and petroleum product, that they received last summer.

I recently heard you discuss a national study that was conducted to find out how many Americans engage in a regular exercise program. Can you send me a copy of those survey results?

Findings may be requested from the Public Information Office, President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, 400 6th Street S. W., Washington, D. C. 20201.

Whatever happended to the resolution Congress was going to pass to honor America's volunteer firemen?

A joint resolution authorizing the President to proclaim January 17 of each year as 'National Volunteer Fireman's Day' was introduced in the House last week. As a matter of interest the date of January 17 was selected because it is Benjamin Franklin's birthday and he founded the first volunteer fire company in the United States.

Where can I obtain a map of Yellowstone Park?

The government published a collection of eight National Parks maps for the traveler. Individuals desiring a set should send a check for $1.50 (payable to the Superintendent of Documents) to the Public Documents Distribution Center, 5801 Tabor Avenue, Philadelphia, requesting publication S N 2405-00030.

Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad Hears Reports, Explanations

Members of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad heard a report on a meeting of the Maryland State Ambulance and Rescue Association at Joppa Magnolia at a meeting recently at the fire hall at Grantsville.

Criss Browning said he and Don Newman saw a demonstration of the mobile defibrillator and cardiac monitor machines.

Clarification of the age of squad members, from a letter from the States Attorney's office, was also discussed. There is no age limit on a person wishing to serve on a squad, but in order to become an emergency medical technician one must be 18 or older, Mr. Browning reported.

The "grandfather clause", which enables persons having previous training or two years' experience with first aid, to qualify as members of the squad if they can pass a written and practical examination, was explained to the group.

The Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad will host the next meeting of the Maryland State Ambulance and Rescue Association at Grantsville September 8.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband and father, George E. Sweitzer, Sr., who passed away June 1a, 1972.

It was a beautiful summer day
When God said it was time to go.
We know we are not to ask God why,
But we wonder why without even a goodbye.
Dad, you will never know how many friends you had.
And how proud we were to have loved
And to have called you Dad.

Crafts Classes At Penn Alps Planned

Plans for the 1973 series of crafts classes, to be held at Penn Alps, Grantsville, are nearing completion. Classes will include handweaving, spinning, and the dyeing of yarns with native plant dyes.

The first of several weaving schools will begin the third week in June, and will be held two days a week for four weeks. The first class session will be held Tuesday, June 19, with half of the class present to warp their looms. June 20 the second half of the class will warp, in order to avoid long waits.

This class will accommodate both beginners and more advanced students but will be limited to eight persons. Those wishing to enroll should contact Penn Alps immediately.

A second class in handweaving will be conducted between July 30 and August 21. The first day of a five-day wool dyeing workshop will be in session on July 17. The other four days of the workshop will be in August when plant materials (dye sources) are in their prime. This workshop will be limited to six students.

A week long handspinning workshop will be held the week of July 25 and will be conducted in the 1820 log house on the Penn Alps grounds, using early spinning wheels. This workshop also will be restricted to some six students.

All of the workshops and classes will be taught by qualified and experienced instructors, according to Dr. Alta Schrock. They will be conducted on a first-come, first-served basis.

He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Riley, Wilson street, prior to his departure.

Oakland Nine Beats Hyndman

Oakland used two recent Southern High graduates to deal Hyndman a 5 to 4 loss last Saturday in Oakland, in a Penn-Mar league contest.

Oakland, 3-3, which gave Keyser an assist into first place by beating Victory Post last week, was scheduled for another game Sunday.

Oakland proved that its victory last week over the Porters was no fluke by using Paul Lewis and Ernie Shotwell in halting Wayne Mathias, Hyndman pitcher.

Lewis, lanky left hander, who was credited with the win, hurled six innings of 10-strikeout ball before being hit by a Mathias "smoker" while batting in the bottom of the sixth. Lewis was taken to Garrett County Memorial hospital for x-rays with Shotwell coming on to blank Hyndman the rest of the way for the save.

Before leaving, Lewis had stroked a two-run triple in the fourth inning to put Oakland on top to stay at 4-3, with the deciding run coming in the fifth inning on Wayne Bosley's single, scoring Bob Finch from second.

Arts And Crafts Section Added to Preston Festival

Applications are to be reviewed by the committee, and are to be returned no later than August 15.

Three Accidents Occur In Oakland This Past Week

Three motor vehicle accidents occurred in Oakland the first part of the week, one Monday and two Tuesday. There were no apparent injuries.

Clifford Friend, Accident, was making a left turn off Center Street into Third Street and ran into the path of a truck driven by Dale C. Wagner, Oakland. Chief Percy L. Lawton of the Oakland Police charged Friend with failing to yield the right-of-way at an intersection. This accident happened Tuesday morning.

Carroll Van Bachtel, RD 2, Oakland, and Mason L. Madigan, Deer Park, along with other traffic, were stopped for a red light at Oak and 8th Streets. When the light turned green, all vehicles started to move out for some reason all traffic in front of the Bachtel and Madigan cars suddenly stopped. Bachtel could not stop in time to avoid hitting the Madigan car, Officer Harland E. Reams of the town police made no charges. This mishap occurred at noon Tuesday.

Another accident occurred on the Beachy Lumber Company parking lot just before.

John B. Furr, RD 1, Oakland, in a pick-up, was backing out of a parking lot and backed into the left side of a car of Carole Ann Gattshall, Mt. Lake Park. Officer Reams investigated.

Graduates With Honors

Ann C. Bennighof Phoenix, graduated from Hereford High School in Baltimore County, June 6. A National Merit Scholarship finalist, she also received the Readers Digest Valedictorian award and co-recipient of the faculty Balfour award for outstanding scholarship.

Ann plans to attend Westhampton College of the University of Richmond, in Virginia.

She is a daughter of Raymond H. and Vivian Paugh Bennighof, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Paugh, Deer Park, and niece of Miss Janet Paugh. The three latter attended the exercises last week.

Thirteen Killed On State Highways

Thirteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to Sergeant James E. Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Seven of those killed were drivers, three were passengers and three were pedestrians. The opinion of the investigating officers was that death might have been prevented in at least five of the collisions had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in two of the deaths, speed in nine and "driver error" in nine.

Persons killed through June 10, 366 compared to 355 for the same period last year.

Tri-County Council Hears Plan For Flyash Disposal

A proposal for a study on the possibilities of using powerplant flyash for mine reclamation and mine pollution abatement in Western Maryland was referred to the natural resources committee of the Tri-County Council of Western Maryland following a discussion at the council's executive board meeting at the Algonquin Motor Inn Wednesday.

Present in addition to Garrett County Commissioners Wayne Hamilton, who is Council chairman, and Earl Opel, was John Matis, coordinator of abandoned mine drainage for the State Department of Natural Resources, who explained that Potomac Electric Power Co. was having difficulty in attempting to dispose of its flyash.

Herbert R. Sachs, director of the Department of Natural Resources, pointed out that the Department has applied for funds for a project to study the feasibility of using flyash in mine reclamation in Western Maryland.

Mr. Matis pointed out that in the Scranton-Wilkes Barre area of Pennsylvania flyash has been used successfully as a filler and soil additive in abandoned mines.

Earl Opel said that although Garrett County is very much interested in reclaiming mine lands, officials do not want it used as a dumping ground for other, urban areas.

Commissioner Hamilton reminded the group that county commissioners have the final say about what materials might be buried in their county.

The natural resources committee was requested to prepare a recommendation to be considered at the July meeting of the Tri-County Council.

BPW Club Presents Check To No. Rescue Squad

The Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club recently presented a $100 check to the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. Receiving the donation was Don J. Newman, Chairman of the Board. Mildred V. Wucik, retiring president of the club, made the presentation.

The squad has the distinction of being the first volunteer squad in the state of Maryland with all members being certified emergency medical technicians.

Presently the squad has 40 active EMT's and two ambulances in service, with the hope that a third may be added in the near future.

New training classes are being planned for August. All interested persons are welcome to enroll as trainees.

Memberships for service and/or donations may be made by contacting Don J. Newman in Grantsville.

No More Boys Or Girls Schools?

It is sad and more than a little alarming—to read the Associated Press dispatch from Washington that "About 150 Predominently or exclusively male and female colleges, including some of the most prestigious in the nation, must explain by early summer delays in totally eliminating 'sex discrimination' in admissions."

The dispatch went on to say that government "guidelines" (not orders?) have been mailed to the educational institutions in 33 states by the U. S. Office of Education. Failure to comply invites loss of all Federal "aid."

What has happened in our land to freedom of choice? Exclusively boys, and exclusively girls schools have played a major and distinguished role in the building of our country. And now we are told that what we have been doing these past 200 years is all wrong? If it was wrong for parents to decide that their sons and daughters could achieve the most by study in an exclusively boys or girls school, why did it take so long to find it out?

This latest move by the Office of Education is a prime example that the power to tax is the power to destroy freedom of choice. Earnings and income which might have been used to pay for tuition is extracted by the government in the form of taxes. That money is then sent to the schools (in the form of "aid") by the government. But now the funds carry the taint of government control over what is to be taught, who is to teach, who can be taught, and who is to be allowed to sit in the same classroom. How much longer will it be before all income is controlled and no freedom of choice will remain —U. S. Press Association.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

It has been depressing to see the extent to which selfishness, apathy and moral decay have pushed America to the brink of destruction. Although the situation often seems hopeless there is occasionally a ray of light beginning to show through the darkness. It was very encouraging to read your letters to the editor of recent weeks and to see that there are some good citizens who will do what they can to protest such things as the legalized murder of the unborn.

You have apparently received only one letter favoring abortion and that was from a "mother" who didn't have the courage to allow her name to be used. She used the "Quality of Life" argument so often heard these days. Of course the same argument can be used to justify murder of anyone the State feels is inferior. I have seen attempted justification of the wholesale gassing and cremation of Jews in Nazi Germany on the ground that they were wretched creatures anyway and the State was only putting them out of their misery. Not having the Madison Avenue writers to thunk up more appealing slogans for him, Hitler called it the "Master Race," not "Quality of Life."

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN
BEALL JR.

Solving the Fuel Shortage

The Senate has moved quickly to deal with the problem of fuel shortages in the United States by passing the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973.

This aspect of our energy crisis had been studied in the past month by the Consumer Subcommittee, on which I serve. Those hearings convinced us that prompt and decisive action was needed to protect the people being hurt by the present situation and also to establish a more coherent policy for using our energy resources.

I had joined in sponsoring several bills that were offered at the time, and the legislation we have acted on contains most of those provisions.

It establishes an Office of Emergency Fuel Allocation to enforce a policy of fair distribution and marketing of petroleum products to all users.

For gasoline and fuel oil dealers, it establishes a base period of Oct., 1971-Sept., 1972 for determining the distribution of petroleum products.

Using that base period, the bill says that a distributor cannot arbitrarily reduce the sales to any one dealer unless he makes uniform reductions in his sales to all dealers.

This means that the distributor of Brand X gasoline, for instance, must continue to supply the same amount as in the past both to his own franchised stations and to the independent dealers who sell the gas under their own names.

The distributor cannot drop the independent dealer, or a franchised dealer for that matter, either, and he cannot limit their purchases unless he applies the same limits to all of the dealers who buy gasoline or fuel oil from him.

Unequal pricing would be outlawed, too. Here again, a distributor cannot increase his wholesale prices to one group of dealers and not another.

Violations of this fair distribution plan are to be punishable by fines and damages to be decided in court.

The bill also says that the President shall have the authority to take such steps as are needed to assure the allocation of fuel for the production of farm products.

Our agriculture industry is heavily mechanized, and fuel is also needed for the transportation system that gets the crops from the farm to the markets. With food prices going up as it is, the last thing we need is a poor harvest brought on by a lack of gas.

Conservation of energy must also play a role in our efforts to solve this problem, and the bill takes several initiatives here, too.

It calls for the creation of a National Voluntary Energy Conservation Program, and it also urges the individual states to establish their own Offices of Fuel and Energy Conservation.

Finally, there is the lingering question, "How really severe is the fuel shortage?"

There have been persistent reports that a lot of the fuel shortage is really an excuse the oil companies are using to bring about a price increase and to get past the environmentalists who are opposing the construction of refineries and oil terminals in some areas.

Actually, nobody seems to know for certain, so we have included a section which calls on the Federal Trade Commission to look into this question and report back to Congress on the background and conditions which surround our nation's fuel shortage.

I have also asked the Attorney General to look into some of these questions, and I hope we can get them cleared up.

An Easy Way to Clean Upholstery

With a little know-how you can revive the colors and good looks of upholstered furniture hy cleaning with a stiff, soapsuds lather. First remove as much loose soil as possible by brushing with a whisk broom or furniture brush attachment of the vacuum cleaner. Try to identify spots and stains. Nongreasy stains can usually be dabbed away with a sponge wrung from detergent solution. For grease-based stains, a dry cleaning solvent may be necessary When using a commercial spot remover, be sure to follow directions carefully and test the product first on a hidden area of the upholstery.

Then use the soapsuds method to remove embedded soil and restore color brightness. To one cup soap or detergent, add just enough warm water to make it wet. Then with hand or electric mixer, whip the mixture until it has the consistency of stiffly beaten egg whites. There shouldn't he any extra water to soak into the upholstery. Test the suds on the back of the chair or couch. If the fabric looks the same, only cleaner, wash the whole piece.

Apply the lather liberally to a small area of the upholstery at a time and scrub, working from edges toward the center. A medium soft brush may be used to coax dirt loose. Loosely woven materials without nap should be treated with a sponge working in the direction of the weave to avoid breaking threads

Scrape away soiled suds with the dull edge of a knife or rubber scraper. Then wipe several times with a soft cloth wrung nearly dry in clear water Avoid dampening the fabric any more than necessary. Repeat the process until the entire piece is clean.

How small a man seems—walking down a lonely road on a rainy day, with gaunt trees towering over him.

How small man is, and how frail in body. The trees in the picture and even the chimneys on the old house will probably long outlive the man.

Yet how big man is—in the things that are not of the body, but are of the mind and soul. God has not made man mammoth. But He has made him potentially great—if he will but accept the blessings given him, and use the tools of Christian teachings.

Man finds in the Church, the encouragement and the instruction to enable him to make from his God-given divine spark something great and enduring—and of benefit to all human-kind.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

DO YOU MEAN IT?

Lesson for June 17, 1973

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:7; Matthew 5:33-37, 6:1-6; 7:21-23; 21:28-32; Mark 7:5-8
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 1:10-17.

Which of these would you consider to be violators of the Third Commandment?

Jack, frustrated by an unpredictable fuel pump on his car, lets loose with a string of high-powered profanity.

Rev. Althouse

Sue, without quite realizing it, has gotten into the habit of punctuating all her exclamations with "O my God!"

Betty recites the words of the Lord's Prayer, but her mind is far away on other things.

Ed delights in using the words, "nigger," "Jew-boy," and "wop," because it never fails to shock or impress his listeners.

Carl voices his vows of church membership, giving little thought to what he is promising.

Edna is a woman who finds it difficult to tell the unvarnished truth, preferring instead to bend it and shape it to her needs.

The name in vain

The Third Commandment tells us, "You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in Vain . . ." (Exodus 20:7). This was an important commandment because the Hebrews believed that a person's name was an essential part of their personality. To dishonour a person's name, meant to dishonour the whole person.

Furthermore it was believed that the name carried with it the powers of the gods or the spirits. People would use the names of certain deities to manipulate their powers. The name, therefore, is not to be used dishonestly or insincerely.

To use God's name profanely is obviously a violation of the commandment. The name should claim as much respect from us as God himself. Furthermore, it is obvious that we ought not to use God's name in a common or thoughtless way. To thoughtlessly use the name over and over again is to show a certain disrespect or contempt for God.

Do not swear at all

Jesus was concerned that God's name should not be abused in another way: "Again you have heard that it was said to the men of old, 'You shall not swear falsely . . .' But I say to you, 'Do not swear at all'" (Matthew 5:33) Jesus did not want men to use the name of God to compel the truth from others. What is needed, Jesus is saying, is not better oaths, but more honesty.

We would not need to prefaee our remarks with "God knows . . ." and "As God is my witness" and "I swear to God . . ." if there was a higher level of honesty both with ourselves and others. So it is with God, too. It matters little how often we say his name, if we are not sincere. As the Isaiah said, "This people honors me with their lips, but their heart is far from me . . ." And Jesus warned: "Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord, shall enter the kingdom . . ."

If we use God's name, implied or expressed, let's make sure we really mean it.

"What the Bible Says About Drink"

Some people claim that the Bible does not condemn the use of alcohol, therefore they see no harm even in church members drinking "a little," evidently people who say this never read nor know their Bible. The following scriptures are among the many that condemn even moderate drinking. Habakkuk 2:15- "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink." Proverbs 20:1- "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." Isaiah 5:11-"Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them." Proverbs 23:31-33, "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things." Also Proverbs 23:29,30; Proverbs 31:4,5; Isaiah 28:1-7, and many more which limited space does not permit us to quote.

The liquor business is the worst business in America, in scope, in power, in results. Booze ruins more hopes, more homes, more happiness than any other thing. It causes more misery, more woe, more genuine sorrow and heartbreak than any other. It destroys more young people than any other. It has produced more criminals, more harlots, more murderers, more bums, more panhandlers, more sores on society than any other. It has resulted in more poverty, more children suffering from malnutrition, more slum conditions than any other business known to man. It is rotten from the bottom up, or the top down, which ever way you look at it. It has the hiss of Hell, the venom of Satan permeating and penetrating throughout its every phase and activity. The booze business is the Devil's masterpiece.

In Wichita, Kansas, a young 22 year old mother of three children and expecting a fourth, died from a punctured skull and a broken neck received in an automobile accident, the driver of the "other car" was arrested and booked at the city jail on charges of driving while intoxicated, running a stop sign, driving without due regard, and having an open bottle.

In another midwestern state still another drunken driver, this time a woman, plowed through a safety zone killing a little baby and injuring several others. When a policeman asked her to take a routine "breath test" for alcohol in her system, she replied by kicking him in the stomach. In Ohio a drunken driver crowded a car off the highway into a bridge abutment and a 21 year-old preacher's wife died instantly with a broken neck. The tragedy of these stories could be multiplied a thousand times in incidents and accidents from coast to coast. And I hasten to add, it will continue to be multiplied until America remembers the God of her fathers and abolishes this traffic of Hell.

God's Word has some important truths that every one who drinks should consider. Read Isaiah 5:11, also verse 22 of the same chapter which says "Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink." Here is a woe, a blight, a curse upon the man or woman who dares to drink.

I wish that every one who reads these words could have the opportunity to read an article in the Pageant magazine which is not a religious nor a temperance magazine, but it gives some sane, scientific approach to drink. The article was called "The Big Lie About Moderate Drinking." This report does not concern the man or woman who drinks too much, it is not about alcoholism nor alcoholics. It is about the average man or woman, the so-called moderate drinker. It shows exactly what happens to you when you drink even a little.

Alcohol is actually a poison in the same way that ether and chloroform are poisons. Yet 64 percent of all adult Americans drink it. They are poisoning themselves for pleasure (so-called). It is a poison and acts upon the brain as an anesthetic. We are speaking about ethyl alcohol which is found in liquor, wine and beer. The very word "intoxicated" means being poisoned. Dr. Frederick Lemere, a Seattle psychiatrist and neurologist says; "Alcohol is a habit forming drug and should be grouped with the narcotics and barbiturates, for it can be physical as well as psychological habituation.' Dr. William F. Boos, Toxicologist states; "Alcohol is a poison classed among the narcotic drugs along with chloral, ethylchloride, chloroform, ether, and benzol. It acts as poisons act."

Not only has God placed judgment on the man who drinks, because Proverbs 23:35 reminds us one of the blights is slavery. If you tamper with the sin of drinking liquor you will become a slave to it. Today people want to call it a sickness, like disease such as polio, malaria, etc. The Bible declares that drunkenness is SIN. In words plain and powerful the Bible declares drunkenness with stealing, murder, idolatry, and adultery. Another phase of judgment is also that of sorrow. You cannot read Proverbs 23:29 without seeing the sorrow that is predicted from the curse of drink. The next blight upon the drinker which we might call "Stupidity". Isaiah 28:7 says, "They err in vision, they stumble in judgment," also Proverbs 23:31 shows us the foolishness to which liquor leads men. Drink will dull the senses of a man and cause him to lose all sense of danger.

The next blight or judgment which haunts and hounds the man or woman who boozes is the curse of Sex-looseness. Proverbs 23:33-"Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things." There is something about booze which makes a man want, not his own wife, but a strange woman. There is something about liquor that causes a woman to want not her husband, but strange men.

God also has placed a blight upon the man who causes others to drink. Found in the Book of Habakkuk; "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, and makest him drunken." Included in this curse would of course be all those in that crowd who make, who distill, who manufacture strong drink. But that is not all, the curse is on the man or woman who sells strong drink. God's curse is upon the owners and operators of these havens of hell which line the streets of our cities and towns, offering their bottled poison to the multitudes. These demon sellers, who for the sake of personal gain or profit, sell their merchandise that make drunkards, paupers, harlots and criminals, are doomed. God's woe is upon them.

The beer and liquor in our bars and package stores are all under the same judgement. The curse of God is upon the man who makes it, sells it, whether he puts a government stamp upon it or not. But God's curse is not just upon the makers and sellers of booze. It is upon those who serve it in their homes. His curse is upon the host and hostess at a cocktail party. Habakkuk 2:15-"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him."

I have painted a black, horrible picture of what booze does to the drinker, maker, seller, and user of this hellish stuff. But almost every day of my ministry I am faced with it. Right now I am dealing with several who have problems because of this sin. The only hope for the man under the curse of booze is JESUS CHRIST. Drink leads to woe, to sorrow, to death, to HELL. But thank God, there is mercy, there is forgiveness, there is pardon, there is salvation and life everlasting in the Son of God.

What the drunkard needs is Christ, not Alcoholics Anonymous (although we praise God for what AA is doing), it is not in signing a pledge, not reforming, not turning over a new leaf. No that will not be enough. It is Christ—He is the only Answer.

By Rev. Robert G. Jennings, Deep Creek Baptist Church.

IN MEMORIAM

A Father's Day tribute to the memory of Charles Rush, who passed away July 9, 1969.
It's very often hard to say,
"Thy will be done" - but still
We know that when you left us
It was according to God's will.
We've held fast to our faith in Him,
And believed that all is planned.
And with His love He'll help us
To accept and understand.

So dearly loved and Sadly missed by his Wife, his Children,
and his Grandchildren

Byron Introduces Conservation Bill

Rep. Goodloe Byron announced plans to join Rep. Lloyd Meeds (D-Wash.) in introducing a bill to expand the Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) and make it permanent.

The proposed measure would provide 150,000 summer jobs for teenagers in Federal parks and on other public lands by 1975. Last year Congress passed legislation expanding the Corps to 50,000 jobs in 1974.

Byron said the bill expands the new pilot program by opening up conservation jobs on State lands and parks.

Bid items B, C, and E may be bid singly or in any combination of bid items. The Town of Accident, however, reserves the right to award bid items A plus D; or B, C, and E as individual contracts or in any possible combination of contracts that it deems to be in its best interests or to delete all work under bid items A, B, and C, or to reject all bids and re-advertise.

The "Time For Work To Be Completed" will not be considered cumulative when multiple bid items are awarded to the same Bidder but shall remain binding as designated for the respective bid item. The Contractor is therefore expected to employ the necessary crews and equipment required to meet the "Time For Work To Be Completed" assigned to any bid item.

Bidders must examine the contract drawings and specifications carefully and must make a personal examination of the location and nature of the proposed work. In case doubt shall arise as to the meaning or intent of anything of the contract drawings or comprised in the specifications, inquiry shall be made of the Owner in writing before the proposal is submitted. The submission of a proposal shall indicate that the bidder thoroughly understands the contract drawings and the terms of the specifications.

To better insure fair competition and to permit a determination of the lowest bidder, unresponsive bids or bids obviously unbalanced, may be rejected by the Owner.

Information for bidders, proposal forms, specimen contract, contract drawings, standard and contract specifications, and other pertinent contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Engineer, Rummel, Klepper and Kahl, 1035 North Calvert Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, after June 4, 1973, between the hours of 9:00 A.M., and 4:00 P.M., daily except Saturday, Sunday and Holidays. (11114 or 10925).

All work on this project shall be performed in accordance with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act and Copeland Anti-Kickback Act.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check or satisfactory bidder's bond in the amount of five per cent (5%) of the amount of the proposal, but in no case less than $1000.00, made payable to the "Mayor and Council of Accident" and unless so accompanied will not be considered. The check or bidder's bond of the bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be forfeited to the "Mayor and Council of Accident" as liquidated damages in the event the contract and performance bond are not executed within ten (10) days after receiving the contract for execution.

All proposals must be submitted on the prepared forms, one of which must remain bound in the specifications. Proposals must be signed by the bidder with his name and address and must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Proposal for Project No. ARC-WPC-MD-243, Proposed Water and Wastewater Facilities, Accident, Maryland."

Proposals made in pencil and or on any other than the prepared forms will not be considered. Changes in the phraseology of the Proposal, additions or limiting provisions will render the Proposal informal and may cause its rejection.

Proposals once submitted may not be withdrawn for a period of ninety (90) days after the date of opening of bids.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to be bonded to the Mayor and Council of Accident, to the sum of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount of his proposal according to the form of bond hereto attached. The bonding company shall be licensed to do business in Maryland. The bond will be subject to the approval of the Owner.

Seven Injured In Recent Wrecks

Seven persons were injured in six recent accidents in various parts of the county.

Viola G. Braham, 50, New Creek, W. Va., driver of the car, and her passenger, June A. Bernard, 51, were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following an accident on U. S. Route 50 about three fourths mile west of Table Rock road the afternoon of June 3.

Woodrow W. Flint, Philippi, W. Va., was driving east on Rt. 50 and started to pass the Braham car also going east. Viola Braham at that time started to make a left turn into a private drive. Flint stated he saw the left turn signal but not in time to avoid the collision. Tfc. Ronald S. Lewis charged Flint with improper passing.

Bradley D. Gain, 23, and his passenger, Cynthia Lou Gain, 18, both of Clarksburg, W. Va., were injured and Deborah Sue Allietta, 26, McMechen, W. Va., was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, following a two car wreck on U. S. Route 40 about 2 miles west of Foster's Inn road the evening of June 2.

Both cars were traveling east on Route 40. Gain slowed down due to traffic conditions and was struck in the rear by the Allietta car. Deborah Allietta was charged with failing to reduce speed under certain conditions by Trooper David A. Miller.

Melissa J. Kemp, 17, Meyersdale, Pa., was slightly injured in a one-car mishap on U. S. Route 219 about a half mile north of Route 40 about 2 p. m. June 3. She was traveling south on Route 219 during a ram storm. She lost control of the car which spun around and went off the shoulder. The vehicle struck an embankment and came to rest among some trees. No charges were made by Trooper Miller.

Carolyn Sue Thrasher, 24, Oakland, was slightly injured in a two-car mishap on U. S. Route 219 near the Mayhew Inn road the morning of June 5. She was traveling south on Route 219 and in the process of passing another vehicle when she noticed some on coming traffic. To avoid a head-on collision, she ran off the road and struck an embankment. Carolyn Thrasher was charged with improper passing by Trooper J. E. Foley.

In two other accidents there were no personal injuries.

Allen J. Yoder, Grantsville, was traveling on State Route 495 near the Legeer road May 31, when a deer ran in front of his vehicle. Yoder was unable to avoid hitting the animal and killed it. No charges were made by Trooper R. C. Georg.

Hugh E. Echard, Oakland, was traveling west on Dennett road about 11 a. m. May 2, when he failed to note a parked car in time. To avoid hitting it he swerved to the left, lost control of the car, went off the left side of the roadway. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged him with failing to reduce speed under certain conditions.

Deadline Nears For New Wheat Farm Applications

Farmers who would like to be considered for a "new farm" allotment for the 1974 crop of winter wheat, on a farm which does not have a wheat allotment, should get in touch with the County ASCS Office this month, according to J. Walter Margroff, Chairman, Garrett County ASC Committee. Applications for such allotments must be filed by July 2.

A producer eligible to file such an application is one with a farm for which no wheat allotment has been established and for which neither the owner nor the operator has an interest in the wheat allotment on any other farm, who has available land and adequate equipment and facilities for the successful production of a wheat crop on the farm, has experience in producing, harvesting and marketing of wheat, and who as an operator expects to receive more than 50 percent of his current year's income from the total production on the farm (not including the anticipated income from wheat produced on a "new farm" allotment.)

Other factors are also involved, and it is suggested that interested producers discuss the details with officials at the ASCS county office.

Mr. Margroff said that formal application for a "new farm" wheat allotment may be made by filing written application at the ASCS county office prior to the July 2, deadline.

Search Plan Needed...

Need for a county-wide search plan for lost persons was pointed up dramatically this week with the hodge-podge response made in the initial effort to find 13-year-old Glenn Marratto. A lot of wheel spinning and duplication of effort was evident before a coordinated plan was put into effect.

Time is of the essence in such situations and it would appear that a massive response could have been more effective than one that was too little and too late.

Nothing but praise can be heaped upon the innumerable volunteers and guardsmen who spent hours slogging through mud and skinning over rocks. The fact that their efforts up 'til now have been futile detracts in no way from their gifts of time and effort. Spur-of-the-moment planning, direction, and decision, however, increased the burden they had to carry.

Undoubtedly, the responsibility of developing a search plan, implementing and directing it is a police function. Although they are few in number, our policemen, especially our state units, have at their disposal command of communications, equipment, know how, and authority to act fast and efficiently. State units have greater resources than any county units could ever hope to have. The most logical conclusion, therefore, is to enlist the aid and rely upon the direction of state units first whenever an emergency of this proportion occurs again.

MODEL FOR MENTAL HOSPITAL—Delegale DeCorsey Bolden, Garrett County, and Senator William A. Wilson, Allegany-Garrett, District 1-C, inspect the model of the 250 bed Western Maryland Regional Mental Hospital, to be constructed on land made available by the Allegany County Commissioners, adjacent to the Allegany Community College. It was pointed out by the legislators that this 9.4 million hospital will not only take care of present and future needs, but will afford the patients of the western counties the opportunity to be closer to their families, rather than having to convalesce in other hospitals in the eastern part of the state. The finding is in the 1974 capital budget and when the complex is completed it will be named the Thomas B. Finan Memorial Hospital.

The group of buildings in the lower right hand corner of the model is the proposed mental retardation center for which $30.000 planning money was included in this 1974 capital budget.

For the first time since the beginning of teacher negotiations the fiscal year 1974 agreement between the Garrett County Teachers' Association and the Garrett County Board of Education will be completely funded. According to Dr. William H. Buser, Superintendent of Schools, this was made possible by the development of a reasonable package to begin with, and through the efforts of the County Commissioners and additional State funding.

The agreement will implement a beginning teacher's salary for a Standard Professional Certificate of $7,000 per year. The maximum salary for teachers with a Standard Professional Certificate will be $10,680. A salary improvement incentive for credit beyond a Master's Degree has also been approved for the first time. Plans For New Deep Creek Bridge Given Approval

Decision to take immediate steps in planning the new bridge over Deep Creek Lake, was made at a public hearing last Thursday evening at Garrett Community college, called by the officials of the Maryland Department of Transportation.

It was the concensus at the meeting that the proposal for an expanded two-lane bridge with a pedestrian lane was sound and that immediate steps should be taken to plan the structure. Some 35 or 40 persons attended including highway officials from Annapolis and LaVale. The meeting was conducted by John D. Bushby, district engineer for the state highway administration for this district. Also attending were members of the county planning commission.

The proposed bridge also would be a two-lane affair and would be constructed on the south side of the present bridge.

Search Goes On For Missing Pittsburgh Lad

Glenn Marratto, 13, Disappeared Last Thursday At Swallow Falls

Search for Glenn Paul Marratto, 13, of Pittsburgh, who has been missing in the Swallow Falls area since last Thursday, continues today as various reports of his being seen on the highway enroute to his home having been checked out to no avail.

The youngster had attended an outing at the Swallow Falls State park with some twenty persons from Our Lady of Victory Church in Pittsburgh's Brookline section. He walked away from the picnic and hasn't been heard from or definitely seen since that time.

Included in the search have been the Maryland Park Service, the Sheriff's office personnel, the State Police, various fire companies, Company C, Maryland National Guard, from Frostburg and Oakland and forestry camp boys. Fire companies have responded from Oakland, Grantsville, Deep Creek, Accident and Deer Park.

In use at various times have been scuba divers, helicopters and a bloodhound.

A check with State police at Uniontown, Pa., Wednesday disclosed that authorities are getting numerous reports that the boy had been seen. However the calls have been checked out and the boy remains missing.

The Maryland Park Service sent an all-terrain vehicle, which was brought to the area from the Greenbrier State Park, and used with no results. A specially trained rescue team from Patapsco State Park joined the search last Saturday. Robert Browning and Buzz Gosnell, Oakland, were the scuba divers involved, but their work was halted temporarily when heavy rains brought high and muddy water.

The missing youth was described by Rev. Joseph Naja, priest in charge of the outing, as being about four feet, ten

They also announced that the county had received $26,700 in federal funds to purchase two new ambulances for its volunteer ambulance programs. The Senators said the grant also came from the Appalachian Regional Commission and would provide the northern and southern areas of the county with one ambulance each. The funds will be matched by $8,700 from local sources.

Contract Awarded At Deep Creek

Contract awards for construction projects of Department of Natural Resources facilities in Garrett and Washington counties were among awards for projects in six counties announced by the Department's capital programs administration.

Initial grading for a road and parking area in conjunction with a proposed boating facility in Deep Creek State Park, was included in a $39,999 contract awarded to Orrie Contracting company, of LaVale.

Forms Incorrectly Filled

The Office of the County Commissioners reports that the annual rush to file applications for Tax Credits by the elderly and disabled has begun but unfortunately, a large percentage of the applicants do not complete the application. This results in the application having to be returned to the applicant, thus delaying the issuance of the credit that may be due. The request is made by the commissioners that all applicants complete the form in its entirety.

Summer Weather Has Been Here Ahead of Season

Although summer officially began just this morning at 9:01 EDT, summer weather has been with us for the past week. Daytime highs have been in the upper 70s and low 80s all week. Skies have been cloudy to partly cloudy with much haze and some fog. Humidity has been rather high for the Mountain Top. Much rain accompanied thunder storms over the weekend.

The clear, drier air of last Thursday and early Friday gave way to more variable cloudy skies since. Saturday and Sunday were the rain days, with over two inches during that time. About a half inch fell during the thunder storm Sunday morning about 8:30. Rains later Sunday and during the night dumped another inch and a half. Precipitation during the week amounted to half the month's normal.

It was 81 degrees for a high Friday with the highest being 83 degrees Sunday. The coolest nights were last Thursday with 46 degrees and 44 Friday. Temperatures averaged one degree above the seasonal normal.

It was breezy last Saturday and rather brisk during the storms. Otherwise, gentle breezes have been blowing most of the week.

This is the longest day of the year being 15 hours 37 minutes. The next few days will be about the same length, but will become shorter by a few seconds each day.

OPEN LINE

By Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked me.

I recently read about your bill to enlarge the Youth Conservation Corps and would like to know the function of this organization?

The Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) is a means of providing summer employment for teenagers in Federal parks and other public lands. The conservation jobs include erosion prevention, the planting of trees, building picnic shelters, clearing biking and hiking trails, cleaning stream banks and tending fish hatcheries.

When is the Civil Service Commission expected to act on an increase for annuitants?

The Commission has announced approval of a 6.1 percent cost-of-living increase for annuitants effective July 1, 1973. This increase applies to all Civil Service retirees presently on the annuity rolls and also to any employees who retire before the effective date of the increase.

Will my VA pension be discontinued because of an unexpected dividend that puts me over the income limit?

No, the dividend will have no effect on your pension as long as this income could not have been anticipated and was of a non-recurring nature.

What is the maximum farm subsidy payment and can it be lowered?

The current farm subsidy limitation is $55,000, although Congress will act again this month on legislation to sharply reduce the subsidy to $20,000. I feel that large subsidies have the effect of accelerating the growth of large farm units to the detriment of the family farmer. In addition, projected savings from the present ceiling have not materialized and therefore the large subsidies represent a waste of the taxpayers' money.

Where can I obtain a Golden Age Passport?

The Golden Age Passport, for persons 62 years of age or older, is available at most post offices. It entitles the bearer free access to National Parks plus a 50 percent discount on Federal special recreation use fees.

Can you send me a list of books on the environment?

Your request can best be answered by ordering "An Environmental Bibliography" published by the Environmental Protection Agency. Copies are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

As a public service, would you please print Interior Secretary Morton's "common sense" ways to conserve automobile gasoline?

Interior Secretary Morton recently called for voluntary cutbacks to conserve gasoline. At your request I am reprinting the nine tips he recommended to consumers. 1) Plan vacations and camping trips closer to home; 2) Use trains, buses or airplanes on long trips rather than automobiles; 3) Use automobiles only for necessary trips; 4) Limit the use of auto air conditioners and other fuel consuming accessories; 5) Drive 10 miles below the speed limit on all super highways; 6) Place greater reliance on small cars, particularly by two car families; 7) Use mass transit systems more extensively; 8) Walk or ride bicycles on short trips, and 9) Keep automobile engines properly tuned and tires properly inflated.

What is the National Flood Insurance Program and what is it designed to do?

The program makes specified amounts of flood insurance, previously unavailable from private insurers, available under Federal auspices. In return for the provision of subsidized insurance to existing properties, State and local governments are required to adopt and enforce land use and control measures that will guide land development in flood-prone areas in order to avoid or reduce future flood damage. Interested communities should write the Regional Office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Curtis Building, 6th and Walnut Streets, Philadelphia.

When is the Park Service going to publish its 1973 camping directory?

The new edition of "Camping in the National Park System" is available for fifty cents from the Superintendent of Documents. The pocket-sized guide lists more than 29,000 campsites in 92 areas and specifies the camping season for each area, duration of stay permitted, and facilities available to the camper.

What is Congress doing about airport noise?

Legislation has been introduced in Congress establishing the Airport Noise Curfew Commission. This Commission would be authorized to study and make recommendations to Congress regarding the establishment of curfews on nonmilitary aircraft operations over populated areas of the United States during "normal sleeping" hours. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I hope to express my growing concern over the influx of illegal drugs from Red China, namely opium and heroin. Opium and heroin have been coming into our country in huge quantities through many illegal channels. Our president is fully aware of the illegal drug traffic coming from Red China and yet as president he fails to act. Before he went to Red China, as early as October he made it clear that any talk about Red China's sale of narcotic drugs was strictly forbidden.

It is a tragedy when our president has opened the doors to these barbaric savages of Communism. The Communists have killed 40 to 70 million people, striking terror, death and starvation to achieve their wicked deeds. These people have no choice but to submit to slavery. Once you permit those "liaison missions" to establish their counterfeit consulates or any other bases in our country, with their diplomatic pouches not even subject to checking, our nation will be flooded with heroin and other dangerous narcotic drugs.

As a concerned American I am going to let Congressmen and Senators know of my concern and I urge everyone else to do likewise. May God have mercy if we don't bring about a change in our nation.

Sincerely yours,

Search Goes On

inches in height and weighing 85 or 90 pounds. He is slender, has black hair, brown eyes and is dark complexioned. When last seen he was wearing black shorts, tennis shoes and was not wearing a shirt.

The owner of a fruit stand positively identified a picture of the boy in a Pittsburgh newspaper as that of a boy who stopped at the stand Sunday afternoon.

The territory where the land search was concentrated was described as "rugged" and at one point last Friday on Piney Mountain the rescue team spent three hours, running into a den of rattlesnakes.

Authorities noted that the youth was swimming at the base of Muddy Creek Falls along with others when he complained of being cold and went to lie down in the sun to get warm. Shortly thereafter authorities said the boy asked one of his friends to go hiking who declined and the Marratto youth then left by himself.

Sunday's air search almost proved costly when it was reported that two national guard helicopters had a "near miss" over route 40 in the Long Stretch area, with operations being conducted in a fog.

On Tuesday the youngster's older brother, Charles, issued an appeal over several radio stations, asking Glenn to go to the nearest main highway and wait to be picked up. The brother said he thought Glenn may fear "reprisals" at home because he had been gone so long.

The intensive search has been an expensive one, some putting the figure at nearly $100,000.

The Rev. Naja was bitterly critical of initial search efforts. "The Sheriff's Department simply didn't recognize its inability to cope with a problem of this size," he stated. He further stated that it wasn't until State Police were in command of search activities was much accomplished. "They have done a fantastic job," Naja said.

According to the report of the Maryland Park Service and the Sheriff's office here is an account of activities. The priest alerted Bob Friend, ranger at Swallow Falls for the Maryland Park service, at 4:30 on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Friend called Charles Thomas, of the Park Service, at 4:50, and was told to notify the sheriff's office. From the sheriff's office it was noted on the log that the original call came on the 14th at 6:43 and two men were dispatched to the scene immediately.

State police and the Deep Creek Fire company were called on Friday morning before 7:30.

The search by authorities and volunteers has continued since that time but with no definite results.

The boy was still missing at 10 o'clock this morning when the last check was made.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

The Bay Model

Within the next few weeks, thousands of Marylanders will have the opportunity to drive across the new parallel Chesapeake Bay bridge on their way to or from our Atlantic resort areas.

The ferry boats that once ran from Kent Island to Sandy Point are gone, of course, and the old bridge has just recently passed its 21st year of service.

Both it and the new bridge are remarkable examples of beauty and engineering skill, and driving across them gives a person the opportunity to observe another marvelous creation: the Chesapeake Bay itself.

The bay and its tributaries are a source of scenic beauty, of recreation, and of economic value that few other places can match.

Preserving the vital resources of the Chesapeake Bay is one of the most important environmental tasks confronting us in the 1970s, and within the past week I took part in ceremonies marking the start of work on what may be our most important tool in that effort.

I am referring to the groundbreaking for the new $15 million hydraulic model of the Chesapeake Bay, to be built by the Army Corps of Engineers at Matapeake, where the ferry boats used to dock at Kent Island.

Although not as monumental or breathtaking as the sweeping curves and arches of the bridges that span the bay, this federally-financed project is just as much, if not more of an engineering marvel.

It will enable marine scientists and engineers to study the workings of the Cheasapeake Bay in minute detail and under controlled conditions.

The bay model is similar to the idea of test basins for ships and wind tunnels for airplanes. Designers and engineers build exact models and then test them under various controlled conditions to see how the boat or plane will respond.

The bay model will be an exact miniature of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. Using it, we will be able to simulate all of the natural or man-made phenomona that do, or could perhaps occur in the vast area of the bay.

The bay model will cover an area of nine acres, and it will be housed in a shelter nearly twice that big. It will have a scale model shoreline of nearly 26 miles to duplicate the almost 7,300 miles of natural shoreline along the Chesapeake.

It will be filled with more than 400,000 gallons af water, and it will be possible to simulate a complete day of tidal cycles in about 30 minutes.

There are numerous research problems that are particularly well-suited to the capabilities of the bay model.

It will be possible to study natural events like flooding and seasonal changes of fresh water flow, or to determine the effect of warm water discharges from power plants into the bay.

By studying currents, it would be possible to determine the best locations for discharge points—both for heated water or treated waste water from industries and sewage treatment plants.

The problem of shoreline erosion could be studied through use of the bay model, and so could the effects of dredging and bulkheading.

In all, the Chesapeake Bay model will be both a valuable research tool and an excellent educational asset in helping us to maintain the beauty and productivity of our bay country.

County Draft

conducted during the last year by the Garrett County Planning Commission and their consultants, Urban Research and Development Corporation.

During the past two months the County Planning Commission has been conducting a series of public information meetings throughout the County. This series will be concluded in the next two weeks with a meeting at the Bloomington Elementary School, June 27, at 8:00 p. m., a meeting at Southern High School Cafetorium, June 28, at 8:00 p. m., and a meeting at Garrett Community College, the specific time to be announced later. The Bloomington meeting will present tentative plans for the Upper Potomac and Savage River Drainage Basins. The Southern meeting will outline plans in the Upper Yough Drainage Basin. The Community College meeting will present the current plans for the Deep Creek Lake Drainage Basin.

Mr. Rickert stated that it is very important at this point to have full citizen participation in the planning process. The Planning Commission urges Interested County citizens to attend any of the scheduled meetings in order that their ideas might be included in the plan prior to its final draft preparation and printing.

ing to help clean up the debris. At least 30 people gathered in to help, and by 11 p. m. the ceiling had been carried away. One employee sustained a minor injury when a light fixture broke.

Mr. Gregg hoped to open the store for business as usual on Thursday, and noted that he plans to replace the ceiling at once.

The cause of the accident, as determined by the insurance company, was not definitely stated, but it was thought that the drafts from constant opening and closing of the doors caused the suspended ceiling to "wave" and weakening the structure until it fell. The cause was definitely NOT the Mt. City Band, which was practicing in the City Hall next door.

Counter Assault Charges Are Made Against Two Men

Two Mt. Lake Park area men have been charged with assault upon each other, one by gun or firearm the other by car last week.

Lawrence Groves has been charged with assault by firing a gun or firearm at Stephen R. Gank five or six times in Loch Lynn June 12. Gank has been charged with spinning wheels, skidding and making excessive noises while running around the block in the same area. One of the shots fired by Groves penetrated Gank's car in the rear. The following day, Gank was charged with assault upon Groves by attempting to hit and strike Groves with his car.

Trial is set for June 25 in District Court.

Juveniles Are Found Delinquent And Neglected

Two juveniles were found to be delinquent and four minor children were found to be neglected by their mother in juvenile court Monday by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, jr., sitting as juvenile judge.

A 16-year-old female of the Oakland area was found to be delinquent by being accessory to robbery and larceny of a car. She was sentenced to the Montrose School for Girls until released by due process of the law. The sentence was suspended under the following conditions: she refrain from any infractions of the law; placed under strict probation for an undetermined period, and to abide by the rules and regulations of the Department of Juvenile Services and placed in the custody of her mother. The court granted transfer of the probation to the Pennsylvania Dept. of Juvenile Probation.

Four minor children of the Deer Park area were found to be neglected by being deserted by their mother. They were ordered placed in foster homes by the Garrett County Dept. of Social Services. The mother, found guilty of deserting her children, was committed to the Commissioner of Correction for one year. The sentence was suspended under the following conditions: she refrain from any infraction of the law, cooperate with the Dept. of Social Services in placing the children in foster homes, and was placed under the supervision of the Department of Parole and Probation for one year.

A 14-year-old male of the Oakland area was charged with being delinquent by reason of assault and battery upon a uniformed officer of the law. At the hearing Monday he pleaded not guilty but was found to be delinquent and ordered committed to the Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene and specifically to the Boys Village until released by due process of the law.

U.S. Senator

Down On The Farm

As anyone who drives across Maryland knows, farming is one of our State's important enterprises. From the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland to the mountainous western counties, many of our citizens make their livelihood from the land. And as every housewife knows, the cost of food in the market is based to a significant extent on the cost of producing that food on farms, not just in Maryland but across the country.

As one who has some experience in farming, I understand and sympathize with the problems that farmers face. As the head of a household, I also am concerned about the high cost of food. As a member of the U.S. Senate, representing the interests of all Marylanders, I had to weigh these factors in the Senate's recent consideration of a new federal farm program.

I voted against this legislation because of its severe negative impact on the national economy. It threatens the best interests of farmers and consumers alike.

The key feature of the farm bill is a new method of determining income payments to farmers by means of "target prices." If market prices remain high, this could result in no income payments for farmers. If prices fall, the government would make up the difference between the "target price" and what farmers receive on the market. Either way, consumers and taxpayers would foot the bill.

The Agriculture Department estimates that the high "target prices" set by the bill could make this new farm program more costly than the present one if food and liber prices drop too far.

Under the present program, which expires this year, farmers receive a variety of income payments regardless of market prices. It is estimated that the present program will cost the government about $2.7 billion this year. The Agriculture Department estimates that costs could increase to $3.8 billion next year under the new bill.

This billion-dollar jump breaks the attempt to hold down the federal budget at a time that calls for fiscal restraint to curb inflation. The bill also locks into our system for years to come some of the worst features of previous farm programs that have meant higher taxes and higher food prices for all Americans.

I am hopeful that the House of Representatives, in its consideration of federal farm programs, will see fit to restructure this legislation in accordance with what clearly are our best national interests.

Driver Found Nat Guilty

The tractor-trailer driver involved in an accident at Oak and Third streets last Thursday morning was found not guilty of making an improper turn, in District Court this week.

Charles J. Cramer, Albright, was found not guilty of making a right turn in contradiction to lane markings. It has been said that a rig cannot possibly make a right turn at that point from the designated lane.

Twelve Are Killed On State Highways

Twelve persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to Sergeant James E. Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Three of those killed were drivers, one was a passenger and eight were pedestrians. The opinion of the investigating officers was that death might have been prevented in at least two of the collisions had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths, speed in eight and "driver error" in eight.

Persons killed through June 17 totaled 378 compared to 368 for the same period last year.

ABBIE V. BROWNING

Yesterday, June 20, Mrs. Browning celebrated her 84th birthday. What many people don't realize is that she's still active in our business. Each week it is her duty to count our store coupons. This is a very time-consuming and important job. Since the net profit in a large supermarket is now below 1%, it is important that we have fast, accurate service on these coupons. For the past ten years Grandma has been doing this job exclusively.

Mrs. Browning's first job in 1908 was with P. T. Garthright in Mt. Lake Park who operated a small general store. For the past 65 years she has been involved in store business. She loves to work and keep busy. She states that she'd be out at Foodland right now if her legs would hold up. Basically, Grandma enjoys excellent health. In addition to her coupon duties, she enjoys taking care of her house, cooking, and watching TV.

Grandma had eight children. Four of her sons are still active in the family business. One daughter lives in Staten Island, New York and two daughters and one son are deceased. She has 24 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. In reminiscing, Mrs. Browning says that her most memorable days are the "good old days" in Deer Park. The Brownings operated a small store in that area from 1915 to 1925. The complete story of the Browning business success is featured in this June's issue of the Glades Star.

All of us at Foodland are proud of Grandma. It was her hard work in the past that has given us all jobs today. We want to take this opportunity on her 84th birthday to say "Thank You".

Decision Brings Strip Mining End On State Land

In a decision that will put an end to strip mining in the Savage River state forest, the Maryland attorney general has ruled that the state can end strip mining on its lands July 1.

The ruling, released Saturday by Francis B. Burch, held that a law passed last year prohibited strip mining on state-owned land after July 1, supersedes all permits that extend beyond that date.

It gives the State Department of Natural Resources a long-awaited legal club to halt mining operations of the Buffalo Coal company in the state forest land in Garrett county.

The state had opened negotiations last month with the Georges Creek Coal and Land company, Uniontown, Pa., that holds mineral rights to the land in Savage River state forest, to purchase the company's mineral rights as soon as possible.

The Buffalo company held the stripping permit. It had been mining there for two years and received its last permit from the state in October, 1972, to strip 75 acres. The permits have no expiration date but expire when the designated acreage is exhausted.

In his opinion, Burch said, "We have no doubt that the terms of issuance authorize the state to cancel the permits and put an end in strip operations in the areas in which they apply."

The bill was sponsored by Sen. Julian L. Lapides (D-Baltimore). It permits the use of state open space funds to purchase mineral rights on state-owned lands.

Burch continued, "We conclude that permits for open-pit mining of state-owned lands outstanding on July 1, 1973, the effect date, will stand revoked by the operation of law on that date. Our conclusion is reinforced by the fact that the statute was amended to postpone its effective date from July 1, 1972, to July 1, 1973."

Police Collect $170 For Kidney Fund

Fraternal Order of Police, Mt. Lodge 40, turned over $170 to the Brian Beachy Kidney fund on Wednesday, June 20.

The money has been raised through a basketball game between the Maryland State Police and Radio Station WMSG held earlier this year.

President of Mt. Lodge 40, Cpl. Stephen Russell, made the presentation to Richard Stanton, treasurer for the fund, at the First National Bank.

According to David Beachy, Brian's father, his condition is stable at present as he awaits a matching kidney.

He, his mother and brother were at their home in Pleasant Valley over the weekend, returning to Richmond early Monday morning.

Total collected to date for the fund is $20,942.46, amassed since the first of January, about one month after Brian entered the Richmond Medical Center for removal of his kidney.

Prices Increase For School Lunch

In action at the June meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education, student lunches were increased from $.30 to $.35 and adult lunches from $.40 to $.45 for the 1973-74 school year. The major reason for the price increases was the increased food costs in operating the programs.

The Board of Education in other action also approved its FY 1974 Budget within the framework established by available local and state funds. While Federal funds in some areas are still uncertain, the total approved budget is about $177,000 less than requested by the Board of Education.

In other action, the Board approved the Title I Project for FY 1974. This project will continue services started in schools that have high concentrations of low social-economic levels who have special learning problems.

Phone Directory Out This Week

A new feature of the 1973 telephone directory is a list of tips to help one find a phone number quickly and easily. "How to Use the White Pages" is on page 16 of the Call Guide in the front of the new phone book.

Copies of the Garrett County telephone directory will be arriving at homes or business places beginning June 20.

Persons will also receive a "Personal Phone Book" for making their own directory of frequently called numbers.

Another important change is the revised list and map of area codes for long distance calling. Beginning June 24, Virginia will get a second area code: 804. The new area code, 804, will then be used to call the central and eastern half of the state, including Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News, Williamsburg, Lynchburg, Danville, and the Eastern Shore area.

Here are some other ways the latest telephone directory will be useful:

—To look up any one of about 7,700 phone numbers in the white pages.

—To keep a personal number list—on page 1.

—To get the latest emergency numbers, such as the new FBI number—on the inside front cover.

—To learn about the penalties for fraudulent use of telephone service. Chtek the Call Guide in the front pages.

—To find out how long distance calls can be made at the lowest rates— both within Maryland and to other states. This information is also in the Call Guide.

—To get the new number for the C and P employment office listed in the Call Guide.

—To locate up-to-date numbers for forest wardens See the last page of the white pages section.

—To look up local businesses and professional people listed in the Yellow Pages section, which covers about 125 pages.

—To find zip codes for nearby post offices. See page 2 in the Yellow Pages.

Frank H. Eberly, Jr., manager for the C and P Telephone Company said, "These are only some of the helpful items in the directory.

"We hope each customer will take a few minutes to become familiar with the new phone book. Then when you need a phone number, or some information about your service, you will know just where to look in the directory."

The cover on this year's book features the Savage River, Maryland's only "instant river" —so called because it can be turned on or off from the Savage River reservoir.

As the cover story in the directory points out the river has suddenly become a mecca for top white-water canoe and kayak races and the first U. S. Olympic White Water Trials were held there last July.

Delivery of about 10,000 of the new telephone directories should be completed by July 3, Mr. Eberly said.

MADE FOR MAN

Lesson for June 24, 1973

Background Scripture: Exodus 20 8-11; Mark 2:23-28; Luke 14:16-23; 14:1-6; Hebrews 10:25.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 122.

There are two very extreme ways in which people often respond to the Fourth Commandment: "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy."

On one hand there are those who are very legalistic in their approach. On the other, there are those who simply ignore it altogether.

Rev. Althouse

When Jesus pursued his ministry, he encountered mostly those who were overly legalistic in their response to this commandment. The scribes and Pharisees were very strict in their prohibition against work of any kind on the sabbath. For example, it was forbidden to look in a mirror on the sabbath, for one might be tempted to pluck out a hair and this would be "reaping," and thus laboring on the sabbath. It was also forbidden on the sabbath to bathe, because the steam from the hot water might cleanse the floor, and this would be regarded as forbidden work.

On keeping it holy

To us, these interpretations may seem quite ridiculous, but to the Pharisees, they were of the utmost importance. We can see, then, how Jesus came into conflict with this legalism. Frequently Jesus performed works of healing on the sabbath. This, the Pharisees regarded as contrary to the prohibition of all labor. In addition, they had seen his disciples walking through grain fields on the sabbath and plucking some of the ears of grain. This, the Pharisees interpreted as "reaping," and a violation of the sabbath laws.

How could Jesus justify this apparently flagrant violation of the commandment? The key, he points out, is not in determining what is work and what is not, but in discovering the purpose for which the sabbath was intended. "I ask you," said Jesus, "is it lawful on the sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to destroy it?" Jesus took them beyond the letter of the law to the purpose of the law and it was here that they found the answer.

Behind the letter of the law

On another occasion, Jesus put it even more simply: "The sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath." The way the scribes and Pharisees acted, the sabbath was meant as something which men should serve obediently. Yet, says Jesus, the purpose of the sabbath was to help man, to enrich him, to bring him that much-needed "change-of-pace."

The whole reason, then, that men are to keep the sabbath "holy" is for their own good, their own enrichment. The observance of the sabbath, then, is not some whimsical demand which God lays upon us, but another evidence of his concern for our welfare.

If this is so, then, it is not enough for us to avoid being legalistic about the Fourth Commandment, for neither can we afford going to the other extreme of ignoring this commandment which was made for man and his own good.

Pennington Cottage Will Be Open To Public This Summer

Garrett county visitors and residents will have an opportunity to see gracious living, circa 1900, during this summer when Pennington Cottage will be open to the public.

The cottage, located about 3 miles east of Mt. Lake Park on the old Oakland-Deer Park Road, retains its aura of leisured luxury through efforts of its current owners, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Faulkner.

The cottage will be open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. during the summer. Admission and tour fee is 75 cents per person.

The fourteen-room home has been completely repaired inside and out and repainted, papered, varnished and polished within.

Basic history of the Pennington cottage follows, courtesy Mrs. Faulkner, Paul Calderwood and Robert B. Garrett, historians for the "Glades Star."

"The Penningon Cottage, which is located on the north side of the old and once famous Deer Park Hotel Resort, Deer Park, was designed and built by Josias Pennington in 1892. This is a large three-story summer cottage with fourteen rooms. On the first floor is the reception hall, living room, dining room, kitchen and laundry room. The main stairs leads from the reception hall to the second floor which has four chambers, two baths and large hall. The servants' stairs leads from the back hall to the 3rd floor which has five bed rooms and bath and a trunk room.

"Mr. Josias Pennington was a member of the firm of Baldwin and Pennington, prominent architects of Baltimore. Among the buildings designed by the Baldwin and Pennington Firm were the Baltimore Police Department Headquarters, the addition to the State House at Annapolis and the Passenger Car Roundhouse at Mount Clare, now the B and O Railroad Transportation Museum, Baltimore.

"The Pennington family with their servants came to this summer home yearly until about 1919, remaining until about the first of October when the Hotel closed. As was the practice, in those days the family brought their horses and carriages with them from Baltimore.

"The cottage is now restored and contains mush of the original furniture. Also, some furniture of that period has been purchased and installed. The piazza, which was also rebuilt, is one of the largest in the county, if not the largest, and has the original porch furniture."

Sermonette By Area Ministers

"GET LOST!"

Scripture: Matthew 10:39

"Get Lost!" I heard a girl say to her younger brother. The small fry was annoying his sister, and she had other vital matters to settle.

"Get lost!" is something human beings do. A doctor went to the Sahara desert to cure an incipient case of tuberculosis. He had heard that there were about 150,000 people wandering across the desert, a wild people, called Blue Warriors. Members of the French Foreign Legion used to be told that it was better to commit suicide than to be captured by the Blue Warriors. This remarkable French physician (Dr. Jaeques Deschamps) became a friend of these friendless people. He was sure that the Master knew that the only way to live, to really live is "to lose one's self" in service for others. The Bedouins call him "The Doctor with the Fire in his heart." This physician "Got lost" in the needs of others, and in getting lost found life.

There are two ways to get lost, our way and Christ's way. Our way is the way Scarlett O'Hara took in Gone With The Wind. Remember when she came back to Tara, the once beautiful old plantation home after the Civil War battle of Atlanta? She found her mother dead and her father insane. The house still stood, but nearly everything had been stolen. There wasn't even a morsel of food to eat. Ravenously hungry, Scarlett went into the garden, and scratching the earth with her fingers came up with a carrot. She chewed it for a moment; then in deep bitterness shook her fists at the skies and cried, "O God, I'll never be hungry again! I'll lie, steal, cheat, I'll do anything, but I'll never be hungry again!" This is one way to get lost. We're going to be realists. We are not going to be hungry again. You can have a full stomach, a full garage, a full boathouse and bank account, and still have an empty heart.

The Master's way of getting lost ends in finding life with a capital "L." I once knew a man who had what the late Lloyd Douglas called a "magnificent obsession." He kept on doing little acts of helpfulness for people he discovered needed help. A note would come, with "folding money" tucked into it to some one who was up against it, could'nt meet all the bills. This note would never be signed by the donor, and of course he couldn't deduct the actual cash as a charitable donation. He'd almost sneak up to a man or woman, boy or girl, who was doing a good joh and tell them so. He did many acts of kind, and of love, and tried not to let anyone know that he did them. He believed as the Bible says that when you helped with your right hand, not even your left hand should know about it.

To get lost in our self-centered way means spiritual anemia and finally spiritual death. To get lost in His way means life. How about getting lost His way?

Pastor Observes Silver Jubilee

Rev. Kenny R. Cox, OFM. Cap., pastor of St. Stephen's Catholic Church, Grantsville, and St. Ann's Church, Avilton, marked his silver jubilee as a priest at a concelebrated mass, Sunday, June 17, in SS. Peter and Paul Church.

Father Cox was born May 22, 1919, at New Philadelphia, Ohio, and he was ordained June 8, 1948, in the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, by Most Rev. Bishop John M. McNamara.

His assignments before coming to this section last year were: St. Fidelis College and Seminary, professor of classical languages; St. Richard's Church, Rimersburg, Pa., administrator; St. Joseph's Church, Cabot, Pa., pastor; St. Mary's Church, West Winfield, Pa., pastor; St. Joseph's Church, Hays, Kansas, associate pastor and Our Lady of the Angels Eucharistic Shrine, St. Louis, coordinator of religious activities.

A buffet lunch was given in honor of Father Cox June 10 by members of St. Ann's and St. Stephen's Catholic Churches, at St. Ann's Hall in Avilton. A money tree was presented to Father Cox by members of both parishes. He was also presented a cake in honor of his Silver Jubilee.

Maryland Tourist Brochure Available

The 1st page of the new Maryland Tourist Brochure the question is asked: "What is Maryland?" The ensuing 44 pages in full color and black and white give both visual and written answers.

Written and produced by the Maryland Department of Econnomic and Community Development's Division of Tourist Development, the brochure contains 24 pages of full color pictures which show the wide variety attractions available to tourists in the State. In addition, it contains a 20-page Maryland Guidebook which describes in detail the various sections of the State, things to see and do, and travel and accommodations available to the traveler.

The new brochure will be made available to travel agents, tour operators and others who influence the travel decisions of the public. In addition, it will be sent in response to inquiries about Maryland promoted by the State's national tourism advertising campaign.

No Outside Care

The advertisement sounds like heaven on earth. "You don't have to mow the lawn, shovel walks, paint the outside or fix the roof, the condominium association you and your neighbors control takes care of these worries." In essence, the words mean that you simply pay your fee and forget about those troublesome menial tasks.

But are they really so troublesome?

When you go to the gardening department of a large store, there stand the near-empty shelves of fertilizer and plant food at a sowing time of year. Drive around the next group of apartments and see window boxes perched three stories up, or find a patio done in tiers of flowers and vegetables to satisfy the growing sense of the occupant. Green, live decorations add to the tasteful appearance of any living quarters.

There are some people who vow no interest in getting to the soil, or in working with plants. They are occupied with one field of endeavor, or have a type of sport which fills their leisure, which is fine. These may be as fulfilling for them as seeing leaves and stems emerge from a seed they have put into the earth, but I daresay that at times they would like to sit in cushiony grass, chase a bug, or watch a blossom from someone else's planting. Abraham Lincoln rightly said, "Every blade of grass is a study, and to produce two, where there was but one, is both a profit and a pleasure." Artificial plants only reflect what we feel is the substitute for a little portion of God from something He is doing, not what man is re-creating from Him in another form. Francis Bacon's statement proves itself with the most sopisticated: "God Almighty first planted a garden. And indeed, it is the purest of human pleasures."

We are told that many frustrations will pass away and the attack on a problem may be easier after the rigors of physical work. Gardening may be such an answer, as it was for one lady who was advised that her daily therapy was to dig a hole and then slowly refill it. What happened was that she began to plant things in the holes, and surprised herself by developing a beautiful yard instead of nursing anxieties.

Napoleon's biographer, Emil Ludwig, tells us that during the last year of the French emperior's life, he armed his servants on St. Helena with shovels, rakes, and axes to make "a verdant bower" for himself. By reclaiming some sea land, lengthening a ditch, and constructing a wall, he used his energies to create a wonder. Flowers, bushes, and twenty-four fruit trees are imported to add to the scheme of beauty for one who had had at his disposal all the gardens of Paris and Italy. The daughter of his enemy, Sir Hudson Lowe, governor of Napoleon's prison, came to see it, and Ludwig terms it the last miracle wrought by Napoleon. Those people who never give up their touch with the elements, particularly the soil sliding through their fingers, would agree. A condominium with "no outside care" would be the biggest burden of all.

Now's the Time to Butter Up:

Butter lovers—take note!! The price of butter is down! Now's the time to bone up on how to buy it.

You'll find the U. S. Department of Agriculture grade shield on many packages of butter in the refrigerated case of your favorite grocery store.

U. S. Grade AA butter is top quality. Made from high quality, fresh sweet cream, it has a delicate, sweet flavor; smooth, creamy texture with good spreadability; and salt completely dissolved and blended in just the right amount to enhance the butter's savory quality. Grade A butter, also made from fresh cream, has a pleasing flavor and fairly smooth texture. Grade B butter, which is made from sour cream, may have a slightly acid flavor. Some consumers prefer the characteristic taste of this grade.

Did you know you can freeze butter? If you usually buy a quarterstick a week, you may be able to save a few cents by buying a pound and freezing part of it. Butter can be safely frozen for up to a month without loss of quality.

Because of its delicate flavor and aroma, butter should always be stored in the original protective wrapping or container until ready for use. Unprotected butter readily absorbs other refrigerator food odors.

For convenience in spreading butter on toast and sandwiches, try the whipped variety. It's regular butter that has been homogenized to a smoother and softer consistency. Whipping increases the volume of butter, so use one third to one half more in recipes calling for regular butter measured by volume (tablespoons or cups). Of course, if the measurement is by weight (¼-pound or ½-pound), you can use the same amount.

Independence Day, 1973

Firm action in defense of freedom is this country's oldest tradition. It is the foundation on which the independence we celebrate next week will remain secure as long as we honor it.

From the Industrial Press Service we are informed that actually the shooting began more than a year before the Declaration of Independence was signed. In the spring of 1775 the British commander in Boston learned that the patriots of Massachusetts had assembled ammunition and other military equipment at Concord, 16 miles away.

He sent a force of eight hundred men to destroy the munitions. When six miles from Concord, at Lexington, seventy armed men stood their ground on the village green and the British army fired the first shots. They proceeded to Concord where Emerson's "embattled" farmers' hid most of the munitions and withstood the British assault.

We are further told that the battle aroused the colonies and, by the end of the summer, the power of the royal governors was destroyed and provincial congresses were formed. The idea that independence was essential to freedom became widely accepted and ultimately was spelled out in the Declaration of Independence.

Right now we are in a battle to preserve that freedom that is eating away from within. It is necessary that we defend that branch of freedom with the same fervor that the army of the Revolution defended freedom. And this must be done with a return to morality and a true practice of our religious heritage. Such will insure a celebration of Independence Day in the years to come.

Friendsville Water System Funds Approved

Program Okay Is Announced By Senators Beall, Mathias

Funding for all three parts of Friendsville's three-phase water and sewerage system was approved this week, Sen. J. Glenn Beall and Sen. Charles Mc. Mathias jointly announced Wednesday of this week.

For the water distribution system, the Appalachian Regional Commission has approved $720,000, to be matched by $180,000 local funds. Total cost is estimated to be $900,000.

The sewage collection system has received an ARC grant of $3(3,000 to be matched by $93,000 from local funds. Total cost of this phase is $466,000. Some matching funds for the above will be provided by the Farmers Home Administration.

The Environmental Protection Agency has announced the award of $470,250 toward $627,000 total costs of the waste treatment facility.

Total cost of all three projects is $1,993,000.

Friendsville had begun concentrated efforts to find ways to improve existing water and sewerage conditions in the town in February, 1972.

Pittsburgh Lad Still Missing; Search Lessens

Belief Is General That He Deliberately Left Area

Authorities in Maryland and Pennsylvania continue to search for Glenn Marratto, 13 of Pittsburgh, who disappeared June 14 from the Swallow Falls State park, but on a limited basis.

There was some hope that the boy had made a collect telephone call from a pay station along U. S. route 40, and that eventually the mystery would be solved. A telephone operator, returning from a vacation trip, told authorities she definitely remembered a boy by that name making a collect call to a Pittsburgh resident. Such calls are sent through a computer and there was some delay in getting the collect call traced. It turned out to have been the boy's brother who made the call so the solution was no nearer. But the belief was general that he had deliberately wandered away and was on a trip of his own making.

Capt. Teresa Rocco, of the Missing Persons division, Pittsburgh Police department is now assisting in the investigation. Nothing new has developed locally.

Sheriff Jack Browning of Oakland had said his men had been discouraged by published reports which were critical of the search. Answering the criticism the sheriff said that his men had been working 16 to 18 hours each day and the area in which it was believed the boy may have wandered was gone over twice. Scuba divers, helicopters, blood hounds and numerous volunteers had assisted in the search for the boy. He pointed out that volunteers must work for a living and are not available every day to help search.

It also was reported that an individual had contacted the offices of the President, U. S. Senators Charles McC. Mathias Jr., of Maryland, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, as well as governors Marvin Mandel of Maryland and Milton Shapp, Pennsylvania.

The sheriff said one source of contention was that the Maryland State Police had not been in charge of the search. As a 28-year veteran of the State Police Sheriff Browning said he was appreciative of State Police efforts and was willing to cooperate with any individual or group.

Mining Ban To Be Challenged By Mine Firms

Coal mining interests are arranging to file suit challenging an order to halt strip mining operations on state-owned land Maryland's natural resources secretary, announced this week.

James B. Coulter, the secretary, told a meeting of the state Board of Public Works that he had met with the mining interests to discuss the end of surface mining in Savage River state forest, and officials of the Buffalo Coal company and the Georges Creek Coal company told him they plan to file suit challenging the state law requiring an end to operations on state property as of July 1.

The coal interests will ask the courts to stay the effective date of the law and if unsuccessful, will seek monetary compensation.

Coulter said he felt an out of court settlement could be reached. He said the settlement would include a state payment for the loss of mining privileges in the forest and possibly could grant the companies as much as a year to complete mining operations on veins already exposed in about eight to twelve acres of forest.

He told the board that the state and coal companies had discussed money but he declined to say how much the private interests are asking from the state in return for relinquishing rights to the coal.

He said he thought the settlement could be financed out of already budgeted open space monies. Coulter later said such available funds total $800,000. Pending any court rulings the coal interests have agreed to halt operations by July 1.

Work

Now there's a word for you. It conjures up the vision of a man with pick and shovel or a lady with the washer and hand wringer. To many people the word "work" so emphatic that it immediately begins to grind away at our energy, defeating us at once.

In this writer's mind there dwell images of various types of work, one whose pattern is to expend short efforts and waste time in between them; another who seems to turn out tasks with gentle, placid movements; another who accomplishes, but is not satisfied to rejoice in his finished piece and turn to a different endeavor. Last of all, the minority of people who speak of and treat their field of work as the joy of years of training that they would be pained to leave it.

Many times we feel up-tight, think, If only I didn't have so much work. Then a predicted vacation or illness reminds us

Psalms 33: 12-22 from The LIVING BIBLE

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, whose people he has chosen as his own. The Lord gazes down upon mankind from heaven where he lives. He has made their hearts and closely watches everything they do. The best-equipped army cannot save a king; for great strength is not enough to save anyone. A war horse is a poor risk for winning victories—it is strong but it cannot save. But the eyes of the Lord are watching over those who fear him, who rely upon his steady love. He will keep them from death even in times of famine. We depend upon the Lord alone to save us. Only he can help us; he protects us like a shield. No wonder we are happy in the Lord! For we are trusting him. We trust his holy name. Yes, Lord, let your constant love surround us, for our hopes are in you alone.

Religious Heritage of America

Our German immigrants gave us superb examples of what it means to be satisfied with work. The Pennsylvania German often lived in improved shacks and built a sturdy barn for each farmer so that he could harvest his first year crop, then each homestead gained a house, never ornate or flimsy, but often plain and rectangular, a tribute to industry and practicality. Pennsylvania retains today these monuments of stone and brick which are still in use. The older generation agreed with Voltaire, who said: "Shun idleness. It is a rust that attaches itself to the most brilliant of metals." I doubt that many of our Garrett County settlers who carry the German names of Wilhelm Hoenig, Garlitz or Brenneman had too much rust in their constitutions. Scheidler made a study in 1962 which indicates that this idea is still prevalent in Germany, where people who were questioned about the purpose of the declining years stated that in aging you restore the capacity to work and keep on working to enjoy life to its very end.

Perhaps the greatest complaint about workers in our age of affluence is that no one seems virtually that without work there is a vast aimlessness in living, a forgetting that there is a definite purpose in one's existence, a losing placed on this old "toil."

Preserving Maryland's Historic Past

Maryland is a place where the past and the future blend together to make the present. It is a state where space satellite and space communications equipment are being built. It is a place where medical research is advancing the science of healing human ills. It is a state where almost everything the mind of man has attempted to do is being done. And yet, it is also a place where the old still abides alongside the changing times in which the future sometimes seems frightening. We are not alone because we are not aware of the presence of Maryland's past.

The children of Maryland learn about their historical roots in places like Antietam and Fort McHenry, in St. Mary's City where religious toleration first began in this country, at Fort Frederick, at Annapolis, and at St. Michaels on the Eastern Shore where some of the most humorous as well as the most courageous episodes of American history were played out. I think it is important that these historic resources be preserved as integral parts of our lives because without them we may well feel cut loose from our moorings and unsure of the ways we should go in the future because we have lost the guidance of the past.

One historic area which is now facing some crucial dangers is the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park which runs a distance of about 185 miles from the District of Columbia to Cumberland in Allegany County. This scenic park was one of the major victims of last spring's Tropical Storm Agnes. The storm created monumental damage throughout the park, not the least of which was the washing out of the canal walls and the seriously limited the use of the park as a major recreation center for boating, fishing, hiking, and bicycling.

I am hopeful that the National Park Service will be able to obtain the funds necessary for prompt restoration of the Canal. I am pleased to be able to report that the original $30 million damage estimate has been reduced, after a careful survey of the situation, to a more manageable sum. I also have the assurance of Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton that funding of the restoration is at the top of his list of priorities for the

Fourteen Killed On State Highways

Fourteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to Sergeant James E. Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Eleven of the killed were drivers, two were passengers and one was a pedestrian. The opinion of the investigating officers was that death might have been prevented in at least four of the collisions had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in ten and "driver error" in eleven.

Persons killed through June 21 totaled 392 compared to 380 for the same period a year ago.

Black Lung Program Due To Be Transferred

Although responsibility for administering the Black Lung program will be transferred to the U. S. Department of Labor on July 1, Social Security offices will continue to accept black lung benefit claims as a service to miners and their families, it was stated by James E. Robertson, district manager of Social Security, Cumberland.

Under the 1972 amendments to the Black Lung Law, the Department of Labor will be responsible for miners' black lung claims filed on or after July 1. Money to pay the benefits will continue to come from Federal general revenues through 1973; beginning in 1974, benefits and payments for medical treatment will be paid by those coal mine operators who are found liable for them under the law.

The timetable is a bit different for Labor's takeover of claims by survivors of miners who have died, but most of these claims also will be under Department of Labor jurisdiction by January 1, 1974. There is one exception: if a miner is receiving black lung benefits from the Social Security Administration at his death, any benefits due his survivors may also be paid by SSA, no matter when the death occurs.

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever is typical of the kind asked of me happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked me.

Who regulates the telephone industry?

Regulatory jurisdiction over the telephone industry is divided between the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and the State commissions. The FCC regulates interstate message toll calls, commonly referred to as long distance calls. The State commissions regulate intrastate message toll calls and local exchange calls even in instances where the boundaries of the exchange area overlap state lines. In terms of plant investment, the FCC exercises jurisdiction over approximately 25 percent of the Bell system while the State commissions exercise authority over the remaining 75 percent, and over virtually all of the independent telephone companies.

Can a veteran's VA compensation be lowered if his Social Security benefits are increased?

No. VA does not count any income against compensation for service-connected disabilities and that includes Social Security payments. However, income is a factor for pensions for non-service connected disabilities.

How many U. S. troops are currently stationed in Europe?

According to the Defense Department, 307,000 troops were in Europe as of December 31, 1972.

Where can I hunt black bear in Maryland?

Black bear has been categorized as an endangered species and as such is subject to a closed season.

What was Maryland's share from the Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund this year.

The Interior Department informs me that Maryland was apportioned $3.5 million from the Land and Water Conservation Fund for fiscal year 1973. The purpose of the fund is to insure open space and recreation opportunities for present and future generations through land acquisition. Also included in the fund is the Federal surplus property program which transfers to State and local agencies, at no cost, Federal surplus real property suitable for park and recreation use.

Please tell me how to go about ordering tickets for the weekly summer parades at the Marine Barracks?

Seating and parking arrangements for the colorful and inspirational Marine Barracks Evening Parades may be made by calling the Adjutant of the Marine Barracks at (202) 543-1601. It is suggested that reservations be made at least two weeks in advance. For your information, the Friday evening parades will extend through mid-September.

Does the Civil Service still give the examinations for postal jobs?

No. The U. S. Postal Service has assumed responsibility for employment examinations for Postal Service job applicants as part of its new responsibilities under the Postal Reorganization Act.

A SPECIAL PRIVILEGE PROFESSION?

A considerable controversy has been generated in the press over the refusal of newsmen to divulge information to grand juries investigating criminal acts. There have recently been eight such incidents, ranging in locations from Massachusetts to California. The newsmen defied orders of grand juries and claimed the First Amendment gave them a special privilege to withhold information even if subpoenaed in criminal proceedings. Some went to jail.

The issue of special privilege for newsmen now has reached the U.S. Supreme Court. The "law of the land" has been established denying the newsmen immunity from disclosure of confidential information to grand juries and courts.

The public has a vital stake in all phases of the controversy. The Supreme Court has held, in effect, that if a criminal can escape jury indictment and court conviction because of the lack of evidence which might have been supplied by a newsman the public interest is jeopardized. The court says the constitution grants a newsman no such special privilege.

Since Congress is being pressured to enact "shield" laws to circumvent the Supreme Court's interpretation of the U.S. Constitution, concerned citizens should understand clearly the facts involved and the issues being argued. As a journalist for more than 35 years, I honor the profession and contend that most news media are honest and responsible. I support the claim of confidentiality of reporters' sources — except where transcendent public interest is involved.

Three cases reached the U.S. Supreme Court.

Justice Byron White, who wrote the majority opinion, states the issue and the decision tersely: "The issue in these cases is whether requiring newsmen to appear and testify before State or Federal grand juries abridges the freedom of speech and press guaranteed by the First Amendment. We hold that it does not." The newsmen involved were Paul M. Branzburg of the Louisville Courier-Journal, Paul Pappas, television newsman-photographer, of Providence, Rhode Island; and Earl Caldwell, reporter for the New York Times. All three claimed immunity from the common law requiring testimony under subpoena.

The Supreme Court opinion said: "The sole issue before us in the obligation of reporters to respond to grand jury subpoenas as other citizens do and to answer question relevant to an investigation into the commission of crime. Citizens generally are not constitutionally immune from grand jury subpoenas; and neither the First Amendment nor other constitutional provision protects the average citizen from disclosing to a grand jury information that he has received in confidence. The claim is, however, that reporters are exempt from these obligations because if forced to respond to subpoenas and identify their sources or disclose other confidences, their informants will refuse or be reluctant to furnish newsworthy information in the future.

"We are admonished that refusal to provide a First Amendment reporter's privilege will undermine the freedom of the press to collect and disseminate news. But this is not the lesson history teaches us. From the beginning of our country the press has operated without constitutional protection for press informants, and the press has flourished."

The Supreme Court points out that no court or grand jury is asking newsmen for confidential information — unless it is deemed necessary for indictment or prosecution for criminal acts. The media is split on the issue, but powerful elements are pressuring Congress for "total and absolute" immunity from grand jury subpoenas requiring testimony. Our courts must remain all-powerful in safeguarding the public from criminal elements and they cannot retain their effectiveness, it seems to me, if the mere designation "newsman" permits anyone to defy a common law applicable to all.

Summons To Greatness

"Summons to Greatness," is a collection of inspirational thoughts and practical ideas from the messages and addresses of Richard M. Nixon, president of the United States.

Here is another one of the messages:

"Let us build bridges to human dignity across that gulf which today separates black America from white America. Black Americans don't want more government programs which perpetuate dependency. They don't want to be a colony in a nation.

"They want the pride, the self-respect and the dignity that can only come if they have an equal chance to own their own homes, their own businesses, to be managers and executives as well as workers, to have a piece of the action in the exciting ventures of private enterprise.

"No man can be fully free while his neighbor is not. To go forward at all is to go forward together. This means black and white together, as one nation, not two.

"The laws have caught up with our conscience. What remains is to give life to what is in the law: to insure at last that as all are born equal in dignity, before God, all are born equal in dignity before man.

"It is time to move past the old civil rights, and to bridge the gap between freedom and dignity, between promise and fulfillment.

"A president can ask for reconciliation in the racial conflict that divides Americans. But reconciliation will come only from the hearts of people.

"We can fulfill the American dream only when each person has a fair chance to fulfill his own dreams. This means equal voting rights, equal employment opportunity, and new opportunities for expanded ownership. Because in order to be secure in their human rights, people need access to property rights.

"In a free society, the rights of none are secure unless the rights of all are respected."

Sermonette By Area Ministers

Excuse me, please!

Excuses sometimes become humorous. Someone invites you to come to their home and you think up an excuse. You say "I promised my wife I would clean the basement;" or "My husband has been looking awful tired lately, I should stay home with him."

It is really funny, for both you and your friend know it is only an excuse. It is a polite way of saying, "I don't want to come." For if you wanted to go, none of these things would prevent you. Both of you stand there exchanging superficial niceties in order to avoid offense. But the offense is there anyway, because both of you know the truth.

Jesus told a story which is found in Luke 14:16-20 that is called "The parable of the Great Supper." The story concerns a certain prominent citizen who prepared a great banquet and invited many guests. But they all made excuses and refused to come. One man said "I have just bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it; I pray thee have me excused." Another said "I have just bought five yoke of oxen and I must go to test them. I pray have me excused." The third man said: "I have just married a wife and therefore I cannot come."

This is a fairly accurate picture of life, as is presents three classifications into which you can put just about everything we do. The first represents the Property Owner, he had just bought a piece of real estate. It is not wrong to own property. We all need a home. But that home should not keep you from attending the church of your choice on the Sabbath day. Many folks hoe their gardens on God's day and let weeds grow in their soul. Some spend the day working on the lawn, painting the home, or even building a home. Our priorities reveal what we really are. If we are really Christian in heart, we will put God first in our lives.

The second man represents Business, for he had just bought five yoke of oxen, and they were to be his means of making a living. Of course, it is not sinful to work. The dignity of labor is taught throughout the Bible. But the business man must be honest if he wants God's blessings on his life. A truck load of furniture caught fire in transit and was a total loss. But the factory owners claimed the loss of many pieces of furniture that were not really on the truck. When the insurance company settled their false claim, one of the owners said it was "Just a little velvet."

The third man represents our Social Relations, for he had just married a wife. The home was God's first institution. It is the basic unit of society. We all need fellowship. But our friends refuse to obey the Lord, we must not allow them to hinder us from doing so. Sunday must not become Funday. God's day is often used as a time to take long trips with family or friends. The day is spent with boats, bets and beer. Many arrive home late Sunday night in a state of exhaustion. It takes them a couple of days to recover.

The point Jesus was trying to make was that every day people use their holdings in this world, their business activities, and their social ties as excuses for refusing to come to God's great feast.

Rev. C. R. Stouffer, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Oakland.

Inspection Law Includes Light Trucks, Trailers

Beginning August 1st, certain used trucks and trailers must be inspected before they can be registered in this state.

According to State Motor Vehicle Adm. Ejner J. Johnson, all used trucks up to ¾ ton and used trailers 35 feet in length used for human habitation will be subject to the inspection requirements to be established by the Motor Vehicle Administration and the Maryland State Police.

An additional two dollar fee will be charged for each such vehicle titled to defray the cost of administering the State inspection program.

Johnson added that the vehicles must be inspected at an authorized inspection station licensed by the Maryland State Police. Since not all inspection facilities may be equipped to inspect all types of vehicles, Mr. Johnson advised motorists to check with the facility before taking a vehicle in for an inspection. Inspection stations for Class A passenger cars and trucks up to ¾ tons will be designated by the letter "A" following the inspection station number, while inspection stations equipped to handle trailers will be designated by the letter "T".

MAROLYN JOHNSON

This week from our meat department, we'd like you to meet Marolyn Johnson. Marolyn has four years experience in meat preparation, wrapping and display. Prior to coming to our company, she worked for many years as a cook at Cee Dee Restaurant. Her knowledge of food and quality standards have been very beneficial to our meat department.

Marolyn was in charge of all pizza and sandwich preparation for several years. It was she who initiated these items for us and it proved to be an instant success. Her quality built the sales of these items to a massive production level. Until recently Marolyn spent most of her time on these deli items. Now, we have shifted the production of sandwiches and pizza to our Yum Yum Shoppe and Marolyn spends most of her time wrapping and displaying meat items.

We're proud to have Marolyn as an employee for she is a wonderful person who goes out of her way to help others. Her enthusiasm, interest and fine personality make her a friend of all at Foodland. Children enjoy visiting with Marolyn at the meat department for she always has a lollipop and balloon to give them.

Besides her job and family Marolyn has a third love — and that is bowling. She's one of the finest women bowlers in Western Maryland. Her average is one of the highest in the area and she has won many awards and trophies in the past ten years.

Marolyn resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson at Box 9, Mt. Lake Park, Md.

Northern Future Farmers Given Resognition On State Level

Keith Fisher

Thomas Stemple

Steve Wiley

Robert Michaels

Four members of the Northern Garrett FFA were given special recognition at the closing day's activities of the State FFA convention at college Park last Wednesday.

Keith Fisher, White Rock, 1973 graduate, was handed the Maryland FFA star State Agribusiness award. The award carries state recognition and $200 cash prize.

Tom Stemple, Cove, was named regional star farmer and given a cash award of $50. Steve Wiley and Robert Michaels received their Maryland FFA Agriculturist degrees during the convention.

Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher also won the state agriculturist degree and was named regional star parliamentarian. His award was based on his work on the Sisler Lumber company sawmill. During the summer while in high school he was able to build a net worth of more than $2,000 while obtaining skills in almost all aspects of modern sawmill operation. He also planted 5,000 seedlings on his home farm to develop future timber stands.

Keith worked on the Northern FFA poultry judging team and attended the state contest for four years. He served as treasurer of region one FFA. He is married to the former Donna Heath.

Stemple has lived with Mr. and Mrs. Rob Roy Paugh for the past three years and produced beef cattle, hogs, green beans and cabbage in his FFA project program. He has served as Northern FFA vice-president, region one sentinel and is also a 1973 graduate of Northern. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stemple, Terra Alta.

Steve Wiley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wiley, Grantsville, and has been secretary, president and student advisor of the Northern FFA. He participated in the state livestock judging contest three years. He was charter advisor of the junior North Garrett FFA, formed last fall to serve junior students.

Robert Michaels, also a 1973 graduate of Northern, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Michaels, Friendsville. He developed his agriculture skills by working in a small orchard and part time work for farmers. He built a net worth large enough to qualify for his state agriculturist degree by working on a released time program from school for the James Welliborn dairy farm near Accident during his final year.

Herbert Harmon, farmer and member of the Board of Education, and Harold Loughrie, vo-ag instructor and FFA advisor, at Northern, were awarded honorary state agriculturist degrees during the convention in recognition of their efforts in behalf of FFA youth at Northern.

Minister Retires For Second Time

An article in the St. Petersburg Times of Saturday, May 19, contained the announcement of the second retirement for Dr. Denver C. Pickens, 85. He has been pastor of a Florida Methodist church at Pasadena for a number of years.

He retired the first time in 1952 when he was 64. He has been serving in the United Methodist ministry since 1909.

He served St. Paul's church in Oakland from 1945 to 1952, at which time he retired because of ill health. After his health was restored he started a church in the Lakewood area and four years later the membership of that church was 355. He next organized and worked with the Aldersgate United Methodist church in Cross Bayou. In 1960 he joined the Pasadena staff as minister of membership, and in the past 13 years more than 2,000 new members have joined the Pasadena Community church.

From 19266 to 1931 he was superintendent of the Charleston, W. Va. district. For more than 25 years he was a trustee of West Virginia Wesleyan college.

He served as minister of churches in Morgantown, Terra Alta, Elkins, Wheeling, Fairmont, Parkersburg, Parsons and other churches. His first wife, Edith Falkenstein Pickens, died in 1965. For the past three years he has been married to the former Jeanette Starck. He plans to spend some of his leisure time in fishing, his favorite sporting activity.

Introducing...

The Dome

The Shape of Things to Come ...

The Geodesic Dome is the most efficient system of structuring yet developed for use in countless phases of home, or business life.

Geodesic Domes are permanent, weather proof, versatile buildings -- combining structural superiority, unobstructed floor space, and low cost.

Developed by R. Buckminster Tuller, the Geodesic Dome is an engineered system of triangular space frames that create self-reenforcing roof and siding units based on mathematically precise divisions of a sphere. Factory assembled pre-insulated triangular space frames are simply bolted together to form the finished building.

Stanton-Johnson Vows Recited Sat.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a full-length gown of nylon organza and Chantilly lace. The bodice of Chantilly lace was accented by rows of pleated organza and lace trim which extended over the shoulders to the back. The ruffled lace collar had a tiny bow and bishop sleeves of matching lace ended in deep cuffs of Chantilly lace. The A-line skirt was attached to a ribbon at the empire waistline and swept to a chapel train held by a satin bow. The skirt was edged in deep pleats of Chantilly lace. A bridal illusion veil was affixed to a fitted headpiece accented by an organza bow and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies, yellow roses and baby's breath with long streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Carolyn Hott was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gail Johnson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Linda Stanton, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Funds For Work On Bloomington Dam Approved

The House Appropriations committee on Monday approved two Maryland projects totaling $13.9 million for construction work with the Bloomington Lake project getting the major amount—$13.5 million.

The other application was the Tred Avon river navigation project which received $395,000.

The monies appoved were identical to that requested in President Nixon's fiscal 1974 budget sent to Congress. In addition the committee recommended that four surveys affecting Maryland be funded. Among them is one for $30,000 for a survey of acid mine drainage in the watershed of the North Branch of the Potomac river.

Robert W. Craig, engineer in charge for the Corps of Army Engineers, Baltimore district, said the $13.6 million would be used to finance continuing construction jobs.

The relocation of 12 miles of the Western Maryland Railway was the first two jobs let to contractors. The first, over six miles of grading for the new track on the Maryland side of the river has been handled by S. J. Groves and Son, of Pennsylvania. The second railroad job, from the top of the dam to some five miles upstream, is being handled by the Green Construction company, Des Moines, Iowa.

The third contract was awarded to L. G. DeFelice, North Haven, Connecticut. This is to cut for outlet works through solid rock, in the right abutment on the Maryland side of the dam. It will consist of a 16.33 foot diameter tunnel 2,082 feet long. Two slide gates will control the flow through the tunnel. A rolled earth and rock-fill dike, 900 feet long, with a maximum height of 90 feet, will be constructed across a low area on the West Virginia abutment.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

After reading the letter to the editor by Jack Michaels, Jr., in your paper last week, I would like to say that I whole heartedly agree with everything he said about the Red Chinese and the ever-growing drug problems that we face here in America today.

If I understand diplomatic immunity correctly, a Red Chinese diplomat could enter our country carrying two large clear plastic suitcases full of uncut Heroin, and to be sure that no mistake was made as to the identity of the contents, have ten inch high letters on each side of each suitcase spelling HEROIN, and walk down the streets in front of our F.B.I. headquarters and our other law enforcement agencies and into his embassy without any fear of either because we can't touch him.

How stupid can we be; why should we allow these immoral, atheistic animals to come into our precinus country to push their number one product, heroin, under the pretense of peace and friendly co-existence.

If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) . . . the same shall be a law. (Article I, Section 7 of the Constitution)

They were conscientious and astute men—those architects of the Constitution. They wanted to be sure the President could never halt the processes of democratic government by delaying legislation.

And the phrase "Sundays excepted" shows that our Founding Fathers also respected Sunday as the day of the Lord.

To them, it seemed natural to safeguard their freedom and profess their faith all in one sentence.

The document they produced has weathered two hundred years—their faith almost two thousand. Both their Constitution and their creed—the Christian faith—are just as vibrant and important today.

Make Sundays an exception to your daily routine—Go to Church!

THE PROMISE

Lesson for July 1, 1973

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:12, Deuteronomy 4:6-9, Proverbs 23: 22-25; Mark 7:9-13; Ephesians 6:1-4; 2 Timothy 1:5.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 78:1-7.

For many years I regarded the Fifth Commandment, "Honor your father and your mother . . .", as an arbitrary requirement imposed upon children for the sole benefit of their parents. It seems that way, doesn't it? The meaning is simple, it would seem: Obey your parents because God says so.

Rev. Althouse

Yet, some years ago I discovered that this commandment is not arbitrary in the least. Of all the commandments, it best spells out the purpose behind it. Our problem is that in pronouncing this commandment, we stop too soon, saying, "Honor your father and mother . . .", and we ought to continue on with the whole sentence: ". . . that your days may be long in the land which the Lord your God gives you" (Exodus 20:12.).

Behind the commandment

I first realized this one day in reading Ephesians 6:2. The writer of that passage quotes the Fifth Commandment, "Honor your father and mother," and then goes on to make this commentary: "(this is the first commandment with a promise)". A promise?

Looking back to Exodus 20, I found it: "Honor your father and mother that your days may be long in the land which the Lord gives you."

What this means is that when children honor their parents, they are much more likely to have a fuller, richer, more fruitful life. The writer of Ephesians expands upon this promise: "That it may be well with you and that you may live long on the earth" (6:3). Thus, once again, we see that the commandment is given to us, not to impose upon us an arbitrary style of conduct, but to establish a principle in our lives that will be beneficial for us.

Out of respect: harmony

So, the Fifth Commandment is not imposed upon children for the sole benefit of the parents, but for the benefit of the children, too. Absolutely necessary in the family is respect, beginning with respect for parents. From this respect there grows a family harmony and unity. This doesn't mean that it is guaranteed — for there are always other factors that may intervene — but that where there is respect in a home, there is also much more likely to be unity and harmony, too.

The writer of Ephesians makes it clear that the commandment did not intend for this to be a one-way respect. Immediately following the admonition, "Children, obey your parents, for this is right," (6:1), is an instruction to the parents: "Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord" (6:4).

It is not enough for children to honor and obey their parents. From the parents there must be a reciprocal response. And for both parents and children there is a promise that from this mutual respect, there shall be a deeper, fuller life for all.

TENDER LOVING CARE" is Back for Hamburger.

Let's start at the beginning—at the store where you buy the hamburger or ground beef in the first place. The package should be sealed to protect that tender meat inside—avoid torn packages. Check, too, to see that the meat feels cold.

Don't bury your meat purchases in the bottom of your shopping cart, where the packages can get punctured—make meat one of your last purchases in the store. Then, get it all home quickly and get the hamburger into the refrigerator or freezer as soon as you get home.

Why? Because the grinding of meat—which makes even tough cuts tender— also multiplies the surfaces where bacteria can grow. Meat, like everything we come in contact with—contains some bacteria. Mishandling gives them the chance to grow.

The next step in "Hamburger TLC" is proper storage. If you're going to use the meat within one or two days, put it in the coldest part of your refrigerator—usually near the ice cube compartment or in a special meat keeper section.

You can refrigerate hamburger "as is" if it comes in transparent wrap. Hamburger in butcher paper, though, should be unwrapped, put on a plate or in a container and covered.

If you plan to use hamburger within the next week or two, you can freeze it right in the transparent plastic store wrap. For longer storage, wrap it tightly in a moisture-resistant material like aluminum foil or freezer paper. You can freeze hamburger at 0 degrees F. for two to three months with little loss of quality.

Tender loving care comes into play again when you thaw that frozen meat. Hamburger, like all meat, should be thawed in the refrigerator.

Bacteria thrive at room temperatures—especially at temperatures in the 45-115 degree range. So thawing your hamburger by letting it sit out on the kitchen counter for an afternoon is inviting quick spoilage.

If you must thaw the meat quickly, put in it a water tight wrapper in cold water or in a closed double paper bag at room temperature. Either method keeps the surface of the meat cool during defrosting.

Well, you've taken good care of the hamburger through all these steps, and you feel you're "home free" in protecting it against bacterial growth? Not quite. How you handle it immediately before and after cooking—and how you cook it—is important, too.

- OPEN WEEKENDS

Teacher Contract Terms Listed

Negotiated contract terms between the Garrett County Teachers' Association and the Garrett County Board of Education have been further described this week by Robert Wilson, president of GCTA.

A brief outline of the terms from County Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Buser appeared in last weeks issue of The Republican.

A $500 across-the-board salary increase was in the new negotiated wage settlement. The new contract also calls for $7,000 starting pay for teachers and a maximum of $9,990 in the 14th year for the holders of a bachelor's degree.

An $8,100 fourth-year starting pay for advanced teaching certificate holders is established with a maximum of $10,860 in the 16th year of service. Experience increments are $230 for each year of service.

Three longevity steps for both standard and advantaged degree holders provides $10,220 to $10,680 top pay after 30 years of service for bachelor degree teachers and $11,090 to $11,550 top pay after 30 years of service for advanced degree holders.

An additional $400 above all pay scales is paid to holders of master's degrees.

Improvements in disability insurance from $260 to $300 monthly benefits and from $3,500 to $6,000 of term life insurance coverage also were included for the agreement for next year.

Increase in planning time for elementary teachers to three periods weekly and an increase in accumulated sick leave days to 110 days was also part of the pact.

The terminal pay provision was increased from $10 to $15 for each accumulated sick leave day at retirement or death. Two personal leave days annually unused will became cumulative beginning next year as part of the maximum accumulated sick leave.

Additional improvements in the contract were made in contract language to include a class size and teaching load provision and voluntary assignment only of extra duty activities and responsibilities for which no extra pay is provided. Band directors were added to athletic activities as paid assignments.

A new classroom control and discipline provision, protection of teachers section and an employe facilities section also are included for the first time in the new agreement.

Vows Exchanged Sunday June 3

Wedding vows were exchanged Sunday, June 3, by Miss Sharon L. Riley and Townshend Grant.

Miss Riley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Riley, Oakland, and Mr. Grant is the son of Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Grant of Oakland.

Rev. John Grant and Rev. James F. Remley performed a double ring ceremony in the St. Matthew Episcopal Church at Oakland, with Miss Marcella Kerins organist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor length gown of nylon organza and Chantilly lace with matching detachable train. The bodice with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves was of Chantilly lace. A triple tiered veil of bridal illusion was attached to a head band of embroidered lace flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with long streamers.

Mrs. Delores Raynovich, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Bowie Grant, brother of the groom was best man. Ushers were Elbert Loram Riley, brother of the bride and Bill Grant, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother was attired in a street length dress of aqua knit with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy and white coat dress with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The matron of honor wore a long pink gown with embroidered red trim and her head piece was a matching organza bow attached to a single tiered veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white carnations with long streamers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home on Dennett Road. The cake was served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Hazel Weese. The punch was served by Mrs. Leona Carr, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Betty Riley, sister-in-law of the bride.

After the rehearsal on Saturday June 2, a rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at their cottage on Deep Creek Lake.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School and Frostburg State College with a bachelor of science degree, her major being math education. Mr. Grant is a graduate of Southern High School and attended Allegany Community College and West Virginia Wesleyan college and is presently employed in Falls Church, Virginia.

The couple resides at 501 Slater Lane, Alexandria, Va.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear sister, Ethel Casteel Krizan, who passed away one year ago today, June 20, 1972

Sis, it's lonesome here without you,
Sad in every way.
Life is not the same for us,
Since you went away.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone.
Our hearts and souls went with you,
The day God called you home.

Sadly missed by Three Daughters, Two Brothers, And Four Sisters

Dear Sir:

In commenting relevant to yuur article of 6-21-'73, concerning inadequate decisions and equipment in the search of Glen Marratto.

Apparently Rev. Naja found some justification in criticizing law enforcement officials. I must believe that his critical remarks were due in part because he had neglected his duty! If he had been watching the group closer, this unfortunate mishappening would not have occurred.

Since he failed to apply proper controls, he now stands in judgment of others. I personally feel is unwarranted. But in order to stand the pressure of mishandling the situation, he elected to blame the Sheriff of Garrett County.

If blame is tu be directed to officials, let's place the blame to those responsible.

1. Has The Republican newspaper ever applied pressure by editorials or by other means to prompt the County Commissioners to appropriate money for proper search equipment?

2. Has the general public ever applied pressure for public officials to purchase search equipment?

3. Have the County Commissioners, former or present, found it necessary or within the public interest to make such an investment?

To the best of my knowledge, all of these answers would be negative.

It's time for action, not criticism!

Sincerely,
O. B. Welton

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother and grandmother, Carrie G. Shipley, who passed away one year ago, June 29, 1972.

God saw you getting weaker
So He did what He thought best.
He came and stood beside your bed
And whispered come to rest.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps one to forget,
But time so far has only proven
How much we miss you yet.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
For part of us went with you,
That day God called you home.
Our hearts still ache with loneliness
Our eyes shed many a tear.
God only knows how much we miss her,
At the close of one sad year.

Ruth, Vi, and Reid

Course Set For Surface Miners

A 45-hour course for training surface mining personnel, drafted exclusively for Western Maryland by Penn State university on a financial grant from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, with the assistance of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, will begin next month and continue through September.

It is a pilot project for national application, clearing the way for Western Maryland as the "proving ground" for the new concept of surface miner-operator education.

The course will be conducted two nights per week at Bruce High school, beginning July 18 for ten straight weeks. Forty-five hours in length it will cover such subjects as general surface mine economics, geology, managerial economics, health and safety standards, mine gases and dust, fire protection, noise, federal and state legislation and regulations, mine drainage, exploration, earth-moving machinery, drilling, explosives and blasting, stripping techniques, and other topics.

Playhouse Closeups To Be Given Here

Each week for the next several weeks this column will be used to give a closeup of the actors and actresses who are playing this year at the Garrett County Playhouse. This week:

MARY BETH BRATCHER

Appearing as Judith Bliss in The Playhouse production of Noel Coward's "Hayfever" is Mary Beth Bratcher. A native Texan, Mrs. Bratcher attended High School in Plainview and college at Texas Tech University, where her interest in acting began to take the shape of a career.

Now living with her husband John (also a featured performer at the Playhouse) in Dallas, Mary Beth has toured with the Alpha Omega Players in "The Diary of Adam and Eve" and her other appearances have included "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown." The Bratcher came to Garrett County in 1972 and from the very beginning in a scene of "Plaza Suite," were admired by colleagues and patrons alike.

As Judith Bliss Mary Beth realizes a dream she doesn't bother to conceal—to play character roles. She will lead the company of players in a romp through Cowards "Hayfever," the only kind that is catching. Patrons will remember Mary Beth's portrayals of Penelope Toop in "Pools Paradise," Natalie in "Natalie Needs a Nightie," and the wife in "The Secretary Bird."

Patrons are pleased that Mary Beth has chosen to return for her second season at the Garrett County Playhouse.

Energy shortage could lead to a food shortage if farmers don't get enough fuel to harvest their crops this summer, officials warned.

Consent To Wed For Young Men Not Needed Soon

House Bill 299, passed by the Maryland General Assembly this year will make it easier for young men over 18 but under 21 to get married beginning July 1. The age requiring parental consent has been reduced.

Up to this time it has been a Maryland law that a male under 21 had to have consent of a parent in order to be married. On the other hand, a female could get married at age 18 without parental consent. Now they are both the same.

Parental consent will still be necessary for both male and female between 16 and 18 years of age. The only exception to this rule is that they may marry if a certificate of a licensed physician is presented which states that he has examined the female and has ascertained positively that she is pregnant or has given birth to a child.

Mrs. Hoover Pelton, president of the Women's Society, announced conference and district activities for the coming months. A social hour followed.

Mining Work In State Forest Area May Go To July 1

The Buffalo Coal company last Thursday was given the right to start up its equipment after a week's suspension of mining only to begin a race against time in an effort to move 8,000 tons of coal from the Savage River state forest by July 1.

The Island Reclamation committee, at its monthly meeting in Westernport, reversed itself on the seven-day suspension it dealt the company a week previous for minor infractions of sediment control guidlines to allow Buffalo to get the coal out before the legislature-imposed deadline.

Within an hour after the motion passed the committee unanimously Buffalo equipment in the state forest south of Barton roared into a 16-day around the clock operation.

The tonnage, all lying in a three-foot vein at the bottom of a 1,200-foot long open pit, may be the last coal ever to be taken from state-owned land.

The coal company was ordered to cease its operations in the state forest over the weekend by Attorney General Francis B. Burch.

There was the possibility the case would be taken to court if the state and Georges Creek Land and Coal company, owner of the mineral rights which agreement on compensation for forfeitnre of the rights. A 1968 court decision permitted the mining in the first place.

The deadline on July 1 will mean tying up another 30,000 tons that the company won't be able to move out by the July 1 deadline. "That's maybe a quarter million dollars of coal laying up there" said Carl DelSignore, president of Buffalo Coal.

The 30,000 additional tons lie underground in exposed veins sloping away from the open pit. Such coal is removed by the augering method used in conjunction with strip muing.

The Buffalo portion broke the normally staid, business-like meeting with a brief exchange between Henry Mooman, engineer and consultant to Buffalo, and committee member Larry Ramsey, representing the Department of Water Resources.

Mr. Mooman had changed Mr. Ramsey with "deliberately looking for something to close us down" when the suspension went into elect last week. He said that Mr. Ramsey had said nothing to him when the two had met at an inspection on the strip mine a week before. Mr. Mooman said that he had interpreted Mr. Ramsey's silence to mean that Buffalo was in compliance with committee orders to rectify four minor sediment control points.

Mr. Ramsey replied that the company still was not "within the letter of the law."

"Even today your spoil is inside the filter strip," he said, referring to a mound of earth that had slipped during recent rains a few feet within the 75-foot bumper strip between the mine and Mill Run.

"If you want to get touchy about a few grains of earth that did even come close to entering Mill Run," Mr. Mooman snapped, "then I'll show you where the North Branch has been literally damned up and re-routed by a mountain of sediment pouring down from the railroad relocation at Bloomington Dam. You ignore that to harass us," he said.

Dr. Weaver rejected the Buffalo request to amend the permit to open more acreage in the state forest.

"It would be foolish for us to okay it today when we all know full well that you couldn't possibly remove the coal before July 1," he stated. "If future events show that you might be continuing your operations in the state forest, then the committee will reconsider the amendment," he said.

To Save the Chesapeake Bay

The Chesapeake Bay is one of Maryland's greatest public resources, and one of the nation's as well. Hundreds of thousands of people from our state and elsewhere take advantage of the variety of recreational opportunities it offers.

It also is the shipping channel to the Port of Baltimore. Its waters serve the needs of industry, public utilities and fisheries. It is the source of livelihood for watermen and thousands of other persons in many different occupations. The communities on its shores are home to many of our citizens. And the Bay has considerable historical significance.

These diverse interests have created problems. For example, how do we reconcile the demands of industry and the utilities with the need to protect the biological life of the Bay? How do we balance the interests of the economic advantages the Bay offers with the interests of recreation and environmental protection? What should be the role of the federal, state and local governments?

To help me evalnate all of the various interests that are involved in any consideration of the future of the Bay, I am planning to make a comprehensive study of the Bay region, including a personal five-day fact-finding tour later this month.

The specific purpose of my study is to determine whether new federal legislation is required to protect and improve the Bay for the benefit of all who use it.

After weighing all the factors involved, I hope to be able to determine the best course of action I can take as a member of the United States Senate to enhance the Bay in the best interests of Maryland and the nation.

There seem to be at least five possible general approaches to the future of the Bay and I will consider them all. They are an interstate compact; Federal "Gateway" legislation; one or more Federal-State Task Forces; the use of existing Federal laws on waterways and coastal areas; and the designation of the States or localities involved as the governmental units with principal responsibility and authority to act.

Whether any of these courses of action, or some other approach, is the best direction to take needs careful study—and that is the purpose of my study.

I will report the conclusions of my study to all the appropriate Federal, State and local government officials. It is my hope that with the help of all Marylanders, we can do whatever is necessary to protect this valuable resource for all time.

Hamilton Named Land Use Board

Gov. Marvin Mandel announced the appointment of a 21-member commission to study the problem of controlling land use and to prepare the legislation for introduction in the 1974 general assembly.

One of the members named was Wayne B. Hamilton, chairman of the County Commissioners from this county.

He named Senate President William S. James, D-Harford to head the panel and William Sher, president of the Montgomery County Council, as vice-chairman.

As a member of the commission Mr. Hamilton will consider the problem of land use and its solutions. Governor Mandel said he believed that the problem of land use was one of the gravest we face. He said, "We must strike an intelligent balance between preserving our dwindling land reserves, and those areas that are worth preserving for future generations, and allowing orderly, planned growth and development that will contribute to the economy of our state without abusing its natural resources."

He continued, "In my judgment the greatest obstacle to a successful settlement of this matter is vagueness and broad generalization in defining any new powers granted by the state—a condition which understandably causes local governments and land-owners to read danger between the lines. Thus I take the liberty of urging clarity and precision in a field where those attainments are not easily achieved."

What is the status of your legislation that prevents a reduction of veterans' pensions when there is a subsequent rise in Social Security benefits?

Hearings were held on the proposed measure last week. In testimony submitted for the record I cited adverse effects of inflation and the shrinking value of the dollar on a retiree's fixed income. I shall keep you posted on the continuing status of this bill which would ignore Social Security and cost-of-living increases when determining eligibility for a veteran's pension and compensation.

With the fuel shortage in mind has any study been conducted to determine the number of Americans who drive to and from work alone?

An article in the latest issue of Consumer News indicates that the Office of Emergency Preparedness has conducted such a survey. Results indicate that 82 percent of the work force use cars as a means of transportation to and from work and of this percentage, 56 percent drive by themselves.

How many people visited our National Parks last year?

According to the Department of the Interior, the national parks posted a record 212 million visits in 1972.

Why can't I collect social security if I continue to work at my regular salary after age 65?

Social Security is an insurance against loss of wages, however, you will increase your benefits when you retire. You may earn $2,100 a year without deductions in benefits and for whatever you earn above $2,100 only one dollar of every two is subtracted. No matter how much you earn a year you can get full benefits for any month you don't earn more than $175. After 72, of course, you collect benefits no matter what you earn.

Is your Tourism and Recreation Conference open to the general public?

Individuals interested in enhancing tourism and recreation opportunities in Central and Western Maryland are encouraged to attend the conference at Hagerstown Junior College the morning of July 2. Representatives of the U. S. Travel Service, the Interior, Department's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, the Maryland Division of Tourism, the Maryland Department of Forest and Parks and local and State legislators will be participating in the presentation.

If the national cemetery of a veteran's choice is closed, will VA pay an extra burial allowance toward purchase of a plot in a private cemetery?

No. Under law, VA can only pay up to a maximum $250 burial allowance upon death of a veteran. Insurance and survivor benefits are a matter of individual eligibility.

How much additional money are airline passengers charged to cover the cost of anti-skyjacking procedures?

The Civil Aeronautics Board has permitted domestic airlines to charge passengers a 59 cent surcharge (plus 4 cents Federal tax per ticket) to cover security screening and inspection costs at airports. The 63 cents total will be applied to each airline ticket and to each part of a flight when a flight involves Where can I get a list of toys the government has banned?

I receive a VA pension and would like to know if a person over age 72 has to file the annual income questionnaire?

A recent law excludes pensioners 72 years of age and older who draw benefits during two consecutive years from filing annual income questionnaires. However, you still must report changes in income.

Where can I obtain Presidential Sports Award materials?

My husband was receiving black lung benefits until his death five months ago. I was told the payments would continue but they haven't. Can you look into the matter?

Upon receipt of your letter my office contacted the Social Security Administration and, as you are now aware, your black lung widow benefits have been approved. You will be receiving a five-month retroactive check and a regular monthly benefits check thereafter. Citizens experiencing similiar difficulties receiving government benefits justly due them should feel free to contact my office for assistance.

What federal loans are available to students going on to college?

In order to reduce the hardships incurred by the expense of higher education the Federal government and numerous private organizations provide programs of student financial assistance. The House Committee on Education has published a booklet entitled "A Guide to Student Assistance" which shows the loan options available so that individuals may gear their efforts at acquiring aid toward the area which best suits their needs. This booklet provides a firm foundation for initiating steps to relieve financial burdens and includes chapters on major federal programs, selected federal graduate fellowship programs, federal programs for undergraduate students, non-federal undergraduate assistance programs, and suggestions on the process of seeking financial aid. If you would like a copy just drop me a line, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Does the proposed Agricultural Bargaining Act encourage handlers of agricultural products to deal with cooperatives?

The National Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act would establish machinery to bargain in good faith on the part of processors and associations of producers. It also sets up national administrative standards to define those agricultural cooperatives which would bargain under the Act. Under the proposed legislation a three-member board would qualify associations of producers, and notify handlers that purchase agricultural commodities the association represents. The handlers would then bargain with the qualified association.

VA Announcing Pre-Payment Plan

Under a new Veterans Administration procedure veterans attending Garrett Community college may receive advanced G. I. Bill payments for their course work. This new policy eliminates the out-of-pocket costs for college fees and associated educational expenses.

Arrangements for pre-payment for Fall Semester course work may be made now by contacting Raymond Alexander, Veterans' Coordinator at the college. G. I. Bill payments amount to $220 per month for a veteran taking twelve or more semester hours or 4 courses and $110 for six credit hours or two courses. A veteran taking one course for 3 credit hours, would have the tuition and fees paid for by the VA, it was stated.

Meet The Law Enforcer Who Loves Dog Food

Here he comes. Sure hope owner-trainer Jim Riggs has a firm hold on that leash.

Meet Mike. .

This unfriendly king canine, Michael Von Scott by name, has been trained for use as a K-9 Corps dog by his owner, deputy Jim Riggs. As you can see, he's nobody's itsy, bitsy, sweetie pie "pet."

Training of a 100-pound fanged law enforcer such as Mike begins with obedience training at age six weeks. Six months or more of concentrated work comes after the animal is over a year old

Dogs must give instant obedience to their owners and display natural intelligence before being chosen for specialized police work. Nearly all the dogs are rather unpredictable and very suspicious of and unfriendly toward anyone approaching their owners.

State police members in the state have 29 K-9 dogs at present, and one bloodhound. There is a regular, six-month training school for these dogs and their handlers, which Deputy Riggs hopes to attend with his younger dog, Sarge.

Sarge has already begun following Mike's pawsteps, learning obedience and tracking. Sarge is also being taught to sniff out marijuana by Deputy Riggs.

Training a dog to attack is a little more complicated, involving the services of a stranger to the animal, who must agitate him by teasing or by smacking him with a towel until the dog is infuriated.

Mike's owner recommends using a leather collar during training, so the animal won't choke.

Deputy Riggs, who says he has always liked dogs, became interested in K-9 dogs in particular since his law enforcement career began as a member of the police department at Westernport some years ago.

He has been a member of the county sheriff's department for one and one-half years. He and his wife, the former Faye League, live in the deputy's quarters at the jail building. They have one son, aged eight months.

A dream always in the back of Deputy Rigg's mind is to one day own a kennel of shepherds, and to be a K-9 handler for the local sheriff's department.

In other areas, such handlers receive county funds to help defray expenses involved in upkeep of their animals. Upkeep is more than 40 cents a day for food (Jim's dogs receive dry dog food and a can of meat each day) plus money paid out for shots, grooming products, medicines, leashes, chains, and training items.

Mike is currently used for jail security and on searches for lost or otherwise missing persons. All training his dogs have received has come from Jim, aided by his friend and counselor, Burza Hanlin, a former police chief in Westernport.

Deputy Rigg's canine crew also includes a female, Gretel, who provides pups for sale. She is a descendant of the dog star in "The Littlest Hobo."

Mike is halfway to retirement age, which is eight years for a K-9 dog. These animals are retired before their senses begin to fail. German shepherds are also susceptible to hip problems after this age.

"Retirement" for Mike will mean he will be kept in a kennel and used for breeding purposes, according to his owner.

And let's hear no complaints about a "dog's life" ever again. Retirement, indeed!

by Carol Canan

It wasn't easy getting a volunteer to aggravate Mike, who isn't at all playful. Mike's single-minded attention is here directed at a sheriff's deputy, who probably should request combat pay.

In a more peaceable mood. Mike enjoys taking his master for walks.

God Makes The Difference

Why don't people read and study the Bible more than they do? A survey would reveal a variety of answers. Some would say that they don't have enough time. Any spare time which they do have for reading is devoted to newspapers, magazines and books which deal with today's life and problems. Strange as it may seem, there are others who do not read the Bible because it is too cheap; people prize that which is expensive and neglect that which is easily obtainable, no matter how important. Then, there are those who feel that modern knowledge and higher criticism have undermined the authority of the Bible. Many feel that the Bible is just not relevant to our life and times.

However, the main reason that people do not turn to the scriptures is that God does not really seem important. They are concerned with this present world and man's place in it, with the secrets that have been won from nature, the machines that have been invented, the systems of government that have been employed. They are all wrapped up in living the "good life" and having a "good time."

The writers of the Bible were also concerned with the present world and man's place in it. They studied the heavens and the birds that flew in them, the sea with its great and small fishes, the earth with its resources, and man with his needs and problems. Yet their chief concern was not with these, but with the God who created and sustained them. When they wrote about life and history, their primary interest was with God, His nature, His creative power, His purpose and His will. Such an approach to life makes a great difference in the way a man thinks and the way he lives.

For example, the Bible begins with the words, "In the beginning God created. . .". If that statement is true, then there is a God, one God. The universe, including everything, did not come into existence by chance, but is the purposeful creation of that God. If you add to his faith the conviction expressed in Psalm 8:6, "Thou (God) hast given him (man) dominion over the works of thy hands.", you can see the implications for mankind. Not only is there a God, not only did He create the universe and everything which it contains, not only is life and history the unfolding of His purpose, but also, mankind (you and I) is completely dependent on, and responsible to, that one God.

The humblest human being can say nothing truer, the most learned scholar can say nothing wiser than this: "God made me, God made the world in which I live, I am responsible to Him.".

If each of us had that faith, that conviction, we would all read and study the Bible more than we do, in order to know our God better and to understand His will and purpose for us and for His creation. Certainly, we would live differently, and this world would be more like He meant it to be.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

The big guns of the eastern journalism concentration — including the New York Times, the Washington Post and the three nationwide television networks — can claim credit for keeping the Watergate affair alive day by day for a period of six months and finally tracking some of the tentacles of the octopus-like scandal directly to the White House. Their massive operation of "investigative" journalism, however, leaves them, in retrospect, out on what some people consider to be a partisan political limb.

News nine years ago, on the ramifications of what may have been the biggest political scandal in American history, in which Democrat bigwigs, including President Johnson, were clearly involved, was snuffed out by actions of the Democratic Congress, the White House, the Justice Department, and a failure of the Washington and New York press centers to pursue wide-open leads. In that last big Washington scandal, unearthed by Senator John J. Williams a few months before the 1964 Presidential campaigning, the eastern media went along with a coverup and with never a thought apparently of bringing "investigative" journalism into play.

The four major figures involved in the early disclosures were Robert G. Baker, Secretary to the Senate Democratic Majority and one of President Johnson's most intimate friends; Mr. Johnson himself, as Senate Majority leader, subsequently Vice President, and then President;

Twister Hits Green Lantern Area Thursday

Restaurant Sustains Damage But No One Is Injured

A "twister" apparently touched down last Thursday afternoon about 10 miles west of Frostburg, in Garrett county causing extensive damage at the Green Lantern restaurant along U. S. ronte 40. No one was injured.

About 4:50 p. m. Tfc. Carl D. Skidmore of the LaVale barracks, state police, observed the twister on roote 40 at Green Lantern road, traveling in an easterly direction at the time.

After passing the restaurant the twister changed its course to a northeasterly direction, according to Skidmore who followed the twister in a cruiser where it traveled some four miles where it expired or disappeared.

No other serious damage was observed, according to Trooper Skidmore and Trooper D. A. Miller.

Mrs. John Minnick, wife of the operator of the restaurant, said she and her husband, members of the family, and about eight customers were in the restaurant when the twister was first observed, some half mile down the highway.

The twister continued toward the restaurant. Her daughter-in-law ran to the living quarters and got her nine months old daughter and carried her to the dining area. When the twister hit the front of the building there was apparent suction inside. Three gasoline pumps were knocked out of line by the force which twisted a light over the pumps "like a pretzel" and knocked down a large bread sign.

A large section of the rock-like material on the front of the restaurant was knocked off by the force which blew an air conditioning unit from the side and moved a heavy air conditioning motor on the roof about three feet. The roof of the restaurant was damaged as was a station wagon belonging to the Minnicks, and cars of the customers. A telejhone booth on the outside and garage doors also were damaged.

The National Weather Service in Baltimore said it had reports of a twister near Frostburg but explained it had no way of immediately determining whether the storm might have been a tornado.

Gortner Youth Is Injured In Wreck

A Gortner area youth, injured in a one-car wreck at the east end of Oakland last Friday, was listed in satisfactory condition Monday at the Medical Center, Morgantown, W. Va.

James M. Reckart, 18, a passenger in the car driven by Dwight D. Hinebaugh, was first taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital but was transferred to the Medical Center. Hinebaugh, 18, 2nd and Omar Streets, Oakland, was apparently only slightly injured in the accident which occurred at 12:30 Friday morning.

Hinebaugh was traveling east on Oak Street, started to make a right turn onto U. S. Route 219. The car crossed the center of Roote 219, ran off the left shoulder, turned over, skidded, and came to rest on the northbound lane on its side.

The VW was called a total loss.

Tfc. Robert E. Friend charged Hinebaugh with making an improper right turn.

Coal Firms File Complaint

Declaratory Decree Is Sought On Strip Mining

A bill of complaint for declaratory decree was filed last Thursday in the Court House in Oakland by the Georges Creek Coal and Land company, Lonaconing, and the Buffalo Coal company, Bayard, W. Va. against Harry B. Buckley, director, Bureau of Mines of Maryland, and James B. Coulter, secretary, Department of Natural Resources.

The plaintiffs allege that the provisions for the two coal companies do not terminate as of July 1, but continue in existence until the mining operation is completed or abandoned, neither of which has occurred in this case.

The plaintiffs also allege that the action of the director amounts to a taking of property without just compensation in that the plaintiffs have not been provided with just compensation for their property and if they are denied the right to strip mine coal the mineral rights reserved (property) have little or no value.

The case by the two firms stipulates that the director should be ordered to permit the Butfalo company to continue its strip mining under permit number 161, and that he should be ordered to allow said permit to be amended so as to include additional acreage on the property which is leased to the firm.

The complaint forther added that the director issue additional strip mining permits subject to the provisions of Article 66C of the Annotated Code of Maryland, except for the provisions of Chapter 355, with regard to the property until such time as the plaintiffs, their successor and assigns, receive just compensation from the state.

Attorneys for the coal firms are Stephen R. Pagenhardt, Oakland; and Walsh, Walsh and Reinhart, Cumberland.

Pittsburgh Boy Found In River On Wednesday

Body Badly Decomposed; Had Been Swept Under Rock

The body of Glenn Marratto, 13, of Pittsburgh, missing at Swallow Falls State Park since Thursday afternoon, June 14, was discovered in the Little Youghiogheny River yesterday afternoon, below the second falls and near where Muddy Creek empties into the stream. The body was badly decomposed and was identified from the clothing he wore.

The youth had been swept underneath a sloping rock and only his feet were showing. An unidentified tourist saw the body and spread the word.

A Deep Creek Lake Rescue team from the Mellenry area removed the body from the water and took it to the Dorst Funeral home in Oakland.

The lad was last seen almost three weeks ago when he was with a group from a Pittsburgh church who were on an outing there.

An extensive search had been conducted in the area for some two weeks following his disappearance and there had been reports that he had been seen and identified at a fruit market in the Uniontown area. Last week it was learned that a person who gave his name as Marratto had made a collect telephone call from a pay phone along U. S. Route 40, but this proved to be the boy's brother.

State police and county authorities had exhausted their facilities in continuing the search, using helicopters, bloodhounds, scuba divers, forest service personnel and volunteers.

A GIANT "POT" PARTY—One of the biggest "pot" parties ever took place last Friday afternoon, and there was a lot of smoking done, but in a manner different from the normal. The court gave permission for the sheriff's office to dispose of some 220 pounds of marijuana that had been seized several months ago and which had been stored in the sheriff's office since that time.

Pittsburgh Man Is Saved From Drowning Sat.

A Pittsburgh man was saved from possible drowning at Herrington Manor last Saturday afternoon.

The man, identified as Thomas Patrick Coquet, 29, of Leland street, Pittsburgh, was swimming at Herrington Manor state park. He was playing a water game with his fiancee, Michelle Ponadio, also of Pittsburgh, authorities said when he stepped off a ledge, apparently became excited and swallowed water.

Lifeguards immediately came to his aid and his fiancee attempted to grab him, but he was unconscious. Taken to the beach, the victim was given oxygen by Carroll Thomas and R. D. Sines of the park staff after which he was revived and taken to Garrett County Memorial hospital, Oakland in the VanMeter ambulance.

Maryland State Police trooper Dale K. Williams and a deputy from the sheriff's office also were at the scene.

It was stated that without quick action by all concerned and the availablity of the oxygen equipment, the victim may have died.

Tractor Upsets; Woman Dies

A farm tractor accident near Grantsville, claimed the life of Frances Lowery, 33, Sunday afternoon, July 1.

The woman resided on route 2, Grantsville. According to police, the accident occurred at about 2 p. m., on the Planter farm one half mile off of Miller road at Jennings.

The woman was operating the tractor while bailing hay. Police said she started to descend a steep grade and attempted to turn the tractor to the left but the baler forced the tractor to turn over.

The victim was then pinned beneath the machinery's left rear fender and the tongue of the hay baler crushed her skull, according to police, who said she was dead at the scene.

The body was taken to Memorial hospital in Cumberland.

Funeral services for Miss Lowery were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the Maple Grove Church of the Brethren

Completes Largest Stock Sale In Bank History

The Garrett National Bank has just completed the largest stock sale in the history of the bank, it was reported by officials. Over 9,000 shares were sold and with the ten percent stock dividend previously declared, increased its capital stock to $888,500. This authomatically increased the loan limit for the bank and was felt to be in keeping with the growth of the economy.

Previously the largest stock sales completed were in 1960 and 1968 when 5,000 shares were sold in each of those years.

Stock certificates are now in the mail covering the shares earned by the dividend and the purchases of the new stock issue. The number of stockholders in the Garrett National Bank has now been boosted to a record of approximately 650.

Deer Park Man Is Critical Following Accident Friday

A Deer Park area man is in critical condition in University Medical Center, Morgantown, following a car-motor cycle accident at 3rd and Center Streets, Oakland, last Friday afternoon.

Glen David Skipper, 22, Star Route, Deer Park, operator of the motor cycle, sustained a compound fracture of the left leg, being broken in four places, in addition to many cuts and bruises.

Steve F. Durst, 20, Oakland, a passenger on the motor cycle with Skipper was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Barbara L. Hauser, Eglon, W. Va., was traveling north on 3rd Street and attempted to turn left onto Center Sreet. She failed to notice the motor cycle traveling south and cut into its path.

Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Barbara L. Hauser with failing to yield the right-of-way, when making a left turn, to a vehicle approaching from the opposite direction.

Authorities In Search For Two Teen-Age Boys

Authorities were kept busy during the week with a search for two teenagers who had wandered away from Springfield State hospital, and the investigation of a burglary, and theft of a motorcycle.

The home of State's Attorney and Mrs. Fred A. Thayer was burglarized sometime Friday night, with the burglar or burglars stealing four rifles and three handguns. Mr. and Mrs. Thayer were at their Deep Creek Lake cottage at the time.

Entry was made through the garage after an attempt to use a glass cutter to gain entry into the family room apparently had failed. Mr. Thayer said some aquamarine gems also were missing.

Authorities obtained a number of fingerprints and were continuing their investigation.

A motorcycle owned by Percy Thayer also was reported stolen on Friday.

Juveniles Apprehended

Police of Uniontown, Pa., yesterday placed two juveniles under arrest on a charge of driving a stolen truck. They were the two being sought by Maryland State Police, and the pair will be turned over to the Garret County authorities today.

Another truck owned by Ray Oscar Smith, of Deer Park, had been found abandoned in the Uniontown area, and it was thought the juveniles may have been implicated in this.

State police also obtained a quantity of gems from the home of one of the juveniles in Oakland and parts of a motorcycle, said to have been the property of Percy Thayer.

The two juveniles had been sent to the hospital by the court on June 18 for evaluation and treatment.

One of the juveniles has been in the court on several occasions, going back to 1970 when he was sent to the Children's center. He was in court again in December 1972, and also in Ambulances are quartered in the former Sanders' Motor Co. building on Liberty street in Oakland. The building is large enough to house five vehicles and has an office for communications and crews on duty.

Squad members completed training May 29 and since that time have been in the process of acquiring equipment and quarters for their two ambulances. Review of The Play

"Hayfever"

Summer has officially arrived on the mountain-top when the Garrett County Playhouse opens its doors. For the 19th year, Gene Bell, professor of drama at the University of New Mexico, has brought his company of players to the area for a summer of entertainment. For his opening play Gene has chosen the light and witty English comedy of the late Sir Noel Coward, "Hayfever." It was first introduced to the local theater goers in 1956 with Helen Camp in the starring role.

The entire play takes place in the hall of the Bliss's house at Cookham. From the opening lines of Judith Bliss, done superbly by the charming and lovely Mary Beth Bratcher when she finally decides to return to her old profession on the stage, the play moves along with great rapidity. English comedies are not American comedies, and one has to cock one's ear to catch all the witticisms of the British, but this reviewer can honestly say that this is an exception. The play is set in the country, and the cast of characters, particularly the Bliss family, is composed of Bohemians, living a life-style of their own. The play moves along with each of the unconventional members of the Bliss family inviting a very conventional guest for a stay in the country. This is family entertainment at its best, however we might say that small children just might not catch all the little nuances of this drama.

We would like to introduce each of the players both new as well as those who have graced the theater before. Bruce Dewink is doing a very able job in the role of Simon Bliss. We look forward to much more from him this summer. David Baca is back for his second season. He is quite convincing in his role as Clarence, the house boy. It is a delight to have John Batcher back for his second season at the Playhouse. This week's production gives him an opportunity to show his talents in the role of David Bliss, husband of Judith, and who seems confused most of the time.

Patrick Moore is seen as Sandy Tyrell, and his performance is a delight to the audience. This is his first season at the Playhouse. The very attractive and seductive Myra Arundel is extremely well done by new-comer Christine James. She is worth a trip to the Blue Barn to watch her at work. And once again we are pleased to welcome Helen Padilla back to Garrett County. She plays a very shy quiet Jackie Coryton, and does it with real professionalism.

We welcome back to the area, Milburn Mehlhop, who has been with the Garrett County Playhouse for the past eight seasons. He is truly a professional and is a pivot around which much of the cast turns. He is well cast in the role of Richard Greatham, one of the conventional guests at the home of the Bliss'. As usual, Milburn is well worth a visit to the local theater.

Ken Hill is back as director of the Playhouse. His expert technique comes through as clear as a crystal in this production of "Haylever." Our hats off to Ken for a brilliant job well done.

Several Receive Minor Injuries

Several persons received apparently only minor injuries in three of five accidents in various parts of the county the past week.

Gary W. Drees, 22, RD 2, Frostburg, was taken to the Frostburg Community Hospital following a one-car mishap on Sampson Rock road just east of the Finzel road early last Thursday morning. Drees was traveling west on Sampson Rock road and said he did not recall what happened. The vehicle went off the right shoulder, struck a telephone pole, came back onto the roadway and came to rest on its left side. Trooper David A. Miller made no charges. The operator had taken medication which could cause sleepiness.

Ronald B. Stalnaker, 17, Kingwood W. Va., refused treatment of injuries at the scene of the accident on U. S. Route 219 just south of Glendale road early Sunday morning. The operator lost control of his vehicle which crossed the center line of the road, continued on, struck an embankment and then a tree, Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Stalnaker with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

Carrie C. Hauser, 54, Mt. Lake Park, a passenger in a car driven by Robert W. Hauser, also of Mt. Lake Park, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two-car mishap on the Crellin road just east of the Dilley road Sunday afternoon. Joyce E. Friend, Star Route 2, Oakland, was driving west on the Crellin road while Robert W. Hauser was driving east. Joyce Friend crossed the center line of the roadway and hit the Hauser car on the left front side. Joyce Friend continued across the roadway and came to rest against an embankment. The Hauser car had turned around and faced west. Trooper Dale K. Williams charged Joyce Friend on two counts, operating without proper license and failing to keep to the right side of the road.

Pamela Mae Harvey, Mt. Lake Park, was traveling north on Powhatan Street and Kenneth D. Shaffer, also of Mt. Lake Park, was traveling east on Shenandoah Avenue. The two met at the intersection and neither granted the right of way, Tfc. Ronald S. Lewis investigated.

Robert C. James, Swanton, was driving east in a pickup on Steiding Church road three miles west of State Route 495, last Saturday morning. James failed to notice a skid of pulpwood in the roadway and hit it. Tfc. Broadwater made no charges.

Another minor accident occurred about 1 p. m. June 26 at the south end of the U. S. Rt. 219 bridge over Deep Creek Lake.

Bernadine I. Long, Mellenry and Henry B. Stern, Fairmont, W. Va. were traveling north on Route 219. Bernadine Long stopped for tractor trailer crossing the bridge. Stern was unable to stop and hit the Long car. Trp. J. E. Foley charged Stern with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision. There were no injuries.

Hail to the Class of '73

In recent weeks, I enjoyed the opportunity to speak to several thousand of Maryland's young citizens at their graduation ceremonies. I hope they were as inspired as I was by the significance of the occasion.

The Class of 1973, whether high school or college, is moving into an adult society that offers problems and challenges. This is the kind of situation that seems to confront every year's graduates but recent events have cast the future of this year's crop in a new light.

For one thing, we are not at war, and if the world in 1973 is not as peaceful as it should be at least it is not as hostile as it has been. The problem and the challenge are how to continue to move towards a stable, meaningful peace.

The feelings of our young people constituted a major thread in the moral fabric of America during our last long years at war in Indochina. Now these men and women have the opportunity to help shape the kind of world they want in years to come.

At home, we have found reason to question the effectiveness of some parts of our system of government. The Watergate has brought into sharp focus many of the concerns that bother our national conscience.

Again, the Class of 1973 has the problem and the challenge of helping to provide the kind of moral climate that is in our country's tradition and best interests.

I suggested to the Class of 1973 that its greatest duty should be pursuit of truth. As Dag Hammarskjold, the United Nations Secretary-General once said, "Only upon a scrutiny of truth can a future of peace be built."

Whether we are talking about peace among nations, or within our society or within ourselves, that simple statement applies. It seems so obvious, yet is so easily ignored.

It is such a scrutiny of truth that will determine the worth and satisfaction of the years ahead for the Class of 1973. Its members have the opportunity to make that determination, and I have every confidence that they will do it with care and with pride.

Bay Tour—First Impressions

I have just finished a five-day tour of the Chesapeake Bay, as part of what I feel is a sorely needed effort toward getting an overall grasp on the possibilities and the problems of the Bay. I don't think that either government science or the public has comprehensive approach to the Bay, and this lack of an overall strategy may be our greatest failing.

Although the [illegible] gained from the tour and from [illegible] want to [illegible] of my impressions from [illegible]

This is not just a trivial example, because [illegible] tary forces now on [illegible] that forty [illegible] of the population in the Bay [illegible] eradicate oil dumped sewers, which of course [illegible] it eventually into the Bay.

I found that a drop of water which enters the Bay from the Susquehanna River takes a year to reach [illegible] the Bay and [illegible] Conversely, what [illegible] drop of water [illegible] year will affect the [illegible] through which it travels.

This unity is recognized instinctively by the crabs, oysters and the clams. The cancellation of economic [illegible] of pollution is our latest [illegible] human example. The only one who does not seem to recognize this unity is man himself.

Knowledge of the Bay authority to deal with its problems, and the efforts of concerned citizens are all confused, for lack of a common idea of the Bay as a whole and how it should work. It is understandable that the businessman in Baltimore, the [illegible] in Cecil County, the duck hunter in Worcester County and the seafood dealer [illegible] have different [illegible] want to believe [illegible] may one [illegible] to as I have re[illegible] from my tour of the Bay, is to do all I can both as a senator and as informal intermediary between one section and another, so that the Chesapeake Bay will always be [illegible] resource.

THE SOUTHERN GARRETT CO.
RESCUE SQUAD
Thanks You!!

Eight long months ago the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, Inc. wos a dream in the minds of a group of people assembled at the Oakland National Guard Armory. Some of those attending came to learn about emergency medical practices. Some came out of curiosity and yet others came because they wanted to do something to better the community in which they live. Gradually these people were molded into a squad of well informed individuals, with one single goal in mind — that of forming a reliable, voluntary ambulance service.

We had little money, little time, and little medical knowledge, but we had a lot of enthusiasm. Over fourteen thousand dollars later, and with over one hundred hours of instruction behind us we still have the enthusiasm to serve you! Thanks to you the people, we no longer have just a dream, we have a reality. The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad has been made possible only through the efforts of community minded citizens, volunteers and officials.

At this time the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, Inc. would like to thank YOU, for making it possible.

Thanks -

In other activity the Commissioners received word from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that a grant in the amount of $26,744. was approved to aid in the purchase of ambulance and rescue vehicles for the county.

As required by law the Commissioners submitted a list of nine persons to the governor who will appoint three to serve as an appeals board for the Department of Assessments and Taxation.

Commissioner Hamilton was scheduled to attend a Land Use and Regulations meeting in Annapolis today, July 5. A committee was formed by the Association of Counties to study the various aspects of land use. This was brought about by the staunch opposition of the various counties in regard to the various land use bills presented during the last session of the legislature. Mr. Hamilton said.

February, and a total of $14,231.47 was amassed through the generosity of individuals, organizations, businesses and municipalities.

Squad members are scheduled for duty and stand-by arrangements to give 24-hour coverage to the Southern Garrett County area. Duty crews are alerted for service through radio monitors. The telephone number to call is 334-3133 and Mr. Zlomek advised area residents to make note of the number in the "Ambulance" space on the inside cover of their telephone book.

In a statement dealing with the rescue squad, Mr. Zlomek said that the function of the unit is to render emergency care at the scene of accidents and to transport accident victims to the hospital. He stressed that because of the limited volunteer manpower available calls for mere transportation of out-patients or non-emergency service is not available at this time.

Squad members began their training November 28 and during the 81-hour course of instruction heard lectures from physicians and dentists of the county, State Police, and members from Northern and LaVale Squads. Instructor for the class was Robert B. Sincell who was assisted from time to time by Denton Schroyer, Cumberland Training service was coordinated through Emergency Health Services of the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, Dr. William Pope being the coordinator.

Two Are Fined In Liquor Violations

A Northern Garrett County man and wife were fined $100 each for liquor law violations following a jury trial last Friday with Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., presiding.

James Allen McDonald and his wife Anita, Rustic Inn, pleaded not guilty on two counts: possession of alcoholic beverages for which certain taxes had not been paid, and possession of liquor not purchased through the Garrett County Liquor Control Board.

The Jury then found them guilty and they were each fined $100 plus court costs by Judge Hamill.

The cases had been transferred from District Court last February when a jury trial was prayed.

Walter Jenkins, Mr. Johnson's intimate friend and right hand man in the White House and an associate with him in various business enterprises; and Matthew H. McCloskey, for years Treasurer of the National Democratic Party, subsequently Ambassador to Ireland, who, it turned out, made a fortune as a contractor building Federal Government buildings, the $20 million DC stadium, the $100 million-plus Rayburn House Office Building, and others.

The inconsistency of the performance of the major news media in these two scandals was pointed up during the glow of satisfaction that some of the newsmen "stars" exuded when President Nixon was finally smoked out and surrendered to Watergate circumstances on last April 30. Two hours before the Presidential TV address on Watergate, Walter Cronkite, the CBS News star, ran down a list of historic Washington scandals without even mentioning the Baker-Johnson-Jenkins-McCloskey mess which had been buried with the help of a strangely tolerant press just nine years ago.

Mr. Cronkite mentioned Teapot Dome (President Harding's onetime Interior Secretary got caught taking a $100,000 bribe for allocating government oil rights to a big oil company); the Harry Truman-General Vaughan et al "deep freeze" scandal; and the Eisenhower-Sherman Adams vicuna coat affair. But not a word did he say about the sordid machinations that nine years ago involved directly the Democrat President, the Democratic Party's biggest money raiser, the Get-Rich-Quick Secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority, and a seemingly endless array of lesser figures, including the handsome German woman who allegedly ran a "call girl" service exclusively for Democratic Senator friends of Bobby Baker and who was mysteriously shanghaied back to Germany.

Mr. Cronkite said there were "those" who would consider Watergate the worst scandal in history. Because of his obvious omission of the Baker-Johnson-Jenkins et al Democratic scandal, which was largely covered up, I have decided, for the sake of journalistic balance, to review the facts.

Incumbent Directors who were re-elected were Mrs. William W. Grant, Sr., and Mrs. Charles L. Briner. Mrs. William E. Naylor, Director, had declined re-election. Elected to fill the vacancy thus created was Paul T. Calderwood.

Two hundred one persons assembled at the Friendsville Fire Department's Community Room for the event at 6:30. After the invocation by the Rev. Frederick Illick, of Accident, and the pledge to the Flag, led by Judge Jones, who served as toastmaster a roast beef dinner was served by the ladies of the Fire Department auxiliary.

Following dinner and the business meeting, the speaker, Dr. Harry I. Stegmaier, Professor of History at Frostburg State College, gave a talk on short line railroads of Garrett County, stressing the part they played in the development of the county.

A few highlights from Professor Stegmaier's presentation follow:

The last and one of the largest Shay locomotives built was used on the Chalfee to Vindex branch of the Western Maryland. This locomotive is now on display at the Baltimore and Ohio Transportation Museum, Baltimore.

The Savage River Railroad, from Bond Junction to Bondtown had regular passenger service.

The railroad from Oakland to the site of the Deep Creek Dam, used during construction of the dam, was built on the roadbed of a previous logging railroad which extended into that area.

The Preston Railroad, from Hutton to Crellin, extended on into West Virginia to within six miles of Parsons.

Professor Stegmaier closed by answering questions from several persons in his audience.

The benediction was given by Reverend Illick.

BEALL JR.

Who Gets the Gas?

The small businessman has been an essential part of the American scene since the earliest days of our nation. Even today, in our age of giant corporations, a small business can still flourish by specializing, by offering personalized service, and by going into areas where there is no other service.

Among the most vigorous and competitive segments of the small business community are the independent service station owners and heating oil dealers who buy their products from the major companies and then sell them under their own name.

Their competition has helped to keep the price of gasoline and oil from going out of control, and they often have been the only dealers willing to serve out-of-the-way places.

There has usually been enough petroleum and enough business to go around, but the situation is rapidly changing because of the fuel shortage being experienced throughout the United States.

One of its unfortunate effects, and also a very unfair one to my thinking, is that many of the independent dealers are finding their supplies of gasoline and oil drying up, and they are being forced out of business.

A number of these dealers from around Maryland have come to my office and told me that the major companies are trying to hoard all of their products for their own dealers now that gas and oil are at a premium.

To them, it means economic ruin despite the fact that there is a great demand for their products and service.

There should be ways to prevent this from happening, and I have therefore taken several steps to protect their interests, and I think the interests of the general public, as well.

First, I have asked the Attorney General to look into the present situation to make sure that the major oil companies are not conspiring to restrain trade and drive out their competition while fuel supplies are tight.

Secondly, I have joined with 34 other senators in asking the President to use his powers to allocate petroleum products during the shortage.

The Economic Stabilization Act enables the President to assign scarce resources, and I believe there should be a fair distribution of gasoline, heating oil and other fuels to all dealers, in proportion to their historical usage.

Thus, if independent dealers traditionally purchased 10 per cent of the gasoline from a certain major producer, that producer would be obligated to continue providing 10 per cent of his gasoline to independent dealers.

After our letter was sent to the President, I was pleased to hear that guidelines of this type are now being prepared at the White House and may be announced by President Nixon in the coming week.

As a third step to protect the independent dealers, I have joined in sponsoring legislation which would guarantee this proportionate allocation of fuel during any time of shortage.

I want to stress that the purpose of these actions is in no way intended to penalize anyone in the petroleum business—in fact, it is just the opposite.

It is to keep the independent dealer from being cut off, and thus give him the same opportunity he always had—at least while there were ample supplies—to compete in an open market.

It should also be everyone's job in the months ahead to look for ways to conserve our petroleum supply.

We can do this by cutting back on unnecessary driving, by using mass transit, by limiting the use of air conditioners and other power-consuming accessories, and by keeping our cars in good running condition.
